Chronology Tells Story Of '60

By United Press International

A chronology of the major news events of 1960 follows:

Jan. 6—Cuba expropriated 70,000 acres of sugar land owned by U.S. interests. Prime Minister Fidel Castro attacked the United States in a series of speeches, Jan. 18-21, signaling the beginning of Cuba's move from the United States into the Soviet orbit.

Feb. 1—Negro students began, at Greensboro, N.C., a series of sitdown demonstrations in segregated store lunch counters. Attorney General Rogers announced on Aug. 10 that lunch counters had been desegregated in 69 communities in the South.

Feb. 13—France exploded its first nuclear bomb in the Sahara, joining the ranks of nuclear powers.

Feb. 19—Queen Elizabeth of Britain was delivered of her third child, Prince Andrew.

Feb. 26—First three X15 experimental space planes delivered. On Aug. 4, civilian test pilot Joseph A. Walker set a world speed record of 2,196 miles per hour, and on Aug. 12, Maj. Robert M. White, USAF, set an altitude of 136,500 feet, both in flights begun from a "mother" bomber. In November, test pilot Scott Crossfield reported he had hit speeds of about 2,000 miles per hour in a half-power test of a new rocket engine.

Feb. 29—Earthquake and tidal wave destroyed Agadir, Morocco, with loss of life estimated at 4,500 to 10,000.

March 11—Pioneer V satellite put into orbit around sun by U.S.

March 12—Jury failed to agree on verdict in murder trial of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff, charged with killing Dr. Finch's wife at her West Covina, Calif., home on July 18, 1959, ending a trial that began in December. A second trial, which began in June, also ended in a mistrial, Nov. 7. A third trial is scheduled for January.

March 21—Riots at Sharpeville, Union of South Africa, killed 56 Africans, injured scores more and touched off a series of violent demonstrations against the racial policies of the government. They were climaxed April 9 by the shooting of Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd by a white farmer.

April 8—The U.S. Senate passed a Civil Rights bill after a record filibuster which for the first time had failed to block passage of such a bill. It was approved by the House and signed into law May 6.

April 27—South Korean President Syngman Rhee resigned his post after student riots against his government. Similar demonstrations in Turkey overthrew that government in May and, in Japan, forced concellation of a visit by President Eisenhower in June.

May 1—The Soviet Union announced the shooting down of a U.S. U2 "spy" plane and the capture of its pilot, Francis Gary Powers. Khrushchev broke up the summit meeting at Paris, May 16, over the incident and canceled Eisenhower's projected visit to Russia. Powers was convicted of spying Aug. 19 and sentenced to 10 years loss of liberty.

May 2—Caryl Chessman was executed at San Quentin Prison, 12 years and 8 stays of execution after his conviction for a series of sex kidnaps in the Los Angeles area.

May 6—Princess Margaret Rose of Britain was married to Antony Armstrong-Jones, a commoner photographer.

May 12—Crashes of Electra airliners in Texas in September, 1959, and at Tell City, Ind., in March, 1960, were revealed to have been caused by oscillation at high speeds which caused wings to sheer off. Speed limits were set for the planes pending modification.

May 15 — The Soviet Union launched a 9,988-pound space vehicle said to contain a dummy man.

May 21-June 20—A series of violent earthquakes rocked Chile, killing an estimated 5,000 persons and leaving about two million homeless.

May 23—Israel announced capture of Adolph Eichmann, leader in Nazi efforts to exterminate the Jews. A diplomatic disagreement with Argentina resulted from revelation that he had been taken by Israeli agents in that country.

June 30—The Congo was granted sovereignty by Belgium, one of 16 African nations to achieve statehood during the year. A wave of violence caused United Nations' troops to be dispatched two weeks later to keep order in the divided nation

July 17—Russia announced it had shot down a U.S. RB47 plane which had been missing over the Baltic, and that two survivors were being held for trial.

