KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON Sunday, January 29, 1961

DESPITE the moderate winter temperatures in Klamath Falls, skiers have found Geronimo, Ugh and Paleface runs at Tomahawk Bowl sufficiently snow-covered for many weekends of the popular sport.

AT RIGHT, Rex Hiatt adjusts bindings for his daughter, Robin. Looking on is Mrs. Hiatt, center, and Linda Hiatt, right.

ALL SET for some fun in the snow are Mrs. James R. Erwin, her son, Michael, and her daughter, Margit.
