

Capital Budget Bill Presented

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Congressman Al Ullman was joined by many of Oregon's senators in today's reintroduction of his capital budget bill. The measure, introduced by Ullman and Morse in the last Congress, provides for a distinction in the federal budget and in the classification of the public debt between expenditures for operating expenses and those for capital investment, such as in resource development projects.

"Adoption of the capital budget concept," Ullman said, "will make possible not only a return to the multiple resource development principles that are a part of the Democratic Party's heritage, but a moving ahead in this vital field of policy on a more sound and coordinated basis in the challenging years of the sixties." Congresswoman Edith Green of Portland is a co-sponsor of the measure in the House.

Ullman pointed out that preliminary hearings on his bill were held last year before a subcommittee of the House Government Operations Committee. He said he would press for further consideration of the proposal in this Congress. Ullman called it a "fundamental reform" and "essential if we are to adequately utilize our great natural resources."

Local Marines Finish Course

The course included the latest infantry tactics, first aid, demolitions, field fortifications and advanced schooling on weapons.

The Marine Corps is in need of aviation cadets, Gunner Sergeant Joe Lemieux of the Medford Recruiting Office announced today. Unmarried men, 18 to 25, with two years of college are eligible to apply.

Training as a jet, transport, or helicopter pilot is 18 months in duration and is located at Pensacola. Those interested may apply at the Selective Service Office in the Veterans Memorial Building, Klamath Falls, on Friday afternoons.