July 20—The U.S. Polaris missile was fired successfully for the first time from a submerged nuclear submarine.

Aug. 11—The U.S. accomplished its first recovery of a payload from a space satellite, a nose cone ejected from Discoverer XIII. This recovery, from the seas, was followed by air catches of similar satellite drops.

Aug. 16—Organization of American States foreign ministers opened meeting in Costa Rica at which they voted to sever diplomatic relations and impose economic sanctions and arms embargo on the Dominican Republic for its "acts of aggression and intervention" in a plot against the Venezuelan government. The OAS also condemned Communist intervention in the affairs of American nations in a resolution which did not mention Cuba by name but caused the Castro government to walk out of the meeting.

Aug. 25—Olympic Games open at Rome. By unofficial tally Russia had won with a score of 807.5 points to the U.S.'s second place 564.5.

Sept. 4-12—Hurricane Donna, described as the most destructive in Weather Bureau history, killed 118 persons in Puerto Rico and other Caribbean Islands and traveled the length of the U.S. East Coast, killing 30 more persons, before passing out to sea.

Sept. 19—Soviet Premier Khrushchev arrived in New York for opening of the U.N. General Assembly. He remained until Oct. 13. Other Soviet bloc leaders, including Cuba's Castro, attended the session.

Oct. 13—The Pittsburgh Pirates beat the New York Yankees, four games out of seven, to win a World Series for the first time since 1925.

Nov. 8—Sen. John F. Kennedy became the youngest man and the first Roman Catholic to be elected president of the United States, defeating Vice President Richard M. Nixon in a photo finish with less than a majority of all votes cast.

Nov. 14—Two New Orleans elementary schools integrated under court order touching off violent demonstrations by white mothers and a virtual boycott of the schools by white students.

Nov. 16—Clark Gable, "The King" of the movies, died of a heart attack in Hollywood at the age of 59.

Nov. 25—Mrs. John F. Kennedy, wife of the president-elect, gave birth to their first son and second child, John F. Kennedy Jr.

Dec. 13—Dean Rusk, president of the Rockefeller Foundation and assistant secretary of state in the Truman administration, designated by Kennedy as his secretary of state.

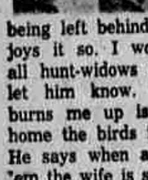
Dec. 15—King Baudouin married in Brussels to Dona Fabiola de Mora y Aragon of Spain, giving Belgium its first queen since the death of Baudouin's mother in 1935.

Dec. 16—At least 134 persons killed in the in-air collision of a United Air Lines DC8 jet and a Trans World Airlines Constellation over New York, and subsequent crashes in Brooklyn and Staten Island.

Hubby Should Clean Game

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: PLEASE PLEASE PLEASE help us women whose husbands have no consideration for the work they bring us during hunting season.



My husband loves to hunt—anything. I don't mind being left behind because he enjoys it so. I worry a little, as all hunt-widows do, but I never let him know. The thing that burns me up is that he brings home the birds for me to clean. He says when a husband shoots 'em the wife is supposed to clean 'em. I say it's unfair. If a man enjoys the sport he should do the dirty work connected with it. What do you say?—FEATHERS FLYING

Dear Feathers: I agree with you that husbands should not bring home birds for the little woman to clean—and this goes for fish, too. A wife does her part by letting her husband enjoy his sport without complaint. She shouldn't have to be a cotton pickin' pheasant-plucker, too.

Dear Ann Landers: Are teachers supposed to honor a code of professional ethics? I always thought teachers were expected to preserve confidences just as doctors, lawyers and clergymen do.

A certain teacher was in a social group the other evening and someone asked how So-And-So's son was doing in her class. I was shocked and disappointed when the teacher gave a full five-minute report on the boy's stupidity, his laziness and inability to get along with others. The boy's parents heard of this the next day and they were furious.

Do you feel this was a breach of professional ethics, or am I mistaken?—A. F. R.

