

STOCKS

Persons interested in stock quotations not listed in the daily Herald and News report are asked to phone their preferences to the Herald and News newsroom, TU 4-8111.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Table listing various New York stocks including Admiral, Am Indus, Am Can, Am Cyan, Am M&P, Am Motors, Am Smelt, Am Tel&Tel, Am Tob, Am Viscose, Anaconda, Armco Stl, Atchison, Bendix, Beth Steel, Boeing Air, Borden, Borg Warn, Brunswick, Cal Pac, Cdn Pac, Cater Trac, Celanese, Chrysler, Cities Svc, Con Edis, Cont Can, Crown Zell, Curtiss Wr, Decca Re, Doug Aire, Dow Chem, DuPont, East Kod, El Paso NG, Emers Rad, Evans P, Firestone, Firststar, Ford Mot, Gen Dynam, Gen Elec, Gen Fds, Gen Motors, GT&E, Ga Pac Cp, Goodyear, GR&P, Gt No Ry, Gt West S, Gulf Oil, Idaho Pw, Int Bus, Int Bus Mch, Int Nick, Int Paper, Int Tel&Tel, Johns Man, Kaiser Al, Kennecott, LibMcN&L, Loch Aire, Martin Co, Mmm MAM, Monsan Ch, Mont Ward, Nat Cash R, NY Central, Nor Pac, Pac Am Fish, Pac G&E, Pac T&T, Pan AW Air, Penn Dix, Penny JC, Pa RR, Pepsi Cola, Philco, Phill Pet, Polaroid, Pgs&P&L, RCA, Rayonier, Raytheon, Repub St, Reyn Met, Richfd Oil, Safeway St, SRegPap, Schenley, Scott Pap, Sears Roeb, Shell Oil, Sinclair, Sou Pac, Perry Rd, Std Oil Cal, Stud Pack, Sunray, Swift&Co, Texaco, Thomp RW, TidewatOil, TimkRbear, Transamer, Twent Cen, Unit AirLin, Unit Air, United Cp, Un Oil Cal, US Plywood, US Smelt, US Steel, Walgreen, Warn B Pie, West Auto S, West UnTel, WestABk, West El, Whel Stl, Woolworth.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed irregularly higher today in heavy trading. Volume for the day was estimated at 4.4 million shares compared with 4.27 million Thursday. Gains and losses of most key stocks went from fractions to about a point.

Steels backed away from early gains and showed a moderately lower tone. Autos retained a slightly higher tone, displaying a string of fractional gains. Oils also were mostly higher. Rails were unchanged to easy. Corporate bonds moved higher. U.S. governments steadied. Trading was light.

By United Press International Dow Jones 2 p.m. stock averages: 30 industrials—630.90, up 2.40; 20 railroads 139.16, off 0.16; 15 utilities 102.50, up 0.16, and 65 stocks 212.50, up 0.48.

LIVESTOCK

PORTLAND (AP) — (USDA)—Cattle for week salable 2975 slaughter classes slow, particularly cows slaughter steers and heifers steady to weak, cows 50-100 lower, bulls fully steady stockers and feeders steady to 1.00 higher 10 head choice 970 lb slaughter steers 26.50, load mostly choice 1088 lbs 26.25, load high-good and low-choice 1144 lbs 25.00, most good 23.50-25.50, standard 21.00-23.00 including Holsteins 1225-1300 lbs 22.00-22.25, small lot 1440 lbs 20.00, cutter and utility dairymen 15.00-19.00 small lots high-bred and low-choice slaughter heifers 24.00-24.25, most good 22.00-23.50 including some 1035 lbs at 22.00, standard 18.00-21.00, cutter and utility 15.00-17.00, a few high-utility cows 17.00-17.50, most utility 14.50-16.50, some fat rough cows down to 14.00, canners and cutters 11.00-14.00, most late sales 13.50 down with only few Holstein 14.50-15.00 cutter and utility bulls 16.00-21.50, sparingly above 20.00, few high-commercial and low-good bulls 22.00, canners down to 13.00 good and choice feeder steers 750 - 1050 lbs 21.50 24.00, choice 525-670 lb stock steers 20.50-26.50, common and low-medium dairymen steers and heifers largely 15.00-18.00. Calves for week salable 450 slaughter offerings mostly steady, stockers strong to 1.00 higher good and choice vealers 23.00-30.00, individual choice 255 lbs 31.00, standard vealers and calves 20.00-34.00, cut and utility 12.00-19.00; good and choice stock calves 23.50 - 28.00; few choice steers 26.50, medium 18.00-22.00. Hogs for week salable 2200; sales 75 higher, major share of advance on Monday with prices quite stable the balance of the week; sows steady to 50 cents higher; U. S. No. 1 and 2 butchers 185-240 lbs 19.50-20.00, latter price quite freely every day, few small lots totalling 60 head 20.25 at midweek, No. 2 and 3 190-265 lbs 17.80-19.50; most No. 1, 2 and 3 sows under 350 lbs 16.50-17.00, some over 550 lbs 11.50-12.50. Sheep for week salable 1675; slaughter lambs 50-100 higher, all of upturn strong Monday; ewes steady, feeder lambs steady to 50 cents higher; most choice and mixed choice and prime wooled slaughter lambs 18.50-18.75, small showing utility and good 14.00-18.00, good and choice with No. 1 and fall shorn pelts 16.00-18.25; cull to good slaughter ewes 3.00-5.00; good and choice feeder lambs 14.50-16.50.

