How many classified ads do U.S. newspapers publish every year? - One million? Ten million? One hundred million? Three hundred million?

ONE OF A SERIES

ANSWER: AN ESTIMATED THREE HUNDRED MILLION!
That's roughly two classified ads for every man, woman and child in the nation. Could there be a more striking testimonial to the effectiveness of newspaper advertising? The daily newspaper is worth so much more than the few cents it costs that it could probably be sold for a great deal more—yet its price is purposely kept down so that practically everyone can benefit from it.
