Klamath Falls Man Feeling Fine After Heart Massage Treatment

Fraternities, Sororities Get Ultimatum

PORTLAND (AP) — Oregon College fraternities and sororities were given two years by the state Board of Higher Education Tuesday to end religious and racial discrimination.

The board said that after Jan. 1, 1963, recognition will be taken away from any fraternity or sorority still required by national charter to use such discrimination.

The six state-owned colleges are supervised by the board, which earlier had directed the social groups to begin eliminating discrimination. The board said only a few still have religious or racial restrictions.

Chancellor John R. Richards said future incoming freshmen will be required to take entrance examinations at all but two of the state schools. Those two are Eastern Oregon College and Oregon Tech.

The board made official its action Monday of shelving the University of Oregon proposal to make voluntary the Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

Hawk Scores

WHITE SANDS, N.M. (AP) — The Army Hawk has added another victim to its deadly anti-missile talents.

Tuesday, the Army announced the 17-foot Hawk had found and destroyed its target, the Corporal, as the two missiles streaked through the air at supersonic speeds.

The Hawk previously sought out and destroyed the Army's Little John and Honest John rockets.

What's the best way to mold a genius? No formula has been found. English novelists Charlotte, Emily, and Ann Bronte were left alone. Their mother died young, and their father wasn't a pal—he enjoyed solitude. The children spent their long days in reading and composition. Charlotte, who later wrote "Jane Eyre," had produced 23 "novels" before she was 15.

Argentina Student Now At OTI

Carlos Norberto Soberdo of Buenos Aires, Argentina, was enrolled for the spring semester in electronics technology curriculum at Oregon Technical Institute recently. His wife, Bettina, is registered in secretarial technology curriculum.

"We sent for a number of catalogues from colleges in the U.S. and from them chose OTI," Mrs. Soberdo stated.

Soberdo spent five years in high school, a year in a military school and three years in the University of Dentistry in Buenos Aires before coming to OTI.

"Electronics is a new science in my country," he said. "After graduation, I expect to go back to promote work in the field."

His mother in Buenos Aires has a dress shop. She imports exclusive apparel from Paris. Mrs. Soberdo's father is in the vicuña business. Vicuña is an animal found only in South America. Its pelt fibers make a most expensive wool used in clothing manufacture.

He imports the fiber from Bolivia and exports it to other nations.

Soberdo makes this prediction: "In 10 years, Argentina will not be the best country, but it will be a good country." He speaks of a grim political picture that he is certain will soon be resolved.

The couple flew from their home to Montevideo, Uruguay, to be married. They left by ship for New York Nov. 15, where they remained a month with her uncle prior to coming west.

Murder Case Is Delayed

PORTLAND (AP) — Arraignment of a 33-year-old woman on a second murder indictment stemming from a house fire that killed three of her young daughters and their governess was postponed Tuesday until Friday.

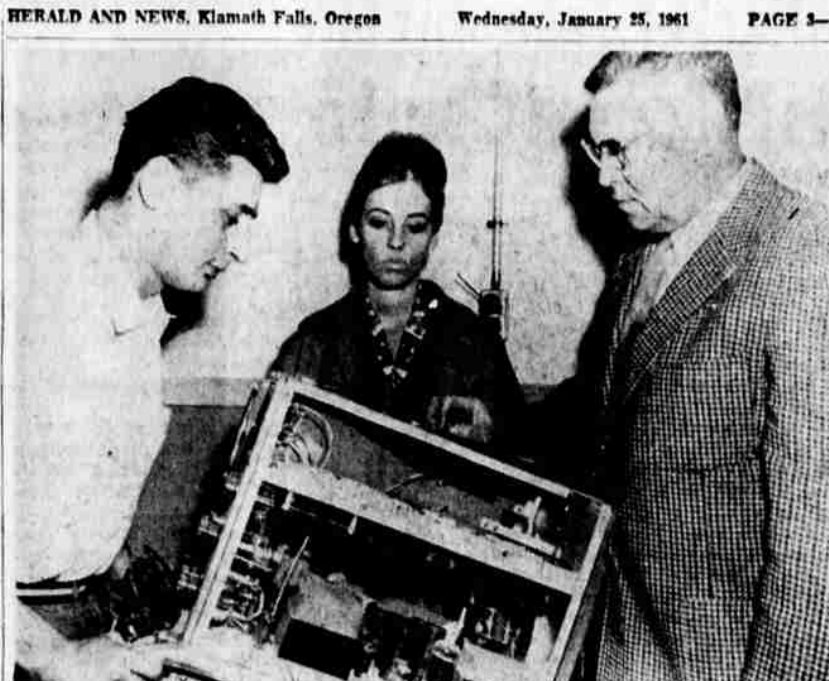

Mrs. Joseph L. Garrett was a freed last week on a directed verdict of acquittal on the first murder charge involving the death of her daughter, Gaye, 5 months.

Another indictment, returned the day afterward, accuses her in the death of another daughter, Angela, 3.

Her attorneys have moved that the indictment be dismissed on grounds that it constitutes double jeopardy. A judge told the defense that this argument could be presented at the arraignment.

Mrs. Garrett is a former Dallas, Tex., socialite.

Seek Identity Of Shattered Body

ASTORIA, Ore. (AP) — Officials tried to determine Wednesday whether the blast-shattered body of a man in the woods east of here was that of a sailor who disappeared two months ago.

An identification card found at the scene had the name of the missing man, Engineerman 2.C. Wayne A. Budde, 26, Olympia, Wash.

Budde disappeared Nov. 27 from the Tongue Point Naval Station here, where he had been stationed.

Budde disappeared the weekend that Beverly Ann Allan, 19, Port Townsend, Wash., and her boyfriend, Larry Ralph Peyton, 19, Portland, were killed. Peyton's body was found near Portland. Miss Allan's 40 miles west of Portland.

There was nothing to connect Budde with the crime, but the coincidence of his disappearance led police to seek him.

His division commanding officer was the last person known to have seen Budde. He gave Budde a ride to a point about 10 miles east of the naval station. Budde told him he was going to join friends in hunting ducks.

The body was found on a side road near that point.

Residents of the area said they remembered an unexplained explosion on that day.

Speaker Urges Study Of Election Change

SALEM (AP) — House Speaker Robert Duncan, D-Medford, Tuesday urged an investigation of the possibility of changing the date for Oregon's primary election from May to September.

The action was suggested by Duncan in a letter to Chairman George Annals of the House Elections and Reapportionment Committee.

Duncan said this would eliminate the possibility of Oregon having a presidential primary unless the dates for national political conventions also were changed.

The six-month interval between the primary and the general election makes the political campaigns unnecessarily long, he said.

"This imposes a terrific burden upon the candidates, intellectually, physically and financially," he said.

"I think likewise that the public becomes weary of an extended campaign, and that in these days of modern mass communication the issues can be fully developed in a much shorter period...."

Duncan said that the disadvantages of eliminating the presidential primary might be offset by the advantages of the shorter campaign.

He said that delegates to national conventions could be selected through political party conventions or through the state central committees.
