

Hatfield Says Welfare Move Executive Function

PORTLAND (AP) — Gov. Mark O. Hatfield in a television appearance Sunday described an effort to halt the move of the Public Welfare Commission headquarters from Portland to Salem as legislative interference.

The move, which he has ordered for spring, is an executive function, the governor said on the program Viewpoint (KGW-TV).

And he added without qualification, "We're going to move it to Salem."

A bill by Rep. Grace Peck, D-Portland, is intended to keep the

Plastic Image Of Mrs. Kennedy Stares From Windows Of Nation

United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—A paint and plastic image of Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy is staring into the street today from store windows across the country.

In some of them, she's standing beside a toothy store dummy with the head, and name, of President John F. Kennedy.

And only a blizzard, it appeared, prevented a pair of the mannequins from presiding over a "little inaugural ball" at a swanky New England country club during the weekend.

There's nothing unusual about the use of such "reasonable facsimiles" of the president or other respected individual in store windows celebrating a patriotic event, display firm executives said here.

Normally they're made of plaster for such special displays, however.

No one could recall a previous president and first lady who had been made up and sold ($150 each) as dress and suit display figures. Which may be just because it's a long time since a president's lady has been both a

U.N. Disarm Conference Posed By Senator Morse

FOREST GROVE (AP) — A he said, for Russia to walk out disarmament conference between Russia and the United States, held under United Nations auspices, offers the best hope of success, Sen. Wayne L. Morse, D-Ore., said Monday.

Morse, speaking at a special assembly of Pacific University students, said in his prepared remarks that this country never has walked out of a disarmament conference, and Russia has.

It would be far more difficult, that.

Morse said he had learned through his work as a delegate to the United Nations that many countries which do not have nuclear weapons are displeased over failure of Russia and the Western powers to get together because they see no future hope without that.
