

Bonanza Benefit Slated For Polio-Stricken Boy

BONANZA — Patrick John Hughes, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean W. Hughes, Bonanza, fell ill with crippling polio last September. He was sent to Sacred Heart Hospital, Eugene, in critical condition.

With help from medical personnel there the boy soon began to recover, though the disease left him crippled.

His parents state they are proud of his will and determination to overcome his affliction. His 14 brothers and sisters are proud, too.

And they say they are very thankful for help and concern of residents in and around Bonanza and Eugene.

The lad, say his parents, is beginning to walk, though he is confined most of the time to a wheel chair. He expects to be fitted with leg braces soon.

Friendly neighbors of the area are conducting a March of Dimes dance at Langell Valley Community Hall for his benefit from 9 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 21, until 1 a.m.

Music will be furnished by "The Three Notes." Supper will be served. Mrs. J. E. "Red" Baldock is in charge.

SHARON ROSSON, nurse student at Sacred Heart Hospital, Eugene, has returned to her work after spending a week in Klamath Falls on observation with the Klamath County Health Department. She is the daughter of Mrs. Lillian Rosson and a graduate of Klamath Union High School.

Thank-You Program Is Slated

Special thanks will be extended to the public for its support of the Camp Fire Girls program during the annual "potlatch" for adults in the Klamath Council of Camp Fire Tuesday, Jan. 24, beginning at 6:30 p.m. in the dining hall of First Presbyterian Church, Pine and Sixth streets.

"Potlatch" means a time of feasting and gift-giving in the language of Alaskan Indians. The day is called "Camp Fire Thank the Community Day." The meeting will open with a potluck dinner.

Adults in the organization will be advised of the type of dishes to bring for the dinner. Others interested are invited and urged to come.

They may each bring a dessert, hot dish or salad if they wish. A special invitation is extended to anyone who has ever been a Camp Fire Girl or who has ever been associated with the movement in some manner.

The presence will add luster to the potlatch, since the organization is celebrating its golden anniversary this year.

During a business meeting after dinner, a president, two vice presidents, a secretary, a treasurer and eight board of directors members will be elected and installed. No other business will be transacted.

During the entertainment program, Mrs. Gerald Wolf, Chiloquin Horizon Club adviser, and five club members who attended the jubilee convention in New York last year, will give public recognition to organizations and people who helped the Camp Fire movement.

"The evening will be informal, friendly and fun," says Mrs. Naomi French, council executive.

Larry Barleen Edits School Paper

Larry Barleen, Southern Oregon College senior from Klamath Falls, has assumed the position as editor of the Southern Oregon College newspaper, the Siskiyou. Wallace Gober, former editor, resigned last week from the post because of other responsibilities, according to Hugh G. Simpson, director of information, who serves as adviser to the paper.

Barleen, a major in social studies in the field of secondary education, is well qualified for his new post, Simpson said, saying that he has served in various capacities in the past. Barleen, on assuming the editorship, stated that he would continue to emphasize the Siskiyou's role as a vehicle of straight campus news as well as an effective influence in the formulation of campus opinion.

Barleen is 23 years old, and an Air Force veteran. He has been active at SOC in student government, running last spring for the office of president, and serving for two years on the council as a representative at large. He served in 1960 on the Living Services Committee at Retreat and Reretreat, when student leaders meet to discuss all phases of campus governmental responsibilities.

LATE PAYMENT PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—A check for $40 was sent to St. Mary-Corwin Hospital by a woman in Hollywood, Calif. She said it was to pay for a hospital bill run up 32 years ago. The hospital withheld her name.

Civics Club Gets Charter

The St. Michael's Civics Club of Sacred Heart Academy this week received its official charter from the Commission on American Citizenship in Washington, D.C.

The charter formally recognizes affiliation of the local unit with the national organization at the Catholic University of America. Pupils of the eighth grade comprise local club membership.

Officers of the club, organized last fall, are Karen Van Griethuysen, president; Laurie Keating, vice president; Margaret R. Robichaud, secretary; Dale Cox, treasurer, and Edward Yasana, sergeant-at-arms.

The club is one of thousands of Catholic civics clubs chartered in the U.S. to develop informed, responsible citizens, say club officials.

The program of activities across the nation this year will bear the theme "Your Citizenship—Know it, Cherish it, Live it."

Club members will get help in their projects from "Young Catholic Messenger," national weekly periodical for students of the upper elementary grades.

Monthly articles will point out fundamentals of good citizenship and suggest practical projects. Locally, members hope to have projects about once a month. They may write essays, take tours of public buildings and participate in other such activities.

Their social program includes a Valentine's Day party at the academy. Other activities will be planned later.

Sister Mary Norine, SHA elementary school principal, is club adviser. The club has 42 members.
