Kennedy Offer To Negro Merely Political Move?

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There remains some wonderment in Washington whether President-elect John F. Kennedy's first choice for postmaster general was for real.

His choice was U.S. Rep. William W. Dawson, a Chicago Democrat. Kennedy appeared with Dawson on the steps of his Georgetown home about three weeks ago and announced that he had invited the representative to join his Cabinet and that Dawson had refused.

Dawson is a Negro and he is 74 years old. His age would seem to disqualify Dawson in an administration where the accent is peculiarly on youth. The offer of a Cabinet post to a Negro, however, must be scored as a political grand slam, even though the offer was rejected.

Paper Cities Record

The political significance of the offer is obvious. Not so obvious to persons unfamiliar with Chicago politics were Dawson's qualifications for a Cabinet post in the light of his record. The selection had been rumored long before it was announced. Under such circumstances, the Chicago Daily News on Dec. 10 printed a lead editorial headlined: "We can't believe it! Dawson's record should keep him out of the Cabinet."

This editorial cited circumstantial evidence of a link of some kind between Dawson's congressional office and a couple of notorious Chicago hoodlums. Dawson denied any personal involvement.

"Everybody in or near Chicago," the editorial continued, "knows Dawson's political role on the South Side (of Chicago.) Here he has tremendous power. Mayors don't tell him what to do. He tells mayors."

"Dawson has absolute political power over an area which has the most crime in proportion to its population; the most errors, intentional and otherwise, in counting votes; the most fraud in the registration of voters; and traditionally, at least, the most corruption among the police serving the area."

"It is impossible for Sen. Kennedy or his brother to have gone through the Senate racket hearings without knowing all of these things. We cannot believe that the next president will appoint Dawson."

LINDA M. VANDENDEAEL, daughter of Mrs. Violet Bradley, 921 Market Street, has returned to Fort McClellan, Ala., for advanced training after completing basic. She is a 1960 graduate of Klamath Union High School. The recruit spent a Christmas holiday leave with her family.

Newspaper Circulation Total Soars

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Daily newspaper circulation in the United States has increased 52 percent in the last 25 years while the nation's population has grown only 40 percent.

The figures were given today by Stanford Smith, general manager of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Today's total daily circulation, he said, is 58 million. In 25 years it will be 81 million, he forecast.

Smith told a 25th anniversary meeting of Allied Daily Newspapers of Washington in a prepared speech that in 1935 the population of the United States was 127 million, the total circulation was 38 million and the total advertising volume was $762 million.

"The latest annual figures cover the year 1959 when total newspaper advertising volume was $3.54 billion. This is a gain of more than $2.75 billion," he said.

"Newspaper circulation grows because the service rendered to readers is not available from any other source and not likely ever to become available from any other source," Smith said.

"Newspaper advertising volume grows on the basis of a service to advertisers which produces results on a consistent, day-in, day-out basis."

Driver License For Eisenhower? Nobody Knows

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's press secretary said today he "wouldn't have the slightest idea" whether Eisenhower plans to take out a driver's license after he leaves the White House.

And, Secretary James C. Hagerty told an inquiring newsmen, he isn't about to ask the President what he intends about that.

Eisenhower himself remarked some months ago that he hadn't had a driver's license for 30 years and might have to get one.

Many years ago he used to drive and had a license. And, despite being chauffeur-driven for many years, Eisenhower has not lost his know-how as a driver.

From time to time he has been seen driving a jeep about his farm at Gettysburg, Pa., which will be his retirement home.

Since this did not involve driving on highways or public streets, no license was required.

But if Eisenhower decides to drive his own car on the highways after he leaves the White House Jan. 20, he will have to pass Pennsylvania's new rigid examination, which includes physical, aptitude and oral tests.

Set Meeting

PENDLETON (AP)—The executive committee of the Oregon Wheat Growers League today set Eisenhower won't have to worry about a driver's license. His regular White House chauffeur, Dick Flohr, will drive the President and Mrs. Eisenhower to their farm home.

The executive committee will discuss the league's budget next Wednesday and Thursday.

Staff To Study Rate Increase

SALEM (AP) — A hearing on Greyhound Corp.'s application for a 10 per cent increase in bus fares in Oregon has been continued until Jan. 10, Public Utility Commissioner Jonel C. Hill said today.

The reason: Hill's staff wants more time to study company testimony, given in Portland Thursday.

Company witnesses said the last fare increase was granted in August of 1958. Since then, they said, local passenger traffic has declined in the face of higher wage and other costs.

Whipping Tension Is Tough

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Tension is an annoyance to the housewife and office worker, but in the fast-paced world of show business it is a daily problem in survival.

How do entertainment stars whip tension?

Glamorous Mary Healy has her own secret way—one which she feels will work for you as well as it does for her.

"Practically everyone today lives at the jerky tempo of a speeded up old silent movie," she said. "Everyone has frustrations, no matter what his job—but you have to learn to quit fighting them all the time while you're awake, and letting them give you nightmares while you sleep."

"Take a few minutes every day to yourself. Take time out for fun. No matter how busy your day, find time to commune with yourself."

"If you're going somewhere, don't drive the cab. Don't fly the plane."

"Force yourself to let go. Relax completely—physically and mentally."

"Let everything go. Drain your veins of go."

"It's hard to do. You have to practice."

Mary insists her system will work for anyone.

"If you can, take a walk or sit where it is lonely and quiet," she advised. "But even in a crowded noisy place you can find a personal peace if you learn to let go deliberately of every tension of mind and body for five minutes."

"You'll snap back feeling better."

"It sounds like mere words, but you can put it into action if you try."

Her theory finds living proof in Mary herself. After 22 years of stardom in movies, radios and night clubs, she is still as slender and fresh-faced as the day she quit a secretary's job in New Orleans to go to Hollywood.

She and her husband, Peter Lind Hayes, are currently featured in an NBC-TV series. When the series ends, Mary wants either to do one more Broadway show or retire as a performer.

"I've been working since I was a kid," she said. "And I'm no longer starry-eyed."

She'd like to spend more time at home with her children, Mike, 11, and Cathy, 9.

"Your children can teach you a great deal, if you'll just let them," she said.

"My son, Mike, for example, wants to be an astrophysicist. Asking him questions has given me a whole new interest in outer space."

"He makes the stars seem nearer to me—and the moon, too. The moon used to be to me only a rhyme word in songs I sang in night clubs."

Thrift Of Cart Brings Charge

A 34-year-old Klamath Falls man, Kenneth O. Myers, 2226 Applegate Street, was charged with petit larceny Thursday after he was accused of stealing a grocery cart from the Safeway Store at South Sixth Street and S Has t a Way.

Jerry Williams of the store reported the theft. Myers received a $25 or five-day drunk sentence Friday morning in municipal court and will be charged with petit larceny in district court.

A 14-inch two-toned television set was stolen from the Pony Pass Motel Wednesday night, Jim Warden told city police Thursday.

Norman Johns reported that children were playing in a new house he is building at 1422 Siskiyou Street. He asked police to keep them out of the area.
