Rev. W. Pechman Named Pastor Of Local Church

The Rev. Warren W. Pechman, former pastor of Faith Lutheran Church, Salem, for six years, has accepted the pastorate of Hope Lutheran Church, Homedale and South Sixth Street.

While serving the congregation in Salem, it grew from a small church. The first unit of a three-stage building plan was completed while he was pastor. In Salem he served as vice president of the Salem Council of Churches, as a chaplain at the Oregon State Hospital, was a member of the Kiwanis Club and served also on the Citizens' Advisory Committee of the Marion County Health Department.

Before going to Salem he organized St. Luke Lutheran Church of Spokane. During his first pastorate a church was built in 1952, Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Willamina, Ore.

The Rev. Pechman was born and raised in Denver. He attended Denver University and Oberlin College and was graduated from Doan College of Crete, Neb. He graduated also from Central Lutheran Seminary of Fremont, Neb., in 1950. A part of his training was to serve an internship at Trinity Lutheran Church of Appleton, Wis. It was during this period that he was married.

During his ministry he has served as chairman of the Foreign Missions Committee of the Pacific Synod of the United Lutheran Church and is now the chairman of the Parish Education Committee.

His family includes his wife, Adeline, and three children, Marsha, 10, Becky, 6, and Nancy, 3.

School Set For Sunday

The School of Missions at the Methodist Church will continue on Sunday, Jan. 22, beginning at 5:30 p.m. with a potluck supper. The Rev. Harley Zeller of the church at Williamson River will speak after the supper. Youth and children will meet in groups. There will be a nursery.

At the adult session, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Stewart will conduct the study. After two sessions on the church and the alcohol problem, the study will turn to a survey of the Christian mission in this country, not so much from the point of view of the specific projects being supported by the church in areas of need, as from that of the religious, social, and generally human situations which call for consideration by all earnest Christians and church members in this critical age.

The title of the study is "Heritage and Horizons in Home Missions."

All members and friends of the church are urged to attend and members of other churches are invited.

Ordained By Church

June Palmer of Klamath Falls was one of 51 new ministers of Jehovah's Witnesses ordained by baptism Saturday, Jan. 7, at the Municipal Auditorium in Eureka.

Speaking to the ministerial candidates, Lester M. Dugan, district minister from the organization's New York headquarters, counseled, "To submit to baptism with understanding, one must know why he is being baptized."

At the conclusion of the baptismal talk, the 51 candidates were transported by private cars to the indoor pool at Morrell's Gym in Eureka for baptism.

Each candidate must undergo extensive study of the Bible and preparatory training for the ministry. Instruction in the home, congregational schooling, including public speaking and field training in the door-to-door ministry used extensively by Jehovah's Witnesses, are necessary to prepare each candidate for immersion.

GEORGE SHAFFER JR.

LDS Ward Official Is Named

George Shaffer Jr., on recommendation of the stake presidency, has been appointed Bishop of Ward 2 of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Klamath Falls. The appointment was approved by David O'McKay, president of the church, Salt Lake City.

Bishop Shaffer succeeds Bishop Charles Wesley Clark who served for five years, a term limited by church ethics.

The new official has been in Klamath Falls since 1945. He served during World War II with a communications unit in the U.S. Air Force and presently is associated with Shaffer Electric in Town and Country.

A new addition to the LDS Church, just completed, will be dedicated in the near future.

Presbyterian Moderator Will Speak Here Jan. 26

The Rev. Herman L. Turner, D.D., moderator, 172 General Assembly, the United Presbyterian Church in the USA, and pastor, Covenant Presbyterian Church, Atlanta, Ga., will be present Thursday, Jan. 26, at First Presbyterian Church, this city.

He will speak at 8 p.m. in the sanctuary. Invitations have been extended to congregations and pastors of all churches in the Klamath Basin, and to the public by the Rev. Robert C. Groves, pastor of the host church to hear the distinguished guest speaker. Text of his address will be announced.

His presence here marks the first appearance in some time of a church leader of such national stature.

The Rev. Turner is a native of Alabama schooled in the Deep South with degrees from famous universities: Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tennessee, with a D.D.; Tusculum College, Greeneville, Tenn., LL.D.; Mercer University, D.D.; Johnson C. Smith University, Charlotte, North Carolina, LHD.

He began his distinguished career as a railroad call boy, clerk and stenographer. With educational growth and preparation, he pastored Presbyterian churches in several principal cities of the South; was a Sabbath School missionary, Presbyterian Church USA; member of the Third Army Advisory Committee; chaplain, Major 167th Infantry, Alabama National Guard; chaplain, District 1, Funton County, Georgia State Guard, and in 1960 he became moderator of the 172nd General Assembly.

He has been a member, Board of National Missions, United Presbyterian churches; chairman of the General Assembly's Special Committee on Segregated Synods and Presbyteries, and member of the Special Committee on Consolidations; trustee of Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn.; trustee, Protestant Radio and Television Center, Atlanta, Georgia; trustee, National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Further, he has pioneered in the field of religious programs on radio and television, has been president of the Georgia Council of Churches and has held other important positions in the south. Dr. Turner's leadership in civic and social welfare work is known far and wide. He has been an outspoken proponent of social justice, regardless of race, creed or color, and stands for a "nonsegregated church in a nonsegregated society."