Dear A. F. R.: You are not mistaken. No professional person should use his patients, clients, parishioners or students as subjects for social conversation. The teacher's poor judgment reflected on her profession and if she repeats this sort of performance, someone should tell her off.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm afraid my husband is ruining our teenage daughter. Please print this letter. I can't have it coming to the house.

Is it right for a 16-year-old to sit on her father's lap every night for hours and watch TV? Is it right for them to kiss on the lips, several times during an evening?

She has no interest in boys her own age. I've heard her turn down perfectly nice fellows so she can go riding with her father, or just stay at home and be with him. They go off together every Saturday afternoon, for shopping, sightseeing or to a movie. Her father labels every boy who comes to the house a "jerk" a "squirt" or "a dummy."

When she was a young child her father doted on her, which was all right. I thought this attachment would be outgrown when she became of dating age but I was wrong. What can be done? —NO NAME

Dear No Name: Run — don't walk—to your family doctor and get the name of a specialist whose field is sick personalities.

Tell your husband he MUST talk this situation over with a professional for the sake of his daughter's future happiness.

He may be entirely unaware of the damage he has done already. If she's 16 and this has been going on since early childhood, she'll probably need therapy, too, in order to gain the perspective she'll need to make a successful marriage.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Discounts Harm Done By Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The average American family wasn't seriously hurt by the big postwar inflation, a government report indicated today.

The Census Bureau said family incomes increased more than twice as fast as living costs between 1947 and 1959. It said that after taking inflation into account, median incomes rose from $4,000 to $5,400 during the twelve years. Without adjustment for inflation, incomes were up from $3,000 to $5,400.

Median income divides all families into two equal groups, with half earning more and half earning less.

The report also showed a steady movement of many families into higher income brackets. For example, less than 25 per cent of all families reported incomes below $3,000 in 1959, compared with about 50 per cent in 1947.

Of the nation's 45 million families, about one in eight had an income of $10,000 or more in 1959.

City Sued Because Of Branch

CORVALLIS (AP) — Corvallis city officials are being sued for $30,000, accused of permitting a tree limb to hang lower over a street than an ordinance stipulates.

Joseph F. Wood of Portland, who said he was forced to leave Oregon State College because of injuries suffered in an accident involving the tree limb, filed the suit in circuit court here.

Named as defendants were City Manager John Porter, City Engineer V. L. Goodnight, Mayor Gordon Harris and the nine members of the City Council.

Because the city has no liability insurance for its employes or council representatives, City Attorney LaVerne Johnson advised them to seek individual legal advice.

Wood said a city ordinance stipulates a tree cannot hang lower than 12 feet above a city street. He said the tree in question was 9 feet, 6 inches above the street. He was passenger in a truck 9 feet, 8 inches high that hit the limb of the tree, he said, adding he was thrown from the truck, and landed head first on the pavement.

Wood said he suffered permanent head injuries that required him to drop out of college.

A raven is always kept in the Tower of London. The tradition stems from Charles II, who predicted England would fall if ravens ever left the Tower.

Truant Officer Too Many Kids

GAINESVILLE, Ga. (AP) — When truant officer Lloyd Smith rounded up 20 hookey-playing youngsters Wednesday and herded them back to school, he got one too many.

Smith said he spotted one boy whom he believed to be about 8 years old. Over the youngster's strenuous objection Smith carried him off to school.

Every teacher had denied knowing the lad before he turned to Smith and said: "I told you I don't belong here I'm only 5 years old."

Red-faced, Smith took the child home.

AID TO YOUNG WRITERS

NEW YORK (AP)—A new project aimed at benefiting young playwrights is being undertaken by the Phoenix Theater, New York's only permanent acting company.

Single performances of new scripts that have failed to win the interest of Broadway producers are to be given, so that flaws—and perhaps assets — can be more fully appraised than is possible with simple reading.
