Mrs. Roberta Frazier, OSC family life specialist, and Anthony Grandenthaler, Oregon 4-H Club Foundation trustee, were principal speakers.

Tiny Dog Goes Mad, Chases Owners Away

A little Pekingese dog was under observation at the Klamath County Pound Friday after he forced his owners out of their house. The dog was a pet of the Darrell Golliber family, who live at 920 North Fourth Street. After receiving a report of a mad dog Thursday, city police went to the Golliber house. Officers found the family outside the house. They looked inside and saw the dog on a couch. He looked normal so one of the officers went in and picked him up. The Pekingese then "went into a fit and foamed at the mouth." Golliber said the pet had "been acting strangely." The dog was placed in the pound for a 10-day observation period to determine if he is "mad."

EARL COKE

Growers Schedule Banquet

TULELAKE — J. Earl Coke, vice president and agricultural representative of the Bank of America, will speak at the annual ladies' night banquet of the Tulelake Growers Association. In announcing plans for the event, Cliff Jenkins, association manager, said the luncheon will be served in the home economics building of the Tulelake-Butte Valley Fairgrounds Tuesday, Feb. 14, by the Relief Society of the Tulelake Latter Day Saint Church. Sam Wynn, retiring association president, will serve as master of ceremonies. The speaker, one of the senior executives, is closely identified with the bank's farm loan program encompassing every phase of California's vast agribusiness industry. In his position he is responsible for the bank's relationship with farmers, ranchers and private cooperative agencies engaged in growing, processing, handling and marketing agricultural products. Coke served in 1953-1954 as assistant secretary of agriculture and director of the Commodity Credit Corporation. He is a native of California and began his agricultural career as a farm adviser. Reservations for the dinner should be in by Feb. 7 and may be had from members of the association board of directors, past presidents or at the growers' office.

City Firemen Answer 345 Alarms During Past Year

City firemen answered 345 alarms in and out of the city during 1960, but held fire losses to a total of $42,402. Of the total number of alarms, 11 were outside the city and seven were false alarms.

Newly-Elected Church Officers

Newly-elected officers of Peace Memorial Presbyterian Church will be ordained and installed today at the 11 a.m. worship service. Wives and husbands together with retiring officers were honored at an all-church dinner, Feb. 2. Members of the session are Maurice Athey, John McClellan, Vesta Shogren, Lloyd Warner, Roy Buckingham, Jack Wynant. Deacons are Gladys Metler, Ruth Schaeffer and Gene McCurdy. Trustees are George Price, Jack Neipp, John Baker, Margaret Sheridan, financial secretary, and Robert Davies, treasurer. Presbyterians will sponsor a spaghetti dinner at the church, Saturday, Feb. 11, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. This money-making project is one of others for the year including sending delegates to the regional meeting at Sacramento, providing lessons for some members of the Hand-bell Choir, and financing various work projects around the church during the coming months.

Klamath Falls Man Receives Kennedy Letter

Noel Caillolette, 621 Roseway Drive, a Southern Pacific conductor, is the proud possessor of a letter from President John F. Kennedy, written just before he became President. The letter is in answer to one of congratulations written to Senator Kennedy upon his election to the presidency. The letter, written on United States Senate stationery, was over Kennedy's signature and said: "I thank you for the very friendly message you sent me after my election to the presidency. 'I am most heartened by the many expressions of good will which I have received. I am sure that they reflect a broad unity of purpose in our nation. 'I hope that my record during the next four years will sustain your generous confidence. With every good wish, I am, sincerely, —John F. Kennedy."

Former Klamath Resident Dies

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Molschenbacher, 203 Walnut Avenue, of the death of a longtime friend and former resident of Klamath Falls, Mrs. Jessie Salsicky. Mrs. Salsicky, 87, died in a rest home at Lancaster, Calif. Her home had been in Burbank for many years. She was one of Klamath Falls' pioneers. Her husband Francis (Frank) Salsicky operated a harness business in Klamath Falls, located at the corner of Seventh Street and Klamath Avenue. He died several years ago. She was buried in Lancaster.

HOW'S THAT? LONDON (UPI) — A London art gallery today ran this note on a forthcoming exhibition by a painter named Turcato: "He projects himself from identifying quality with individuality. Individuality is one, and one... is undoubtedly the nearest point to quality, but in fact it is only the beginning (as the infinite is the end) of the series of qualities."

THE "GOOD OLD DAYS" VS. TODAY'S PRESCRIPTION PRICE

In the old days, when you were hit with a serious illness, you might spend only a dollar for a prescription... but you were likely in bed for three costly weeks, had six visits from the doctor, lost a month's wages, took a whole assortment of other medicines, too. Was that cheap? Today, thanks to new drug discoveries, you need perhaps one visit from the doctor, fever's down in hours, you're out of bed in a couple of days, back on the job in a week. Today's prescription costs you more, yes... and isn't it a bargain!

KF Man To Give Recital

A Klamath Falls man, Robert H. Enman, preparing for a career in music, will present a recital for his master's degree on Feb. 9 at Yale University Conservatory of Music. Enman, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Enman of Merrill Highway, will be graduated in June. He previously has graduated cum laude from Lewis and Clark College in Portland and has three years at Yale. He is a graduate of Henley High School. The talented student who has had enthusiastic reviews during his preparation years was the recipient of a $750 tuition scholarship from Yale for his final year of study.

Kathleen Wood Award Winner

Kathleen Agnes Wood, a senior at Sacred Heart Academy, was named winner this year of the Betty Crocker Homemaking of Tomorrow Award from her school. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guilford Wood, 822 Roosevelt Street. She has attended SHA for 10 years. Miss Wood scored highest in a written examination of homemaking knowledge. Testimony by her classmates also contributed to her score. She thus becomes a candidate for the state Homemaking of Tomorrow Award. The winner will be announced in March. The girl named the state's best homemakinger will receive a $1,500 scholarship and the second-place winner will receive a $500 scholarship. In national competition, the prizes are $5,000, $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships respectively.