He played the major part in developing the two "Atlanta Manifestoes," in which hundreds of clergymen in the Atlanta area urged open communications between Negroes and whites and affirmed their belief in democratic procedures and federal laws, including the Supreme Court decision regarding integration of public schools.

Communism Escapee Will Speak At Meeting

The Unitarian Fellowship will be host at their Pine Grove Meeting House Sunday, Jan. 22, at 11 a.m. to Tibor Kalman, who will speak on "How People Live and Feel Behind the Iron Curtain."

Kalman escaped from Communist Hungary after the suppression of the revolt and came to the United States where he was admitted to the University of Arizona in 1957. He received his M.A. degree at that institution. He conducted choruses and taught instrumental music in the public schools of Budapest before coming to the United States. In 1956 the Hungarian minister of education presented Kalman with a merit of award in recognition of outstanding educational performance.

During Kalman's stay at the university he was a member of the Tucson symphony orchestra. At the present time he is vocal and instrumental teacher at the Tulelake Joint Union high school.

A family potluck will be held at the Pine Grove Meeting House following Kalman's talk. The public is invited to attend the meeting as well as the potluck. Those wishing to stay for the potluck should bring table service as well as a hot dish or dessert.

Church Sets Activities

Peace Memorial Presbyterian Church plans a number of events during the coming week.

The annual congregational meeting will follow a potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 21, at the church. Details of the dinner are in charge of the deacons.

On Sunday, Jan. 22, the winter retreat for the Senior High Westminster Fellowship is planned. All high school students planning to attend, should wear snow clothes to the 11 a.m. service and plan to leave the church immediately after. A sack lunch should be taken for the noon meal. The evening meal will be at the home of Susan Glassows.

The Rev. Laing Sibbet has also announced the pending visit of Dr. Herman Lee Turner, D.D., moderator, 172 General Assembly, the United Presbyterian Church, Atlanta, Georgia, who will be in Klamath Falls Jan. 26 at First Presbyterian Church. Members of Peace Memorial are invited to hear him speak in the evening.

Adventists Plan Welfare Center

The Seventh Day Adventist Church held the first business meeting of the year Jan. 14.

Definite plans were made for the opening of a Welfare Center in Klamath Falls where clothing will be kept and distributed to those in need. A location is being sought and when located, an announcement will be made regarding location of the center.

Prayer Day Scheduled

DUNSMUIR — The women of the First Methodist Church of Dunsmuir will conduct an observance of World Day of Prayer on Friday, Feb. 17. They will be assisted by women of St. Barnabas Episcopal Church and other churches who wish to join in the world-wide day of worship.

Tentative plans are for a 12:30 luncheon at the Methodist Church social hall followed by a service in the church sanctuary at 1:15. Church women of Mount Shasta are also being asked to combine their observance with the one in Dunsmuir.

World Day of Prayer, traditionally observed in February, was designed to unite all Christians in one continuous service all over the globe. It is non-denominational and is sponsored by the World Council of Churches.

Guild Plans Observance

The Wesleyan Service Guild of First Methodist Church has made plans for the observance of WSG week in Oregon during January. A number of members were appointed at a recent meeting to greet those attending church on Sundays for the remainder of the month.

The impressive guild emblem has also been placed in the foyer of the church. Guild members recently presented the church with a rug for the entrance area.

The meeting was held at the home of Edna Young, 45 Pine Street, with Edna Ida Edsall as co-hostess. Dorothy Dickinson had charge of the worship service and a program and refreshments concluded the meeting.

The Feb. 2 meeting will be at the home of Irene Markham, 931 Lincoln, with Genevieve Schweigert as co-hostess.

The Wesleyan Service Guild, an organization for gainfully employed women, provides a channel through which employed women can achieve spiritual enrichment and Christian fellowship and take an active part in developing a world Christian community.

The fellowship the guild gives those of like interests is unique; the opportunities it offers for Christian service are limitless the program and plans it presents are challenging.

Meetings are held evenings and weekends to permit employed women to attend. The meetings and programs meet the needs and interests of employed women and helps the individual to make a specific contribution as a Christian in the church and community, and in the business, industrial and professional field in which she works.

The guild is seeking new members. They meet in the homes of members on the first Thursday of each month. Mrs. Christine Murray, a teacher in an elementary school, is president of the local guild. Mrs. Alpha Phelps is membership chairman.

EXCLUSIVE APPEAL

HOKKAIDO, Japan (AP)—When the Rev. Joseph C. Luckey, a Maryknoll missionary from Cincinnati, Ohio, had trouble getting Japanese men to a study class on Christianity, he put a new kind of sign, and attendance shot up. The sign said: "For Men Only."

Gralapp Family Will Be Honored

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Gralapp will be honored Sunday morning, Jan. 22, at a coffee hour immediately following the morning worship service at First Presbyterian Church. Members and friends are invited by the Rev. Robert C. Groves.

Mr. and Mrs. Gralapp became members of the church immediately upon their arrival from La Grande in 1941 and Gralapp was elected to the office of ruling elder on April 4, 1946, and was ordained on April 28. Mr. and Mrs. Gralapp were charter members of the building committee which developed the present church edifice on the corner of Sixth and Pine.

Mrs. Gralapp through the years devoted much time to developing the music program and assisted with selection of the fine pipe organ.

The Rev. Groves, in announcing plans for the coffee, said that Mr. Gralapp in his capacity of ruling elder had "been most helpful in the development of the church education program and its spiritual life."
