Rumor Claims 49ers May Swap Tittle

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—There's talk that the San Francisco Forty Niners may trade quarterback Y. A. Tittle to the Los Angeles Rams and the "Bald Eagle" isn't sure whether he would go for it.

"I just don't know what I'd do if I were traded," the 34-year-old Louisianan drawled today. "I've been away on vacation and just began reading in the papers about how I might figure in a deal. I just haven't taken much time to decide what I'd do, although I think I have another season left in me. I take 'em one at a time now."

Tittle, who is in the insurance business, added that he is confronted with "loads of paperwork" which makes it even harder at the moment for him to pay much attention to football.

Local sportswriters are speculating that Tittle's name will be tossed into the "out" tray along with linebacker Ed Henke, end Clyde Conner and lineman Bruce Bosley.

'King' Is Gone

Hugh McElhenny is long gone, having been drafted by the Minnesota Vikings last week along with two other Forty Niners whom the club put onto the National League's available list to beef up the new franchise.

McElhenny indicated that he was little used in the backfield last season because of a "personality clash." He wouldn't elaborate but the typewriter-whackers think it indicates a falling out with coach Red Hickey.

Henke, in letters written to two local papers, came right out and said that he wanted to be traded.

"I have been very unhappy the past two seasons and desire to finish out my playing career under different circumstances," penned the veteran linebacker.

Bosley, who was on the verge of quitting the club two years ago to run a muscle emporium, and Conner also have indicated they would not oppose being traded.

Owner Backs Coach

Vic Morabito, president of the Forty Niners, blasted the malcontents on Monday saying, "I strongly resent what I know is an unjust reflection on Hickey's ability as a coach."

Hickey, a tough-minded fundamentalist who recently signed a three-year contract with the club when his old one still had a season to go, has said that he expects a good 1961 campaign even if there is some discontent among certain players.

The Vikings plucked McElhenny, center Karl Rubke and linebacker Clancy Osborne from a list of eight men which the club made available. The other five remain a secret. Just as much a secret now as what Tittle would do if told to play elsewhere.

EOC Gunner Causes Woe For Ex-Boss

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If Portland State basketball coach Sharkey Nelson had never heard of a fellow by the name of Larry Applegate, he would be perfectly content. He also probably would be in first place in the Oregon Collegiate Conference.

Unfortunately for Nelson and his Vikings, they are extremely familiar with Mr. Applegate. Because of him, they have dropped into a tie for the runnerup position in the OCC.

It was only a couple years ago that Applegate was a student and basketball player at PSC. He decided to transfer to Eastern Oregon College for the remainder of his schooling.

Last Friday and Saturday nights at La Grande, Applegate gave his former coach and teammates a hoop lesson they will not soon forget. On Friday he scored 28 points to lead the underdog Mountaineers to a 71-56 victory over the Viks.

He came back with 28 more on Saturday — four of them in the overtime period — to pace a second EOC win, 64-57, over the Portlanders.

The two triumphs put coach Bob Quinn's EOC team (6-2) a full game ahead of PSC (5-3) in the fight for the OCC title. They also brought the amazing Mountaineers' winning streak to eight games.

EOC won only four of its first 11 and stands 12-7 for the year.

PSC still is very much in the running, since it has two more clashes with EOC set for later in the season in Portland. But the Viks must figure out some way to slow up Applegate, a 6-foot junior from Pendleton, if they are to get back on top.

EOC, which played a non-counter with Whitman Tuesday night at Walla Walla, will be at home for a pair of contests with Southern Oregon. Oregon Tech (also 5-3 in the OCC) will battle it out with Portland State for second place in a pair of games in Portland.

KF Gunners Slate Shoot

The Klamath Gun Club has invited "all comers" to participate in a new shoot planned to begin this Sunday on the Wocus grounds.

An engraved leather shell case and 100 rounds of ammunition will become the property of the first shooter to win three legs during the special competition which will be held on the first Sunday of each month.

The high total combining both the 16-yard and handicap scores will win a leg on the prize. Upon winning a leg the shooter will move back one yard for his next try.

Last week Dave Robinson broke 47 of 50 targets to gain a leg on the Howard Pernell trophy and is expected to compete in Las Vegas this weekend. Dr. J. M. Adams and Tim Hess each shot a perfect 50-50 for top honors in the 16-yard event.

'Rasslers' Get Okay From Group

Professional wrestling will return to Klamath Falls in the near future it was reported today after the appointment of Tex Hager, Carson City, Nev., as the local promoter by the Klamath Falls Boxing Commission on Tuesday.

Hager, a one-time pro wrestling star who has appeared in Klamath Falls shows in the past, is currently arranging a circuit which will include Las Vegas, Reno, Klamath Falls and other western cities. Successful as a promoter of both boxing and wrestling since his retirement from actual competition, Hager has arranged for top talent to perform on his shows.

His present plans include weekly programs in Klamath Falls, the first expected to be held Tuesday, Feb. 21, in the Klamath Auditorium.

Hager's appointment was made at a meeting of the local commission with Mayor Bob Veatch Tuesday. The commission is composed of Walter Thompson, Walt Wiesendanger, Dick Gallagher, Dr. Robert L. Mueller and Wayne Scott, with Veatch serving as an ex-officio member. Gallagher and Scott are new appointees to the commission, effective when Veatch took office as mayor.

Other business concluded at the session was the decision to terminate the services of Sonny Enders, Madras, as local promoter, and the selection of Thompson, who is starting his 17th year as a member of the KF commission, to continue as chairman and the appointment of Scott as secretary.

Thunderbirds Win 2 On Road

WALLA WALLA (Special)—The Chiloquin Thunderbirds scored a pair of basketball victories on a weekend jaunt to Washington.

Led by Chuck Ruff, who garnered 24 points, the T-Birds earned an 82-72 win over the Washington Panthers at Granger and then moved on to Walla Walla where they tangled with the State Prison Apaches.

They tripped the Prison five 90-84 behind the leadership of Jackey Barney who scored 30 points.

Wid Matthews hopes to scout every major league team this season for the Metropolitan Baseball Club, New York's new 1962 National League team.

Big Names, Leading Pros Open Classic

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Golf's play for pay swingers, enticed by a $50,000 hole-in-one jackpot, tee off today in the second annual $100,000-added Palm Springs Golf Classic.

Some 128 pros, along with such famous amateurs as Bing Crosby and Bob Hope, begin the first round of a 90-hole event that lasts five days over as many courses.

Professionals all will be sharpshooting at par three holes. A hole-in-one is worth $50,000 to the lucky clubber.

Last year Joe Campbell of Knoxville, Tenn., scored the only ace. The stocky pro was cut up in so many pieces that he only netted $12,500 for himself.

The touring pros often make pretourney deals to split up prize money with their fellow golfers. Campbell is back again, as is Arnold Palmer, who won the tournament in 1960.