GRAINS

Table showing grain prices for Chicago (AP) and Wheat, Corn, Oats, Rye, Soybeans.

POTATOES

Table showing potato prices for Chicago (AP) and San Francisco (UPI-FSMNS) and Los Angeles (UPI-FSMNS).

Bowling Alley Owner Faces Gambling Charge

The owner of Lucky Lanes Bowling Alley, Merle Archie Hanscom, 42, 1333 Carlson Drive, was arrested by state police Thursday night and charged with operating a gambling device. State Police Sgt. Bruce Lattin said Hanscom was arrested after two state police officers in plain clothes received payoffs on pinball machines. The machines were seized and Hanscom was released on his own recognizance and ordered to appear in district court next Tuesday afternoon. "I think the state should make up its mind whether the machines are legal or illegal," Hanscom said. "These machines have been here ever since the alley opened and the state hasn't turned down any taxes on them yet. They will have a lot to prove in court." "There has been no change in our policy toward gambling," Sgt. Lattin said. "If we determine that

Area-Wide Hospital Meeting Scheduled

The first meeting of an area-wide Community Hospital Committee has been set for Wednesday evening, Jan. 25, in the Fremont School auditorium. The meeting date was set by the Klamath County Chamber of Commerce Hospital Committee, which is sponsoring the event. Decision on a time and place for the meeting had been held up pending receipt of all returns from invitations to participate in the meeting, which were sent out by the chamber in December. Over 100 persons are expected to attend the Jan. 25 meeting. Dr. H. M. Amsberry, director-in-charge of the chamber Hospital Committee, was enthusiastic over the response. "We were interested in two things in issuing the

Jim Bond Film Draws Big Crowd

About 650 persons attended the Jim Bond Show in Mills School Auditorium last night. The show was so well received that members of the sponsoring Junior Chamber of Commerce expect as many or more during the final appearance of the hunter-photographer there tonight. Proceeds are used to carry on the various service projects the Jaycees tackle annually. Tickets are available at the door and at downtown sports shops. Bond is a Portland man who has spent recent years combing this continent hunting and photographing game animals and fish. He is proud of his sound movie, "The Magnificent Bugler," in which he has captured rare scenes of trophy elk. The film is carefully edited to play to the hunter who wants to learn the elk's habits. What is more, Bond has recorded in stereophonic sound the bugling of the bulls. "The bugling in stereophonic is something you will long remember," says Bond. Two other films will be included in the show that lasts about two hours. They are "Trapping and Transplanting Mountain Goats" and "The Montana Fisherman." The fare is palatable for the whole family. "Even if you have never hunted elk in your life, you will love these true wilderness films," says Bond.

AF Claims 6 Records

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Air Force today claimed six world speed records for its B58 Hustler jet bomber. It flew over 1,200 miles per hour with a payload of 4,408 pounds over a 621-mile closed course Thursday, the Air Force said. The previous record for the distance and payload was claimed by the Soviet Union in October 1959. They said a plane which they did not identify flew 639 miles an hour. The $10-million B58 made two circuits of the course at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. The average speed for the total 1,242 miles was 1,061 miles an hour.

Hit-Run Driver Sends Pedestrian To Hospital

A hit-run driver sent a Klamath Falls pedestrian to the hospital Thursday night. Mervin Hulbert, 501 Market Street, told city police that he was struck by a car as he

Advertisement for OYF SCA featuring a silhouette of a person's head and the text 'OYF SCA'.

Oregon Weather

Table showing Oregon weather forecasts for various locations including Baker, Bend, Brookings, Burns, Eugene, Lakeview, Medford, Newport, North Bend, Pendleton, Portland, Redmond, Roseburg, Salem, and The Dalles.

Western Oregon — Partial clearing and scattered showers through Saturday except cloudy followed by rain on the coast late Saturday. Not much change in temperature. Low tonight 32-40; high Saturday 42-52. Coastal winds southerly or westerly, diminishing to 14-28 miles an hour tonight and Saturday. Gale warnings up on coast.

