

TRIPLE-TURBINE JET — Not since the days of the old Ford "Tin Goose" has a U.S. manufacturer brought out a three-engine airplane. But by 1963, Boeing Airplane Co.'s B-52, shown in artist's drawing above, is expected to be in service. Departing from usual American custom, the sleek craft's engines are mounted on the rear of the fuselage, with the third engine part of the vertical stabilizer. Carrying from 70 to 114 passengers at speeds of 550-600 m.p.h., the B-52 will provide short to medium-range service and operate out of 5,000-foot runways.

SAC Planes In The Air Constantly

OMAHA (AP) — The Strategic Air Command announced today that U.S. heavy bombers now are in the air around the clock. Gen. Thomas S. Power, SAC commander-in-chief, said an unspecified number of B52s are in the air at all times. About two dozen bases are involved, he said. Power said the indoctrination phase of the airborne alert training program has been completed and now all combat-ready B52 bomber crews are participating in airborne alert training missions under realistic conditions. He said the program is in keeping with the U.S. policy of being prepared, and is designed "to reduce to an absolute minimum the time required by SAC bombers to respond to any hostile action by an aggressor." During an airborne alert training mission the bomber remains in the air for a 24-hour period and is refueled by KC135 jet Stratotankers.

275 Horses, 22 Mules, One Burro Poised For Inauguration Parade

WASHINGTON (AP) — Every-thing seems about ready for John F. Kennedy's big presidential inauguration Friday, including 275 horses, 22 mules and 1 burro. This livestock statistic was hurried out today by a breathless inaugural committee. Many of its earlier tidbits dealt with the latest formidable weapons the armed forces will display and with the electronic gadgetry aimed at keeping the parade on time. But in news release No. 185, issued today, the committee did a complete about face. "In no other parade," the committee proudly reported, "have there been so many horses."

This seems surprising since horses were standard presidential locomotion in the old days and Warren G. Harding was the first to forsake them and ride to his inauguration in an automobile. But admittedly 275 add up to a lot of horseflesh, and of course the Army is prepared. Two horse ambulances, each with a veterinarian and an assistant, will be parked along the parade route to assist any beast needing first aid. The mules wear miniature leazes between their cars. Their sponsor is the Colorado Springs, Colo., Al Kaly Temple of Shriners. The burro, symbol of the Democratic party, will pull a miniature float preceding the mule train.

The U.S. Park Police horse-mounted troop has been drilling for the parade with workouts in beautiful Rock Creek Park here. As they drill, a loud recording of crowd noises is played so that the horses will feel right at home in the racket as they prance down Pennsylvania Avenue. Officials of the inaugural committee, when you can coax them to stand still long enough to answer a question, say this is going to be the liveliest inauguration yet—as well as the best horse. What started out as one inaugural ball Friday night has now branched out into five. Two more were added Tuesday, which will give dancers room for whirling or watching, away in four hotel ballrooms and the National Guard Armory. No one seems to have paused long enough to count the tickets sold, but the figure usually used

Assessors OK Uniform Code

EUGENE (AP)—A uniform de-valuation schedule in assessing business and farming equipment for tax purposes was adopted Tuesday by the Western Oregon Assessors' Association, meeting in Eugene. Lane County Assessor Kenneth Omid, president of the association, said the new schedule is intended for use as a guide by county assessors in Oregon's 18 western counties in figuring de-valuation on such items as sawmills, tractors, chain saws, farm equipment and office machines. In the past, he said, assessors in the various counties have used schedules which varied widely.

GSA Includes Funds For PO

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $1,910,000 allotment for a post office and federal office building at Medford, Ore., is included in a General Services Administration public building construction and alteration program proposed Monday. The program, to cost $181,325,000 in the year starting next July 1, was outlined in President Eisenhower's budget sent to Congress. It is 25,000, a fair-sized crowd when you remember that the cheapest ticket costs $25 and that a box seating eight brings in $320. The big doings really begin late this afternoon with a reception for distinguished ladies.

Frightened Russians Expect Easing Tension

MOSCOW (AP)—The inauguration of President-elect John F. Kennedy will be welcomed by the many Russians who are fatigued and frightened by the hard feelings between Premier Khrushchev and President Eisenhower. The Soviets tend, naturally, to lay all the blame on Eisenhower for the end of the seemingly friendly relationship that blossomed at the President's camp David in 1959, only to be blasted apart a few months later by a combination of events, including the U2 plane incident. Whatever may have been the political or military factors that halted Khrushchev's move toward warmer relations, the summit conference breakup last May and the resultant worsening of relations caused only dismay among rank and file Soviet citizens. It is a rare Soviet citizen these days who does not express hope that relations with Kennedy will be better—and immediately.

Postal Confusion

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—If postmen puzzle over mail for Cross Roads, Ark., it's no wonder. The state has six towns by that name. There's a Crossroads at Crossroads and four Cross Roads. Khrushchev warmly toasted America and offered to put aside old memories in the interest of better relations. Last November, Khrushchev won a battle at the Communist summit conference in Moscow for the Socialist world's approval of his efforts toward a reconciliation with the United States. But on no front has the Soviet premier shown the slightest sign of retreat as a friendly gesture toward Kennedy. Khrushchev has set a relatively fast timetable for his work with Kennedy. He said late last year he wanted the troublesome question of a divided Germany settled before the end of 1961. He declared he is not prepared to wait until September, when West Germany elects a new Parliament, and Tuesday he hurled a new threat to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany. Once more he made clear that his goal is unchanged, to get the Western Allies out of Berlin.
