Brown Proposes Hold Line Budget, Schools Get Most

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown proposed today a hold-the-line state budget of $2.6 billion with the lion's share going to finance the mounting costs of public education.

The spending program for the year starting July 1, he said, is "honestly but narrowly balanced." It is up only 4.5 per cent over current expenditures, the smallest percentage increase since 1943.

The governor and his finance director, John E. Carr, admitted they are relying heavily on an end to the recession and an upturn in business in the latter part of 1961 to preserve the shaky budget balance.

In order to maintain a general fund surplus of $468,000 at the end of the fiscal year on June 30, 1962, Brown dropped his pay-as-you-go philosophy and ordered the issuance of $100 million in bonds to finance building needs for the university and state colleges.

The bulk of the budget, as usual the largest spending program in the state's history, was earmarked for education with 41.5 per cent of the total going to public schools, junior colleges, state colleges and the university.

The total budget increase over the current 1960-61 budget is $113 million and education will get more than half of it—$58.6 million.

Wants Streets, Tulelake High School Student Scholars Named

YREKA—County Road Commissioner A. A. Powers told city councilmen last week that he is in favor of bringing city and county streets up to state standards.

He proposed raising the gasoline tax or the "in lieu" tax on automobiles to finance the project.

Powers stated he believes sufficient funds could be accumulated by raising the gasoline tax one cent per gallon.

Councilmen took no action concerning the matter. In other business, they decided to study a proposal to extend fluorescent street lighting from the juncture of Broadway and Main Street to Oberlin Road.

The city will receive its first traffic signal light at the intersection of Miner and Main streets by May or June, councilmen learned from a state communication.

And they learned that Feb. 15 has been set as the date of a hearing of protests concerning zoning of three new additions to the city.

Egypt exported 150,000 tons of grain annually to Rome in the days of the Roman empire.

Bids Set For Road In Tulelake

REDDING — The Division of Highways will open bids in Sacramento on Feb. 23, for constructing 4.3 miles of new two-lane highway in Siskiyou County on the East-West Road between Hill Road and Park Street in Tulelake.

Plans for the improvement of this section of county highway were prepared under the direction of A. A. Powers, Siskiyou County road commissioner and provides for grading a 33-foot roadway and surfacing a 24-foot roadway with asphalt concrete pavement. The new highway will be on alignment approximately the same as the existing roadway.

The project, financed jointly by federal, state, and county funds, was initiated by the Siskiyou County Board of Supervisors and is a part of the state-wide program to bring important county highways up to modern standards. This operation is officially known as the Federal-Aid or FAS program. The East-West Road is designated FAS Route 754.

H. S. Miles, district engineer of the Division of Highways, stated that in conformance with requirements the project is being advertised for construction by the State Division of Highways. A total of $405,500 is available for the project including $208,026 in federal funds, $100,000 in state matching funds and $97,474 in county funds.

Club To Host 40 Students

MONTAGUE — Rotarians from Yreka and Montague are preparing to host more than 40 foreign students from International House on the Berkeley campus of University of California.

The students will arrive Jan. 27 and will be honored during a dinner at Winema Hall at the Siskiyou County Fairgrounds Jan. 28. They will be guests in the homes of Rotarians. They will return to Berkeley Jan. 30.

TOO MANY SCROLLS

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — County supervisors had to postpone a discussion Tuesday of a way of getting more accomplished at their meetings by cutting down on the presentation of honorary scrolls.

The supervisors never got around to the discussion because in addition to their regular work they had to take time to hand out embossed resolutions honoring address Miltz Gaynor, Wayne G. Cookin, state president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles and singer Pat Boone.

Children are much more prone to sleepwalking than are adults, according to the findings of a survey.

Condemned Buildings Are Worry

YREKA—City and county officials are expressing concern over a number of families living in structures in the area that have been condemned.

The city has agreed to cooperate with the county in planning development of the old veterans housing project into low rental units for indigents in the county receiving public assistance.

County Welfare Director W. M. VanOver stated that about 13 families are believed to be living in condemned buildings in the Sugar Bowl area. Others, he said, are believed to be living in homes that may soon be condemned.

Some officials expressed belief that buildings in the veterans housing area may be too worn out to be worth maintaining.

Councilman Harry Friedman said he believes the Sugar Bowl area, if properly cleaned up, might be developed into a good residential area similar to Highland Park.

He and other officials are of the opinion that the matter should receive more study.