Eastern Oregon — Showers tonight. Saturday partly cloudy with little temperature change. Low tonight 28-36. High Saturday 38-48. Northern Oregon Beaches — Showers and some partial clearing Saturday morning. Increasing cloudiness Saturday afternoon.

Oil Well Reaches 6,175 Feet

LAKEVIEW—Humble Oil Company's wildcat oil well at Lakeview's back door had reached 6,175 feet depth by 6 a.m. Friday, the drillers reported. The hole is the second start in this area since Humble was granted the right to explore for oil and gas here last summer. The first well, drilled to 14,000 feet in the Grasshopper Flat area, failed to produce. Geologists believe petroleum-bearing formations may exist beneath the thick volcanic surface layer. Plans tentatively call for a depth of from 10,000 to 12,000 feet for the well currently in the drilling stage four miles south of here on Lakeview-Alturas highway.

Cars Hit On South Sixth Street

State police were called shortly after midnight Friday to investigate an accident in front of Little Sweden, 5711 South Sixth Street. The two cars involved were driven by Andrew J. Honzel Jr., 29, 1940 Moore Street, and Charles Elmer Cooper, 33, 5521 Delaware Street. Officers said Honzel had apparently slowed down to turn into Little Sweden and was struck in the rear by the Cooper vehicle. Damage was minor and there were no injuries.

Lakeview Area Has Good Base

LAKEVIEW — The Fremont Highlanders' Ski Club winter sports area in Warner Canyon near here has a good base of hardpack snow. The first two tows will operate Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. The snack bar in the warming hut will be open for business.

Oil Fire Destroys Area Home

TULELAKE—Fire, said to have been started by burning oil, completely destroyed the four-room frame home occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holcomb and their baby daughter early Thursday. None of the contents was saved. Holcomb stated he was building a fire in the kitchen preparatory to going to work at the Cal-Ore Livestock plant when he used a can of diesel oil to speed up the flames. Oil in the can caught fire and in attempting to carry it outside his hand was slightly burned and he dropped the burning fluid. The home was immediately engulfed. Mrs. Holcomb, expecting her second child in two months, and their two-year-old daughter were still in nightclothes. The Tulelake Fire Department responded to the call but were unable to save the building located on the state line north of Tulelake. The Tulelake branch of the Red Cross and people of the Tulelake community assisted with replacing food, medicine for Mrs. Holcomb and some clothing. A Klamath Falls service club replaced glasses for Mrs. Holcomb. A used washing machine, baby bed and bedding, cooking utensils and dishes are still needed. Tulelake donations may be left at the Tulelake Growers Association office. Articles donated in Klamath Falls may go to the Red Cross office in the Klamath County Library Building.

House Votes 42-18 For Expense Bill, Flitcraft, Howe Are With Opposition

SALEM (AP) — The Oregon House voted 42-18 today for a Senate-passed resolution to pay each legislator expenses up to $75 a month during sessions, and $150 a month between sessions.

2 Youths Released On Bond

PAISLEY — Three youths appeared for a hearing in Lakeview Justice Court Friday morning. Two, Robert Wayne Plumb, 18, and his brother, William Edward, 20, each were released after posting $5,000 bail. They are charged with injury to property by means of explosives. A third youth, 17, appeared to, answer like charges, and his relatives were reported arranging $5,000 bail. The men were arrested in Paisley Monday by sheriff's deputies and state police, following a pair of dynamite bombings in the city Sunday night. One blast was produced by three sticks of dynamite and an electric blasting cap tossed into the fired wood stove in an unoccupied home, officers said. One explosion earlier was in a vacant lot in the city. Responsibility for those explosions and others since November, 1959, were admitted by the youths, officers said. Authorities stated the youths admitted stealing the dynamite from a local sawmill more than a year ago.

Indict Wife For Killing

PORTLAND (AP) — A woman who, police said, admitted shooting her husband after a quarrel, was indicted Thursday on a charge of manslaughter by a Multnomah County grand jury. Police said Mrs. Gerald Fred Mitchell called Wednesday night to report that she had shot her husband after he had threatened her. Police quoted her as saying that she grabbed a pistol, closed her eyes and fired. Police found her 25-year-old husband dead on the stairway of their West Hills home. He had been shot in the chest and killed outright.

Lucie Rumored As BPA Chief

PORTLAND (AP) — A Portland newspaper said today that it has learned that Charles F. Luce, a Walla Walla attorney, will be named Bonneville Power administrator by President-elect Kennedy. The Oregonian said in a special dispatch from Washington, D. C., that "Luce apparently has been cleared for the BPA position by few Democrats of the Pacific Northwest." Luce, a former law clerk for Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black, once was attorney for the Umatilla Indian Tribal Council. He also has served as counsel for the Bonneville administration and as a legal consultant for the Department of Interior.

