

Sewer Project Moved Another Step By Council

The Shippington sewer moved a step nearer reality Tuesday night when the city council gave first and second reading to an ordinance authorizing the city to call for bids on the project.

A final reading is necessary at the next meeting on Tuesday, Jan. 3. The measure authorizing the sewer project was approved unanimously by the council at its previous meeting after a lengthy discussion and objection to the project by persons owning 54.6 percent of the property included in the district.

The final reading of the ordinance approving the call for bids will be passed on by a new mayor and two new councilmen who will take office at the next meeting of the council.

Their views on the sewer project are undetermined. It requires the affirmative votes of four councilmen to approve third and final reading of such an ordinance, and should the two incoming councilmen oppose the project, it could be defeated.

Construction of a new link to the Conger Street sewer was given the green light when the council approved award of the bid to the Trio Construction Company of Creswell, Ore. Their bid of $14,382.50 was exactly $3 under the estimated cost of the project.

City Manager G. S. Vergeer recommended that the council accept the steel supply bid of the South Sixth Street Steel Company. When the bids were opened last week, low bidder was Woodbury and Company, Portland, at $1,313.33 with J. E. Haseltine and Company, Portland, second with a bid of $1,353.29.

This measure was given final reading Monday night and becomes effective immediately.

The council also approved a list of 13 streets where parking against traffic will be permitted during the inclement weather period from Nov. 1 to May 1.

The streets were Mt. Whitney from Rose to Seventh; Worden from East to Lincoln; Grant from Ninth to Eighth streets; Lincoln from Sixth to Eighth streets; Washington from Seventh to Eighth; Melrose from Eldorado to Hillside; Roseway Drive from Oregon Avenue to Lakeview; Grant from Third to Fourth streets; Jefferson from Seventh to Eighth; Lincoln from Third to Fourth; Washington from First to Second and Washington from Sixth to Eighth.

Parking against traffic will not be permitted on other streets unless specific approval is granted by the council.

The 14-year-old said he began thinking about what he had done and decided to mail the cash box back to the company. He prepared and addressed a package and used stolen stamps for postage. Then, he said, he left the package at the city fire station because it was too big for a mail box.

A note was also enclosed, which read: "I'm sorry! It wasn't happen again." It was signed "A worried man."

County Juvenile Counselor Ted Gordon said the boys were remorseful and that some method of remuneration would be worked out between the boys' father and the Jeld-Wen company.

The annual homecoming dance for college students home for the holidays is scheduled for Friday, Dec. 30, at the Pine Grove Room of the Willard Hotel.

This dance is sponsored annually by the Rotary Club. Music will be provided by Fred Dallas. There is no admission charge, and all college students are invited to attend.

Dancing from 8 to 12.

Young Brothers Admit Taking Mill Cash Box

Two young brothers have been discovered to be the "worried man" who broke into the Jeld-Wen Planning Mill in Pelican City on Dec. 17. A cash box containing stamps and small change was stolen.

The boys, ages 14 and 16, were questioned by juvenile officers Tuesday. They admitted breaking into the building by throwing a rock through a window. They said they took some keys from a desk drawer, the cash box and a box of steel tapes.

Presley Movie Is Punctuated By 'Bomb' Blast

Elvis Presley is known to have an explosive effect on some people but no one was quite prepared for an actual explosion Monday afternoon at the Tower Theater.

City police were called by the theater manager and told that "a bomb or something" had exploded during an Elvis movie. After investigating, City Juvenile Officer Ray Howard found two youths who admitted responsibility. One boy was 17, the other 16.

The youths appeared Tuesday in the county juvenile office and the case was continued until a juvenile court hearing can be held.

Howard said apparently the boys had detonated an explosive device similar to the type used by the Army in simulated combat exercises.

Mrs. Connie Lawrence, 833 North Ninth Street, told city police that she left for Eugene Friday and when she returned she found the lock had been broken on her door. The electric heater was going full blast and three cases of beer were stashed beneath the bed.

Mrs. Lawrence said she knew two young men and a woman who were responsible but she was undecided about filing a complaint.

Nine independent candidates were elected mayor. Premier John Chang's Democratic party elected 12 candidates, and the New Democratic party won with 5.

Squad Will Investigate Fire At City Terminal

City Fire Chief Geno Gheller said this morning he has asked a special squad of state investigators to try to determine cause of a fire that considerably damaged the new municipal air terminal at Kingsley Field Tuesday morning.

Gheller said such investigations are fairly routine and are conducted for any of a number of reasons. Special investigations, for instance, may determine extent of insurance coverage. They may help with the fire department's fire prevention program, and they may uncover arson.

Gheller said the investigating squad should arrive sometime this week. Squad members are trained especially well to handle their job.

The squad investigated a home fire here earlier this year, he added. Appraisers are looking over damage that put the bar and restaurant upstairs out of business for an indefinite length of time and impaired service in the lobby.

Fire that broke out in a janitorial supply room charred a portion of the hallway, melted lamp fixtures, destroyed a small section of floor surface and spread an ugly film of soot over the entire interior.

Kingsley Field firemen controlled the fire quickly. They were assisted later by Oregon Technical Institute, city, county and suburban firemen. Mike Mays, who leases the upstairs facilities, discovered the blaze at about 7:05 a.m. as he was preparing to open for the day.

Governor Launches Probe Into Hospital Break-Out

SALEM (AP) — Gov. Mark O. Hatfield announced today he has launched an investigation into the escape from the state hospital of a man who admitted a series of rapes and other sex crimes.

Hatfield disclosed the investigation in saying that the hospital's receiving ward should contain a security unit to house criminals who are potentially dangerous.

