

Fortuneteller Gets No Credit

By ANN LANDERS
Dear Ann Landers: A friend who is intelligent about most things has a weakness for fortunetellers. Last Wednesday she told me that Friday was destined to be her unlucky day, according to the fortuneteller, so she was going to stay home and avoid all danger. She canceled a long-standing luncheon date and I had to invite someone on short notice. Saturday morning this friend phoned from the hospital. When she was getting out of the bathtub Friday night she slipped and broke her arm. In your opinion does this prove that the fortuneteller was right or wrong?—RUBY

Dear Ruby: This proves nothing except perhaps your friend should buy a rubber non-skid bath mat and have a handrail installed in her bathroom just above the tub.

Dear Ann Landers: Nine years ago my husband's brother died. He took over his brother's business which was then struggling and in debt. The widow was to remain a 50 per cent partner. My husband built the business into a successful enterprise. The widow remarried (a jerk) who has a fair job, but nothing to crow about. He's forever poking his nose into the business saying he wants to "protect his wife's interest." My husband has told him repeatedly that she doesn't need any protection but he doesn't take the hint. The widow has drawn over $100,000 out of the business and my husband has done all the sweating. Do you think this is fair? He's getting ulcers from the jerk besides. Please tell us if there is anything we can do to break up this partnership.—GRIPED

Dear Griped: The first thing your husband should do is hire an attorney. No move should be made without appropriate legal guidance. He has at least two good alternatives. He can have the attorney draw up a "you buy me or I'll buy you" agreement or he can effect a dissolution of the business and start again on his own. No one can be forced to remain in business with a partner he doesn't want.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a college student with a question too ridiculous to discuss with friends or acquaintances. Is it possible to outgrow the thrill of a kiss?

When I started dating, a certain fellow (I'll call him Dwayne) was my star crush. He's the first boy who ever kissed me romantically. I got a tingle even now, seven years later, when I think of him. His kisses used to ship me right out of this hemisphere.

Dwayne went the way of all first crushes but no fellow has been able to thrill me with his kisses the way he did. Is it because I really loved him? Am I more mature now? Haven't I found the right guy? Or am I just immune?—THE THRILL IS GONE

Dear Gone: I can't tell if you're immune because I don't know what kind of inoculation you've had. If you've kissed a long list of fellows since Dwayne it could be that a kiss no longer has meaning.

You may be more mature but maturity does not diminish the thrill of a kiss. It may be that you haven't met the right one, but chances are that no one will be able to replace Dwayne's special brand of kisses since he was the first.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Dear Ann Landers: I have a question too ridiculous to discuss with friends or acquaintances. Is it possible to outgrow the thrill of a kiss?

When I started dating, a certain fellow (I'll call him Dwayne) was my star crush. He's the first boy who ever kissed me romantically. I got a tingle even now, seven years later, when I think of him. His kisses used to ship me right out of this hemisphere.

Dwayne went the way of all first crushes but no fellow has been able to thrill me with his kisses the way he did. Is it because I really loved him? Am I more mature now? Haven't I found the right guy? Or am I just immune?—THE THRILL IS GONE

Dear Gone: I can't tell if you're immune because I don't know what kind of inoculation you've had. If you've kissed a long list of fellows since Dwayne it could be that a kiss no longer has meaning.

You may be more mature but maturity does not diminish the thrill of a kiss. It may be that you haven't met the right one, but chances are that no one will be able to replace Dwayne's special brand of kisses since he was the first.

Marilyn Enters Hospital For Unnamed Ills

NEW YORK (AP)—Screen star Marilyn Monroe is under treatment for "an illness of undetermined origin," a New York hospital said Wednesday night.

A hospital spokesman added that the blonde beauty's condition is satisfactory. He said she entered last Sunday but would give no details.

Miss Monroe divorced playwright Arthur Miller in Mexico two weeks ago. Neither was present when the decree was handed down on grounds of "incompatibility of character." They were married four years.

