Lawmakers Turn To Education Bills

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A new look in education from kindergarten to college was in prospect today in the legislature.

Scores of bills already have been introduced in the first few days of the session dealing with the complex problems of education. Hundreds more will come. They cover almost every aspect of education from the complexity of school financing to a proposal that all school children recite the pledge of allegiance every day.

Many bills will be killed during the months of committee hearings ahead, but leaders of both houses agreed generally that the lawmakers will follow at least part of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's program to strengthen the teaching of basic academic subjects in public schools.

Brown, in his message to the legislature two weeks ago, called for improvement in the quality of education and for curriculum changes that will "emphasize solid subjects and minimize the wasteful fringe courses."

A few of the bills already in would make major changes in the educational picture. These include:

—A new program of special courses for gifted children, backed by extra state aid up to $250 per pupil every school year.

 —Authorization for districts to teach foreign languages in elementary schools.
 —Systematic intelligence testing of all pupils in public schools.
 —Elimination of the $120 basic aid now granted districts for each pupil in regular attendance. The bill would grant aid only on the basis of need.

Bond Issues Made Easier
 —Lowering the two-thirds requirement to pass school bond issues to 60 per cent.

—Bills to grant increased state aid to junior colleges, both for construction and support.
 —Broadening educational television so that it can be used in any school district.

Rebels Ask Truce Talk

TUNIS, Tunisia (UPI) — The leaders of the Algerian rebels who have been fighting a six-year war of independence announced today they are ready to open negotiations with France.

A statement issued by the Algerian "provisional government" in exile said it was prepared to discuss "conditions for a free consultation of the Algerian people."

French President Charles de Gaulle has declared he would let the Algerians decide their own future in a referendum after peace is restored to Algeria.