Hatfield said he is investigating the escape Monday night of Chester Wayne Hedrick, 25, and Vernon Wesley Street, 41, from the receiving ward. Hedrick has been labeled Portland's "Fat Man rapist."

Both were sent by the courts to the hospital for observation. "The basic problem," the governor said, "is relations with the courts, which are sending hundreds of people each year to the hospital for observation. The law requires that all sex criminals be sent there, and that might not be a wise provision."

Hatfield said the prison's criminally insane ward cannot be used to house dangerous persons who are there for observation. That ward, he said, is custodial, and does not have the staff needed to make the necessary tests and observations.

The solution, he said, probably would be to construct, within the receiving ward, a facility that would be escape proof.

Dr. Dean K. Brooks, hospital superintendent, said that Hedrick and Street are the first escapees from the receiving ward in 12 years.

For Street, convicted of burglary, it was the second escape in three years from the hospital. Hedrick was sent there only a few days ago, after pleading guilty to a charge of attempted rape. He admitted, police said, a series of rapes and other sex crimes, some against teenage girls.

Woman Returns To Party Scene

A Klamath Falls woman returned to her apartment Tuesday from a Christmas trip to Eugene and discovered that a three-day party had been in progress at her place.

Mrs. Connie Lawrence, 833 North Ninth Street, told city police that she left for Eugene Friday and when she returned she found the lock had been broken on her door. The electric heater was going full blast and three cases of beer were stashed beneath the bed.

Mrs. Lawrence said she knew two young men and a woman who were responsible but she was undecided about filing a complaint.

State Assessors To Set Values

The Eastern Oregon Assessors Livestock Committee will meet in the civic auditorium at The Dalles at 10 a.m. Friday, Jan. 13, Klamath County Assessor Clyde R. (Hap) Caldwell announced Tuesday.

Caldwell said the primary purpose of the meeting is to set livestock values for taxation on the 1961 tax bill. Klamath County derives considerable revenue from livestock sources, Caldwell said. There are more than 90,000 head of cattle and 25,000 head of sheep registered for taxation in the county.

Livestock owners have been invited to the public meeting and are invited to express their viewpoints. Caldwell was president of the Eastern Oregon group last year and hosted the annual meeting in Klamath Falls.

Transient Faces Check Charge

Mrs. Lola Alice Johnson, a 31-year-old transient, was charged with knowingly uttering and publishing a forged bank check Tuesday afternoon by the district attorney.

Mrs. Johnson was accused of passing a worthless $43 check to The Corner Store, 638 Main Street, on Dec. 3. City police detectives originally charged her over the weekend after she was arrested for being drunk in public. They said she passed at least three bad checks in the city using the names Lois E. Scott, Lois Johnson and Mrs. O. L. Shepherd.

Two Women Are Hurt In Mishaps

Two women were injured Tuesday and two drivers received traffic citations as city police investigated four collisions on icy Klamath Falls streets.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Anning, 36, 2124 Dixon Street, and Mrs. Edna Blew, 39, Medford, were treated for cuts and bruises at Klamath Valley Hospital. They were injured when their car, driven by Mrs. Anning, collided with a car driven by Vivien Williams Henderson, 42, 762 California Avenue, at Seventh and High streets.

Mrs. Henderson, who said she didn't see the other car, was cited for failure to yield right of way. The collision occurred after she slammed on her brakes and skidded on the slick pavement.

Lawrence Stanton Howard, Keno, was cited for following too closely after a Tuesday night crash in the city. His car collided with one driven by Francis L. Lloyd, Cascade, Ida.

Henry William Moore, 629 North Third Street, was accused of being a hit-run driver as a result of a weekend collision in the county jail driveway. Police said he was the driver of a car which struck a parked car owned by Aubrey W. Ridings, 54, Court View Apartments.

Two other accidents were investigated by city police Tuesday. Cars driven by Rae M. Fowler, 57, 330 North Second Street, and George Paul Vinson, 17, 2325 California Avenue, collided Tuesday afternoon at the corners of Martin and Applegate streets. No citations were issued.

A rear-end collision occurred Tuesday afternoon near the intersection of South Sixth Street and Washburn Way. A panel truck driven by Herbert William Boettcher, 30, 2028 Eberlein Street, was struck in the rear by a car driven by Beverly Fay David, 21, 3083 Clinton Street. Boettcher said he would sign a complaint.

State police were called to the intersection of Harvard and Torrey streets Tuesday morning to investigate a collision. Cars driven by Mary Cardellini, 58, 3726 Lakeport Boulevard, and Merry Clark, 32, Route 1, Klamath Falls, collided near the intersection. Officers said Mrs. Clark appeared to be in a state of shock. She was taken to Klamath Valley Hospital for observation and subsequently released.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed irregularly higher today in a jumble of year-end transactions and considerable investment. Trading was active. While most key stocks showed gains or losses of fractions to about a point there were some wider moves. Volume for the day was estimated at a hefty 3.70 billion shares. That would compare with 3.27 billion Tuesday. American Telephone & Telegraph provided the market's feature. It crept upward steadily, mostly on small 100 and 200 share orders. In late afternoon it was up 1 1/4% at 104 1/4, a new all-time high. A few wide movers appeared. Polaird gained 5/4. International Business Machines 4 and Texas Instruments 2 1/4. Republic Aviation dropped 1 following a business news service story that the Army had cancelled a contract with the firm for development of an unmanned surveillance plane. Steels, tobaccos and most chemicals edged higher. Motors, oils, airlines and building materials were mixed. Most aircrafts tended lower, influenced in part by the drop in Republic. Corporate bonds were lower. U.S. government bonds were firm.
