

Bids May Be Called Soon For Yreka Swimming Pool

YREKA — Plans and specifications for the proposed Ringe Memorial Swimming Pool are far enough along that bids may be let by the end of January.

That announcement was made to city councilmen by the city engineer, Oscar Piemme, during a meeting Thursday.

Piemme said he has submitted two sets of plans to a San Francisco firm for final approval. They should be returned within two weeks, he said.

He predicted the pool will be built and ready for use by July 1.

The pool has received some criticism, however. Councilman James E. Cummings said he doubted wisdom of building a pool costing about $84,000 when only $86,000 is available for the project.

Councilmen also criticized the project's rate of progress.

The pool will be designed to provide adequate space for competition swimming, swimming and lifesaving instruction, and general recreation. It will be accompanied by a small pool for children.

Councilman Harry Friedman reported he hopes an artist's drawing of the pool will be prepared to give councilmen an idea of its final form, complete with fences, shrubbery, dressing rooms, snack bar and parking lot.

In other action, councilmen Ed Doyle and Cummings were appointed to a committee to study possibility of starting a bicycle licensing program. Probably, no fees would be required of bike owners. Licenses would serve only to identify bicycles and to regulate bicycle traffic.

The license plan has the backing of Chief of Police Henry T. Watson. He said the police department would then be able to meet bike owners, giving officers opportunity to determine whether riders are competent to ride on city streets.

He added that a rider training program can be administered through the licensing program.

City councilmen also learned that one company has offered to sell six-inch-diameter cast iron pipe for a new water main on South Oregon Street for $2.11 per foot.

On Monday where the latter reported spotting what appeared to be a fire and explosion.

They learned on their return that a University of California biology professor and five students had been taken into the area and brought back out by the forest service recently.

Officers speculated that the cabin in which the men stayed burned after their departure. Deputies plan no other trips to investigate, since no reports of downed aircraft have been received.

Plans to purchase the Ski Bowl Lodge from Carl McConnell, the contractor who built it, are also progressing on schedule, the board learned.

The 1,200 stockholders in the corporation will be informed as soon as details of the new stock issue are complete.

The five-day week at the bowl was decided upon by the board because Monday and Tuesday use of the facilities has been very light in previous Januarys. This will also enable the staff to work on a five-day-week basis and eliminate overtime pay.

Food service at the lodge has been limited to filling but inexpensive items. This policy has resulted in more satisfied customers and more profit to the bowl, the directors were told.

Questionnaire Seeking Support For Building

DUNSMUIR — A questionnaire seeking support of a building program at College of the Siskiyou has been sent to one thousand registered voters within the college district, Dr. H. A. Meredith confirmed today.

Replies to the questionnaire by enclosed stamped postcard will give the board some estimate of public reaction to a proposal to launch a $1,375,000 building program.

The original college buildings, constructed with an accumulated reserve built up in the two-year period before the college opened for full-time students, were designed for 200 students and are now being used to capacity, Dr. Meredith explained.

Enrollment is expected to rise to 400 to 500 students within the next two years and classrooms, a gymnasium, a library, a cafeteria, a dormitory and additional administration buildings are needed.

A 20-year bond issue based on a tax of 18 cents per $100 assessed valuation will raise the necessary funds and this matter will possibly be put to the voters soon, college officials believe.

The $1,375,000 estimate for the building costs includes a 15 per cent allowance for rises in construction costs and includes equipment and furnishings for the buildings, Dr. Meredith assured.

He said the present state allotment of $350 annually per student based on average daily attendance plus the present district tax is expected to handle administration, faculty and supply costs. Building costs are the only expenses that cannot be met from current income, he said.
