

Club Plans Box Social

FORT JONES—A meeting of the Fort Jones Federated Women's Club last week was conducted by the vice president, Mrs. W. Pindell, in the absence of the president, Mrs. Michael Cross.

The chaplain, Mrs. Frank Barrett, gave the devotional. Mrs. Lauren Paine, chairman, named her committee for the box social: Mrs. Ernest Smith, Mrs. Dennis Mulloy, Mrs. Roy Mason and Mrs. John Ball. The orchestra has been engaged for the affair to be held at the Civic Center Building starting at 6:30 p.m. on February 11. The women are asked to bring decorated boxes containing supper for two. The bidding will start at 7 p.m. with an auctioneer presiding.

Mrs. Frank Branson was appointed to represent the club on the Community Service Council for the coming year. She will replace Mrs. James Stanton who has served as president of the organization for the past two years. Information on the pattern contest was given by Mrs. Ernest Smith, who urged members to have to be bleached, for blonde rinses won't work on dark hair.

BRUNETTE VS. BLONDE

If you're contemplating changing your dark brown hair to blonde, be sure you're prepared to spend a good deal of time and money. You'll need frequent touch-ups to keep it looking the way you want it. And it will have to be bleached, for blonde rinses won't work on dark hair.

Cora Powers Heads Group

DUNSMUIR—Cora Powers was installed as president of the Women's Benefit Association, Review No. 25, at ceremonies at the Masonic Temple on Wednesday, Jan. 11.

Amanda Cook, installing officer, was assisted by Stella McIntyre, chaplain; Mary Lou Tausch and Marguerite Russel, installing ladies of ceremonies. Florence Johnson opened the meeting. Officers were escorted by Gladys Cresson, captain of the guard, and the drill team.

Other new officers are Ellen Kafer, past president; Beryl Hoogbein, vice president; Helen Hanratty, recording secretary and press correspondent; Amanda Cook financial secretary; Carol McMillan, lady of ceremonies; Irene McCann, treasurer; Wanda Young, officer of the day; Beulah White, sergeant; Phyllis Ingersoll, inner hostess; Doris Geiger, musician and auditor; Eloise Stanley, outer hostess; Gladys Cresson, captain of the guard; Beta Langrehy, color bearer No. 1; Mable Elliott, color bearer No. 2; Mable Naves, fraternal welfare chairman.

Jeanne Kister of Oakland, an honored visitor and state field director, presented the retiring president with a gift. Mrs. Kister also announced a WBA rally in Reno on May 5 and 6 and the state meeting in Oakland in October. Red roses were presented to Mrs. Powers by Isabel Haines. Refreshments and cards concluded the evening.

PROSPERITY REBEKAHS INDUCT NEW OFFICERS

Installation ceremonies were held by Prosperity Rebekah Lodge No. 104 at the IOOF Hall on Saturday evening, Jan. 14. The lodge hall was decorated with silver baskets of yellow roses and purple pansies, lighted emblems and murals of pansies and doves, displaying the new noble grand's colors of purple, green and silver.

The opening was conducted by retiring noble grand, Helen Blanas, who was presented her jewel and rank of past noble grand by Velma Krause, district deputy.

Installation was opened by the candlelighters, Donna Lou Graham and Judy Hall, with music by a chorus of Theta Theta Rho Girls Club No. 8, under leadership of Donna Odell, associate adviser.

Installing officers who performed the ceremony were: Velma Krause, district deputy president and her deputies, Harriet Estes, marshal; Helen McCornack, warden; Vera Fritsch, recording secretary; Sadie Wallace, financial secretary; Frances Munsell, treasurer; Irene Rickman, chaplain; Lina Motschenbacher, guardian; and Margaret Biden, musician.

The following 1961 officers were installed: Olive Hanna, noble grand; Genevieve Pierce, vice grand; Ruth Lawrence, conductor; Naomi Faye, warden; Helen McCornack, musician; Christine Thomason, flag bearer; Charlotte Anderson, recording secretary; Donna Odell, financial secretary; Kathleen Hepburn, financial secretary; Retha Kirby, chaplain; Pansy Jackson, inside guardian; Cora Swanson, outside guardian; May Phinney, R. S. to N. G.; Delphine Berglogg, L. S. to N. G.; Velma Krause, R. S. to V. G.; Nina Hall, gift from Theta Rho Girls No. 8, and Helen Blanas a gift of an orchid from Ninon Nyback. Past noble grand Helen Blanas was honored by presentations from Kathleen Hepburn, president of Social Club, and Margaret Biden, president of Past Noble Grands Club.

