SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A University of California scientist has succeeded in growing human lung cancer tissue in the laboratory, the American Cancer Society reported Wednesday.

Silica Tested By Department

PORTLAND (AP) — About 400 tons of silica have been taken out of an Oregon deposit for smelter testing, the state Department of Geology and Mineral Industries says in its monthly publication, the Ore-Bin.

The silica, described by the department as "fairly high-purity," was taken out of the northwest slope of Quartz Mountain, about 35 miles east of Roseburg.

Development in this area consists of access roads, discovery cuts and a pit, the department said.

Field geologist Len Ramp described the better grade deposits in the area as yielding 98 to 99 per cent silica. Most silica users demand a raw material with 97 per cent or more silica.

Some commercial uses of silica are in scouring and polishing powders, as a filter medium and in various alloys. There is only one producer of high-purity silica in Oregon at present, the Bristol Silica Co. which operates a quarry and plant near Rogue River.

"The Quartz Mountain property, although not in production at the present, represents a vast supply of relatively high-purity silica for use in the future," the department said.

Seer Gives Predictions Of '61 News

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — President-elect John F. Kennedy will have a second term in the White House; Princess Margaret will bear a child — probably a boy — in April or July; a prominent world figure will be assassinated within the next six months.

These are some of the predictions for 1961 by British clairvoyant Maurice Woodruff, who claims no powers of "fortune telling" but says he does have a gift for looking into the future.

Many of England's leading entertainment and society figures swear by his predictions. He has been presented to royalty four times.

A short time before the national political conventions in Los Angeles and Chicago, Woodruff issued a prediction that was printed in a London newspaper stating that Sen. John F. Kennedy would be elected President of the United States.

No Crystal Ball

He has no crystal ball, and never goes into a trance.

"When I do a job of work, I do it logically," he said. "Why put on a pair of earrings, you know?"

In predicting Kennedy's reelection as President in 1964, Woodruff added that the President-elect would have a "stormy time" ahead of him in the next four years.

"I'm a little worried about business activity in the United States in the coming months," he said. "It will be rough going for about the next six months, but after that — in June or July — it will pick up again."

He foresaw the death within the next year of a well loved world leader, but declined to name the figure.

"I never tell a person I see that he is going to die," Woodruff explained. "It would do no good. It might hurry along the death."

Other Predictions

Woodruff also had these predictions for 1961:

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer during the coming year will meet with opposition strong enough to put him out of office.

English actor Peter Sellers will be made a knight by midyear.

There is a very strong chance the monarchy of Spain will return to the throne in the next year. Just how dependable are Woodruff's forecasts?

A recent series of predictions made by the clairvoyant appearing in a British magazine on well known personalities proved to be correct in six out of seven cases. Some of the predictions came true even before the articles went to press — several weeks after the first time.

He is visiting this country for the first time.

Knife, Fork Club Will Hear Spy

A spy will be present at the next meeting of the Klamath Knife and Fork Club Friday the Thirteenth at the Willard Hotel.

But the actions of Kurt Singer, since he is the club's choice as speaker for the evening.

Some call him the nation's foremost expert on espionage. He is the author of 16 books concerning spying and related subjects. His findings have proved so valuable they have been used by the Atomic Energy Commission.

A release indicates Singer will speak of dangers of running an underground newspaper in a country such as Nazi Germany or Communist Russia, including the price one pays if caught.

Singer should know. His life has been a succession of perils and adventures. He was born in Vienna in 1911, and during his pre-war life in eight European countries, he consorted with famous men of various caliber and was involved in underground and spy work in various ways.

Singer attended the University of Zurich, Switzerland, and received a doctorate of philosophy degree from the Labor College in Stockholm.

He came to the U.S. in 1946 and was awarded a Ph.D. degree in psychology by the University of Indiana in 1942. In 1946 he became an American citizen.

At one point, the Nazis put a price on his head and he was indicted for high treason, when, before the war, his book "Goering" appeared. His wife was held a hostage for more than a year and the Swedish government confiscated all copies of his book while he continued to work in the Scandinavian underground.

Dinner will be served promptly at 6:45 p.m. Regular club rules governing guests and reservations will prevail.

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — A thief with a way with a wire fished $16,000 out of a night deposit box at the Community National Bank branch in suburban Union Lake Village over the weekend.

Customers who use the night deposit box place their money and checks in special bags provided by the bank. Many are provided with a key to the deposit box.

Detective Sgt. Leo Hazen said the thief must have had a key. He rigged a wire net inside the slot. All those with keys to the box will be questioned, he said.

Block and his wife came to California from Kansas in 1948. After living briefly in the Bay Area, where Block did janitorial work, they moved to Yolo County in July, 1952, a county judge cited him for contempt upon his refusal to pay, and Block went to jail. Block said that he never liked jail, but that "I would still do the same thing if I had it to do over again."

He was also satisfied that his

NEW EXCHANGE CLUB president is Ken Brisco, left, receiving congratulations from Bob Rutter, retiring president. Rutter was returned to office as secretary. They will be installed Jan. 21 with Don Radke, vice president. Brisco officiated in his new capacity during a luncheon meeting Jan. 3 at the Winema Hotel.

FPC Asked To Require Plan For Dam Fishways

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Power Commission was asked today to order the application for the High Mountain Sheep project on the Snake River to submit fishway designs as part of its case.

The request was made in a petition filed by Washington Public Power Supply systems as a hearing on competing applications for hydroelectric projects on the river between Idaho and Oregon resumed before an FPC examiner.

WPPSS, which seeks to build the Nez Perce project, said it has filed designs for proposals to move migratory fish around its project, but Pacific Northwest Power Co. has not. PNP seeks to build the High Mountain Sheep project.

PNP has said fish facilities are usually incorporated in the project license by supplementary order of the commission and it has submitted designs to fishery agencies which have not yet made recommendations.

WPPSS contended in its petition FPC procedure "plainly and unequivocally requires the filing of fishway designs as part of both applications."

The petition stated that PNP is "patently attempting to remove the fish passage issue at High Mountain Sheep from adjudication... while at the same time insisting upon an adverse adjudication of the issue at Nez Perce."

WPPSS claimed the fact that the Secretary of Interior has not yet made fishway recommendations "does not remove this issue from consideration during the course of this licensing proceeding."

If asked that, if PNP is not required to submit fishway designs in the hearing, WPPSS be allowed to withdraw its Nez Perce fishway designs.

Owen W. Hurd, WPPSS managing director, was the first witness to be cross-examined Thursday. He was questioned about the system's organization and operations.

"I don't mind your stepping on my toes, but would you please stop kicking my ankles?"