Pelican Players Schedule Meet

Pelican Players, the community's little theater group, will meet Sunday afternoon and Monday evening for readings preparatory to casting for the group's next full-length production due about the end of February. Those interested are asked to come to the Klamath Auditorium Sunday at 2 p.m. or Monday at 8 p.m. Monday's gathering will feature a short and regular business meeting. Refreshments will be served. Mrs. Alice Gilbert will direct the next play.

Light Storm To Improve Skiing Conditions Here

A light storm front moving into the area was expected to improve skiing conditions at Mt. Shasta Ski Bowl and especially at Tomahawk Ski Bowl for the weekend. At 8:30 a.m. Friday, powder snow had piled to an inch in depth at Tomahawk, adding to an adequate pack. Snow was falling heavily at that time. One of the owner-operators, Don Divens, said any bare spots that might appear will be "packed out" with imported snow. He said double storm windows have been installed in the lodge to eliminate moisture condensation that frequently ruined the view of ski slopes before. Workmen also are installing a chimney extension expected to improve fireplace draft and consequent efficiency. Instructors for skiers of all capabilities will be on hand shortly after facilities open at 10 a.m. At Mt. Shasta, the pack was laying at 70 inches of packed powder and a light coating of powder was expected with a pair of mild storm fronts moving into the area. Snow level is expected to drop to about 4,000 feet, but the storms are not expected to affect skiing adversely. In fact, ski bowl personnel do not expect changes to be necessary. They advise motorists to carry chains for peace of mind, however. High cloudiness is the general forecast. Temperatures have continued mild during the week, and the wind has not been troublesome. Temperatures are expected to reach the mid-30s Saturday. Wind

The Joint Ways and Means Committee introduced the first 64 of more than 100 appropriation bills today, and will start work on them next week. Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advocated a salary increase for state employees starting July 1, asked the committee to put it into effect April 1. The proposal for the three months beginning April 1 would be financed by savings from current appropriations. The committee took no action, although Barton, chairman of the committee, objected that it would be deficit financing to start it April 1. The Legislative Highway Interim Committee introduced bills to require chemical tests of suspected drunken drivers, and to reduce taxes on trucks of more than 44,000 pounds. Sen. William A. Grenfell Jr. D-Portland, introduced a bill to prevent discrimination in hiring teachers because of race, sex or religion. And Sen. Anthony Yturri, Ontario, Senate Republican leader, sponsored Hatfield's bill to prevent future duplication of utility service, including electricity suppliers. It would require utilities to get permission from the public utility commissioner before they could enter new territory. A proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age from 21 years to 18 was introduced by Rep. Katherine Musa and her husband, Sen. Ben Musa. Both are Democrats from the Dalles. The House delayed until Monday action on the Senate's veto to override Hatfield's 1959 veto of a bill to permit industrial accident cases to have a free choice of doctors.

Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advocated a salary increase for state employees starting July 1, asked the committee to put it into effect April 1. The proposal for the three months beginning April 1 would be financed by savings from current appropriations. The committee took no action, although Barton, chairman of the committee, objected that it would be deficit financing to start it April 1. The Legislative Highway Interim Committee introduced bills to require chemical tests of suspected drunken drivers, and to reduce taxes on trucks of more than 44,000 pounds. Sen. William A. Grenfell Jr. D-Portland, introduced a bill to prevent discrimination in hiring teachers because of race, sex or religion. And Sen. Anthony Yturri, Ontario, Senate Republican leader, sponsored Hatfield's bill to prevent future duplication of utility service, including electricity suppliers. It would require utilities to get permission from the public utility commissioner before they could enter new territory. A proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age from 21 years to 18 was introduced by Rep. Katherine Musa and her husband, Sen. Ben Musa. Both are Democrats from the Dalles. The House delayed until Monday action on the Senate's veto to override Hatfield's 1959 veto of a bill to permit industrial accident cases to have a free choice of doctors.

Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advocated a salary increase for state employees starting July 1, asked the committee to put it into effect April 1. The proposal for the three months beginning April 1 would be financed by savings from current appropriations. The committee took no action, although Barton, chairman of the committee, objected that it would be deficit financing to start it April 1. The Legislative Highway Interim Committee introduced bills to require chemical tests of suspected drunken drivers, and to reduce taxes on trucks of more than 44,000 pounds. Sen. William A. Grenfell Jr. D-Portland, introduced a bill to prevent discrimination in hiring teachers because of race, sex or religion. And Sen. Anthony Yturri, Ontario, Senate Republican leader, sponsored Hatfield's bill to prevent future duplication of utility service, including electricity suppliers. It would require utilities to get permission from the public utility commissioner before they could enter new territory. A proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age from 21 years to 18 was introduced by Rep. Katherine Musa and her husband, Sen. Ben Musa. Both are Democrats from the Dalles. The House delayed until Monday action on the Senate's veto to override Hatfield's 1959 veto of a bill to permit industrial accident cases to have a free choice of doctors.

Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advocated a salary increase for state employees starting July 1, asked the committee to put it into effect April 1. The proposal for the three months beginning April 1 would be financed by savings from current appropriations. The committee took no action, although Barton, chairman of the committee, objected that it would be deficit financing to start it April 1. The Legislative Highway Interim Committee introduced bills to require chemical tests of suspected drunken drivers, and to reduce taxes on trucks of more than 44,000 pounds. Sen. William A. Grenfell Jr. D-Portland, introduced a bill to prevent discrimination in hiring teachers because of race, sex or religion. And Sen. Anthony Yturri, Ontario, Senate Republican leader, sponsored Hatfield's bill to prevent future duplication of utility service, including electricity suppliers. It would require utilities to get permission from the public utility commissioner before they could enter new territory. A proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age from 21 years to 18 was introduced by Rep. Katherine Musa and her husband, Sen. Ben Musa. Both are Democrats from the Dalles. The House delayed until Monday action on the Senate's veto to override Hatfield's 1959 veto of a bill to permit industrial accident cases to have a free choice of doctors.

Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advocated a salary increase for state employees starting July 1, asked the committee to put it into effect April 1. The proposal for the three months beginning April 1 would be financed by savings from current appropriations. The committee took no action, although Barton, chairman of the committee, objected that it would be deficit financing to start it April 1. The Legislative Highway Interim Committee introduced bills to require chemical tests of suspected drunken drivers, and to reduce taxes on trucks of more than 44,000 pounds. Sen. William A. Grenfell Jr. D-Portland, introduced a bill to prevent discrimination in hiring teachers because of race, sex or religion. And Sen. Anthony Yturri, Ontario, Senate Republican leader, sponsored Hatfield's bill to prevent future duplication of utility service, including electricity suppliers. It would require utilities to get permission from the public utility commissioner before they could enter new territory. A proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age from 21 years to 18 was introduced by Rep. Katherine Musa and her husband, Sen. Ben Musa. Both are Democrats from the Dalles. The House delayed until Monday action on the Senate's veto to override Hatfield's 1959 veto of a bill to permit industrial accident cases to have a free choice of doctors.

Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advocated a salary increase for state employees starting July 1, asked the committee to put it into effect April 1. The proposal for the three months beginning April 1 would be financed by savings from current appropriations. The committee took no action, although Barton, chairman of the committee, objected that it would be deficit financing to start it April 1. The Legislative Highway Interim Committee introduced bills to require chemical tests of suspected drunken drivers, and to reduce taxes on trucks of more than 44,000 pounds. Sen. William A. Grenfell Jr. D-Portland, introduced a bill to prevent discrimination in hiring teachers because of race, sex or religion. And Sen. Anthony Yturri, Ontario, Senate Republican leader, sponsored Hatfield's bill to prevent future duplication of utility service, including electricity suppliers. It would require utilities to get permission from the public utility commissioner before they could enter new territory. A proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age from 21 years to 18 was introduced by Rep. Katherine Musa and her husband, Sen. Ben Musa. Both are Democrats from the Dalles. The House delayed until Monday action on the Senate's veto to override Hatfield's 1959 veto of a bill to permit industrial accident cases to have a free choice of doctors.

Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advocated a salary increase for state employees starting July 1, asked the committee to put it into effect April 1. The proposal for the three months beginning April 1 would be financed by savings from current appropriations. The committee took no action, although Barton, chairman of the committee, objected that it would be deficit financing to start it April 1. The Legislative Highway Interim Committee introduced bills to require chemical tests of suspected drunken drivers, and to reduce taxes on trucks of more than 44,000 pounds. Sen. William A. Grenfell Jr. D-Portland, introduced a bill to prevent discrimination in hiring teachers because of race, sex or religion. And Sen. Anthony Yturri, Ontario, Senate Republican leader, sponsored Hatfield's bill to prevent future duplication of utility service, including electricity suppliers. It would require utilities to get permission from the public utility commissioner before they could enter new territory. A proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age from 21 years to 18 was introduced by Rep. Katherine Musa and her husband, Sen. Ben Musa. Both are Democrats from the Dalles. The House delayed until Monday action on the Senate's veto to override Hatfield's 1959 veto of a bill to permit industrial accident cases to have a free choice of doctors.

Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advocated a salary increase for state employees starting July 1, asked the committee to put it into effect April 1. The proposal for the three months beginning April 1 would be financed by savings from current appropriations. The committee took no action, although Barton, chairman of the committee, objected that it would be deficit financing to start it April 1. The Legislative Highway Interim Committee introduced bills to require chemical tests of suspected drunken drivers, and to reduce taxes on trucks of more than 44,000 pounds. Sen. William A. Grenfell Jr. D-Portland, introduced a bill to prevent discrimination in hiring teachers because of race, sex or religion. And Sen. Anthony Yturri, Ontario, Senate Republican leader, sponsored Hatfield's bill to prevent future duplication of utility service, including electricity suppliers. It would require utilities to get permission from the public utility commissioner before they could enter new territory. A proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age from 21 years to 18 was introduced by Rep. Katherine Musa and her husband, Sen. Ben Musa. Both are Democrats from the Dalles. The House delayed until Monday action on the Senate's veto to override Hatfield's 1959 veto of a bill to permit industrial accident cases to have a free choice of doctors.

Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advocated a salary increase for state employees starting July 1, asked the committee to put it into effect April 1. The proposal for the three months beginning April 1 would be financed by savings from current appropriations. The committee took no action, although Barton, chairman of the committee, objected that it would be deficit financing to start it April 1. The Legislative Highway Interim Committee introduced bills to require chemical tests of suspected drunken drivers, and to reduce taxes on trucks of more than 44,000 pounds. Sen. William A. Grenfell Jr. D-Portland, introduced a bill to prevent discrimination in hiring teachers because of race, sex or religion. And Sen. Anthony Yturri, Ontario, Senate Republican leader, sponsored Hatfield's bill to prevent future duplication of utility service, including electricity suppliers. It would require utilities to get permission from the public utility commissioner before they could enter new territory. A proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age from 21 years to 18 was introduced by Rep. Katherine Musa and her husband, Sen. Ben Musa. Both are Democrats from the Dalles. The House delayed until Monday action on the Senate's veto to override Hatfield's 1959 veto of a bill to permit industrial accident cases to have a free choice of doctors.

Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advocated a salary increase for state employees starting July 1, asked the committee to put it into effect April 1. The proposal for the three months beginning April 1 would be financed by savings from current appropriations. The committee took no action, although Barton, chairman of the committee, objected that it would be deficit financing to start it April 1. The Legislative Highway Interim Committee introduced bills to require chemical tests of suspected drunken drivers, and to reduce taxes on trucks of more than 44,000 pounds. Sen. William A. Grenfell Jr. D-Portland, introduced a bill to prevent discrimination in hiring teachers because of race, sex or religion. And Sen. Anthony Yturri, Ontario, Senate Republican leader, sponsored Hatfield's bill to prevent future duplication of utility service, including electricity suppliers. It would require utilities to get permission from the public utility commissioner before they could enter new territory. A proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age from 21 years to 18 was introduced by Rep. Katherine Musa and her husband, Sen. Ben Musa. Both are Democrats from the Dalles. The House delayed until Monday action on the Senate's veto to override Hatfield's 1959 veto of a bill to permit industrial accident cases to have a free choice of doctors.

Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advocated a salary increase for state employees starting July 1, asked the committee to put it into effect April 1. The proposal for the three months beginning April 1 would be financed by savings from current appropriations. The committee took no action, although Barton, chairman of the committee, objected that it would be deficit financing to start it April 1. The Legislative Highway Interim Committee introduced bills to require chemical tests of suspected drunken drivers, and to reduce taxes on trucks of more than 44,000 pounds. Sen. William A. Grenfell Jr. D-Portland, introduced a bill to prevent discrimination in hiring teachers because of race, sex or religion. And Sen. Anthony Yturri, Ontario, Senate Republican leader, sponsored Hatfield's bill to prevent future duplication of utility service, including electricity suppliers. It would require utilities to get permission from the public utility commissioner before they could enter new territory. A proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age from 21 years to 18 was introduced by Rep. Katherine Musa and her husband, Sen. Ben Musa. Both are Democrats from the Dalles. The House delayed until Monday action on the Senate's veto to override Hatfield's 1959 veto of a bill to permit industrial accident cases to have a free choice of doctors.

Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advocated a salary increase for state employees starting July 1, asked the committee to put it into effect April 1. The proposal for the three months beginning April 1 would be financed by savings from current appropriations. The committee took no action, although Barton, chairman of the committee, objected that it would be deficit financing to start it April 1. The Legislative Highway Interim Committee introduced bills to require chemical tests of suspected drunken drivers, and to reduce taxes on trucks of more than 44,000 pounds. Sen. William A. Grenfell Jr. D-Portland, introduced a bill to prevent discrimination in hiring teachers because of race, sex or religion. And Sen. Anthony Yturri, Ontario, Senate Republican leader, sponsored Hatfield's bill to prevent future duplication of utility service, including electricity suppliers. It would require utilities to get permission from the public utility commissioner before they could enter new territory. A proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age from 21 years to 18 was introduced by Rep. Katherine Musa and her husband, Sen. Ben Musa. Both are Democrats from the Dalles. The House delayed until Monday action on the Senate's veto to override Hatfield's 1959 veto of a bill to permit industrial accident cases to have a free choice of doctors.

Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advocated a salary increase for state employees starting July 1, asked the committee to put it into effect April 1. The proposal for the three months beginning April 1 would be financed by savings from current appropriations. The committee took no action, although Barton, chairman of the committee, objected that it would be deficit financing to start it April 1. The Legislative Highway Interim Committee introduced bills to require chemical tests of suspected drunken drivers, and to reduce taxes on trucks of more than 44,000 pounds. Sen. William A. Grenfell Jr. D-Portland, introduced a bill to prevent discrimination in hiring teachers because of race, sex or religion. And Sen. Anthony Yturri, Ontario, Senate Republican leader, sponsored Hatfield's bill to prevent future duplication of utility service, including electricity suppliers. It would require utilities to get permission from the public utility commissioner before they could enter new territory. A proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age from 21 years to 18 was introduced by Rep. Katherine Musa and her husband, Sen. Ben Musa. Both are Democrats from the Dalles. The House delayed until Monday action on the Senate's veto to override Hatfield's 1959 veto of a bill to permit industrial accident cases to have a free choice of doctors.

Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advocated a salary increase for state employees starting July 1, asked the committee to put it into effect April 1. The proposal for the three months beginning April 1 would be financed by savings from current appropriations. The committee took no action, although Barton, chairman of the committee, objected that it would be deficit financing to start it April 1. The Legislative Highway Interim Committee introduced bills to require chemical tests of suspected drunken drivers, and to reduce taxes on trucks of more than 44,000 pounds. Sen. William A. Grenfell Jr. D-Portland, introduced a bill to prevent discrimination in hiring teachers because of race, sex or religion. And Sen. Anthony Yturri, Ontario, Senate Republican leader, sponsored Hatfield's bill to prevent future duplication of utility service, including electricity suppliers. It would require utilities to get permission from the public utility commissioner before they could enter new territory. A proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age from 21 years to 18 was introduced by Rep. Katherine Musa and her husband, Sen. Ben Musa. Both are Democrats from the Dalles. The House delayed until Monday action on the Senate's veto to override Hatfield's 1959 veto of a bill to permit industrial accident cases to have a free choice of doctors.

Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advocated a salary increase for state employees starting July 1, asked the committee to put it into effect April 1. The proposal for the three months beginning April 1 would be financed by savings from current appropriations. The committee took no action, although Barton, chairman of the committee, objected that it would be deficit financing to start it April 1. The Legislative Highway Interim Committee introduced bills to require chemical tests of suspected drunken drivers, and to reduce taxes on trucks of more than 44,000 pounds. Sen. William A. Grenfell Jr. D-Portland, introduced a bill to prevent discrimination in hiring teachers because of race, sex or religion. And Sen. Anthony Yturri, Ontario, Senate Republican leader, sponsored Hatfield's bill to prevent future duplication of utility service, including electricity suppliers. It would require utilities to get permission from the public utility commissioner before they could enter new territory. A proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age from 21 years to 18 was introduced by Rep. Katherine Musa and her husband, Sen. Ben Musa. Both are Democrats from the Dalles. The House delayed until Monday action on the Senate's veto to override Hatfield's 1959 veto of a bill to permit industrial accident cases to have a free choice of doctors.

Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advocated a salary increase for state employees starting July 1, asked the committee to put it into effect April 1. The proposal for the three months beginning April 1 would be financed by savings from current appropriations. The committee took no action, although Barton, chairman of the committee, objected that it would be deficit financing to start it April 1. The Legislative Highway Interim Committee introduced bills to require chemical tests of suspected drunken drivers, and to reduce taxes on trucks of more than 44,000 pounds. Sen. William A. Grenfell Jr. D-Portland, introduced a bill to prevent discrimination in hiring teachers because of race, sex or religion. And Sen. Anthony Yturri, Ontario, Senate Republican leader, sponsored Hatfield's bill to prevent future duplication of utility service, including electricity suppliers. It would require utilities to get permission from the public utility commissioner before they could enter new territory. A proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age from 21 years to 18 was introduced by Rep. Katherine Musa and her husband, Sen. Ben Musa. Both are Democrats from the Dalles. The House delayed until Monday action on the Senate's veto to override Hatfield's 1959 veto of a bill to permit industrial accident cases to have a free choice of doctors.

Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advocated a salary increase for state employees starting July 1, asked the committee to put it into effect April 1. The proposal for the three months beginning April 1 would be financed by savings from current appropriations. The committee took no action, although Barton, chairman of the committee, objected that it would be deficit financing to start it April 1. The Legislative Highway Interim Committee introduced bills to require chemical tests of suspected drunken drivers, and to reduce taxes on trucks of more than 44,000 pounds. Sen. William A. Grenfell Jr. D-Portland, introduced a bill to prevent discrimination in hiring teachers because of race, sex or religion. And Sen. Anthony Yturri, Ontario, Senate Republican leader, sponsored Hatfield's bill to prevent future duplication of utility service, including electricity suppliers. It would require utilities to get permission from the public utility commissioner before they could enter new territory. A proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age from 21 years to 18 was introduced by Rep. Katherine Musa and her husband, Sen. Ben Musa. Both are Democrats from the Dalles. The House delayed until Monday action on the Senate's veto to override Hatfield's 1959 veto of a bill to permit industrial accident cases to have a free choice of doctors.

Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advocated a salary increase for state employees starting July 1, asked the committee to put it into effect April 1. The proposal for the three months beginning April 1 would be financed by savings from current appropriations. The committee took no action, although Barton, chairman of the committee, objected that it would be deficit financing to start it April 1. The Legislative Highway Interim Committee introduced bills to require chemical tests of suspected drunken drivers, and to reduce taxes on trucks of more than 44,000 pounds. Sen. William A. Grenfell Jr. D-Portland, introduced a bill to prevent discrimination in hiring teachers because of race, sex or religion. And Sen. Anthony Yturri, Ontario, Senate Republican leader, sponsored Hatfield's bill to prevent future duplication of utility service, including electricity suppliers. It would require utilities to get permission from the public utility commissioner before they could enter new territory. A proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age from 21 years to 18 was introduced by Rep. Katherine Musa and her husband, Sen. Ben Musa. Both are Democrats from the Dalles. The House delayed until Monday action on the Senate's veto to override Hatfield's 1959 veto of a bill to permit industrial accident cases to have a free choice of doctors.

Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advocated a salary increase for state employees starting July 1, asked the committee to put it into effect April 1. The proposal for the three months beginning April 1 would be financed by savings from current appropriations. The committee took no action, although Barton, chairman of the committee, objected that it would be deficit financing to start it April 1. The Legislative Highway Interim Committee introduced bills to require chemical tests of suspected drunken drivers, and to reduce taxes on trucks of more than 44,000 pounds. Sen. William A. Grenfell Jr. D-Portland, introduced a bill to prevent discrimination in hiring teachers because of race, sex or religion. And Sen. Anthony Yturri, Ontario, Senate Republican leader, sponsored Hatfield's bill to prevent future duplication of utility service, including electricity suppliers. It would require utilities to get permission from the public utility commissioner before they could enter new territory. A proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age from 21 years to 18 was introduced by Rep. Katherine Musa and her husband, Sen. Ben Musa. Both are Democrats from the Dalles. The House delayed until Monday action on the Senate's veto to override Hatfield's 1959 veto of a bill to permit industrial accident cases to have a free choice of doctors.

Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advocated a salary increase for state employees starting July 1, asked the committee to put it into effect April 1. The proposal for the three months beginning April 1 would be financed by savings from current appropriations. The committee took no action, although Barton, chairman of the committee, objected that it would be deficit financing to start it April 1. The Legislative Highway Interim Committee introduced bills to require chemical tests of suspected drunken drivers, and to reduce taxes on trucks of more than 44,000 pounds. Sen. William A. Grenfell Jr. D-Portland, introduced a bill to prevent discrimination in hiring teachers because of race, sex or religion. And Sen. Anthony Yturri, Ontario, Senate Republican leader, sponsored Hatfield's bill to prevent future duplication of utility service, including electricity suppliers. It would require utilities to get permission from the public utility commissioner before they could enter new territory. A proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age from 21 years to 18 was introduced by Rep. Katherine Musa and her husband, Sen. Ben Musa. Both are Democrats from the Dalles. The House delayed until Monday action on the Senate's veto to override Hatfield's 1959 veto of a bill to permit industrial accident cases to have a free choice of doctors.

Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advocated a salary increase for state employees starting July 1, asked the committee to put it into effect April 1. The proposal for the three months beginning April 1 would be financed by savings from current appropriations. The committee took no action, although Barton, chairman of the committee, objected that it would be deficit financing to start it