A reception followed the ceremonies. The dining hall was attractive with floral and silver arrangements, pansies and music notes about the walls, the serving table portraying Rebekah at the well, flowers and doves. Decorations were in charge of Helen Blanas for the reception and Velma Krause for the lodge hall. Edith Barleen and committee were in charge of refreshments, with guest book and hospitality by Ethel and Carl Youngren.

Entertainment on the program was a piano solo by Lynette Angel with songs by Theta Theta Rho girls. Honored guests introduced were Herbert Munsell, department commander of Patriarchs Militant of Oregon; Frances Munsell, association president of Ladies Auxiliaries Patriarchs Militant; and her officers, Iona May Wells, L. A. to P. N. G.; Deola Wryn and Loetta Schortgen, altar bearers; Helen Blanas, junior P. N. G.; and Harriet Estes, drill captain.

Presentations of a bouquet of roses and a gavel were made by Paul Hanna, husband of the noble grand, and a family friend, Dulcie Motley. Gifts were also presented by the children of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Carter, Vickie, Mindy and Bonnie, attired in bunny costumes. Edgar Hoffman honored the noble grand with flowers from the Odd Fellows Lodge; Vera Fritsch presented a gift for Prosperity Rebekah Lodge; Duanna Salvestrin, Krause, R. S. to V. G.; Nina Hall, gift from Theta Rho Girls No. 8, and Helen Blanas a gift of an orchid from Ninon Nyback. Past noble grand Helen Blanas was honored by presentations from Kathleen Hepburn, president of Social Club, and Margaret Biden, president of Past Noble Grands Club.

A report of candidates for new officers to be elected in February was read by the nominating committee. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. John Burch, Mrs. Albert Parrot and Mrs. S. A. Messner.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY MERRILL—Denise Hill was 4 years old on Jan. 28. Helping her celebrate the day were Louann, Tommy and Diane Reeves, and her sister and brother, Doreen and Billy.

We The Women
 Girls: Don't Let Men In
 On 'Clinging Vine' Routine

Ruth Millett
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

There's a disturbing (disturbing to women, that is) article in the December issue of a national magazine. Called "How to Be a Happy Failure" it's the author's theory that the way to get out of work is to be a bungler—one of those helpless souls who is willing to do anything but always manages to bungle the job, thereby making sure he is never asked to do it again.

The fact is that women have been using this technique for ever so long—only with women it is called being a "clinging vine."

Women have made a good thing of this clinging vine racket and that is why it's alarming to think that men are catching on to the technique and just might "take it over."

A clinging vine has to have a sturdy oak to lean on. She can't cling to a bungler who never does anything quite right.

It's certainly easier for a woman to say "I can't add two and two without using my fingers" than to keep the check book straight, pay the bills, and make out the yearly income tax. But in order to get by with this pretense she has to have a husband who can add two and two.

It's also easier for a woman to let her husband make all major decisions than to worry about them, herself. But if she is going to defer to his superior judgment, she has to be willing to exercise it.

So let's hope that not many husbands got around to reading "How to Be a Happy Failure." It just might give 'em ideas—the kind of ideas that have made life easy for any woman smart enough to be a clinging vine.

After all, it would be just as easy for a husband to be a bungler as for a wife to be a learner. But since there can only be one of each to a family—let's hope the men don't catch on to the fact that a husband can be a bungler with as little effort as a wife can be a clinging vine.

DAR Names Delegates
 YREKA—At the January luncheon meeting of the Siskiyou Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. Alfred Crebbin and state chairman, Mrs. Albert Parrot, both of Yreka, were chosen as delegates to the DAR state conference to be held in Berkeley, starting Feb. 27. Several alternates were also named.

Atlanta Adams, regent, president; Mrs. William Ensele, chaplain, led the group in prayer, followed by the reading of the president's message by vice regent, Mrs. Rosamond Westover.

A report of candidates for new officers to be elected in February was read by the nominating committee. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. John Burch, Mrs. Albert Parrot and Mrs. S. A. Messner.