Last September the film star, while making her latest picture, "The Misfits," bowed out for a week to be treated at Hollywood Hospital. According to her doctor, she was suffering from exhaustion.

The New York Daily News said that Miss Monroe has been a patient for the past two months at the hospital's Payne Whitney Psychiatric Clinic—a part of New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center.

The News also said her doctor reported she is making good progress from what the News describes as a "near collapse" that followed her breakup with Miller.

The newspaper said the actress has been seen around town from time to time because she has the privilege of periodically leaving the hospital on a pass.

Bill Sets Fine
SALEM (AP)—The House Highway Committee introduced a bill Wednesday to levy a $20 fine for persons who try to cross toll bridges without paying the toll. The penalty also would apply to use of counterfeit coins to pay the toll.

Employers Ask State Legislature To Set Up Union Election System

SALEM (AP)—Employers' representatives urged Wednesday that the legislature set up an elections system to let workers decide which, if any, union should represent them.

The Oregon AFL-CIO said that it considered the proposal unnecessary, but that it would go along with the proposal.

The hearing, before the Senate State and Federal Affairs Committee, gave a hint of a coming bitter clash between labor and management over a companion bill to provide enforcement against unfair labor and management practices.

The elections bill provides that employers, unions or employees could obtain state-conducted elections to determine bargaining agents. The other bill sets up a list of unfair practices.

Solon Proposes State Use Idle Funds To Reimburse

SALEM (AP)—State Sen. Vernon Cook, D-Gresham, proposed Wednesday idle state funds be used to reimburse local government for funds they would not get if the homes of elderly citizens were exempt from property taxes.

Cook told a joint House and Senate Taxation Committee hearing the funds could be regained by collecting the taxes on the homes when the elderly persons die.

This would apply to the method of property taxation on the homes of elderly citizens known as deferral.

Local government representatives opposed both the bills—one for deferral of the taxes on the homes of elderly persons and the other for an outright exemption for the homes of the elderly persons.

Hugh McKinley, Eugene city manager and a director of the League of Oregon Cities, said if Cook's idea were adopted deferral might be all right.

"The measures would further cut into an already eroded tax base," McKinley said. "We believe there should be some other approach to the social problem you're trying to solve with these bills."

Ken Tollenaar of Salem, executive secretary of the Association of Oregon Counties, said the bills would cause hardship to those taxpayers who do not get the exemption.

Three Bills Would Allow Land Leases

SALEM (AP)—Rep. Richard Eymann, D-Mohawk, and Rep. Clinton Haight Jr., D-Baker, Wednesday introduced three bills to permit the leasing of Oregon's tidelands.

They said the legislation was prompted by Gov. Mark O. Hatfield earlier this year for possible leasing of Oregon's tidelands for exploration for oil.

The bills would give the state Land Board exclusive jurisdiction over all state submerged land. They also would permit geological and geophysical surveys by anyone who complies with standards established by the Department of Geology and Mineral Industry.

If oil or other minerals are found, the Land Board would have the authority to lease the area for development provided it would not be detrimental to other beach use and adjacent residential areas.

The Land Board would set the acreage limitation of the lease and establish the rent and royalties.

The Land Board would be required to determine if the lease would interfere with shoreline recreational or residential areas in a way that would render them unfit for those uses, to insure that the lease would not destroy the scenic value of the area and that it would not create any fire, smoke, smog or dust hazard.

The Land Board also would be required to include additional protective provisions to prevent pollution and contamination of the ocean and tidelands and interference with bathing, fishing and navigation.

Voting Age

SALEM (AP)—The House Elections Committee Wednesday heard support for a measure to reduce the minimum voting age from 21 years to 18. It ordered a further hearing to get testimony from students under 21.

Sen. Monroe Sweetland, D-Milwaukie, told the committee that putting the measure on the next general election ballot would give young people a greater interest in politics.

He said young people now have responsibilities that entitle them to vote. He said that many persons under 21 are heads of families and own property.

Five states, he said, now have voting minimums under 21. They are Georgia, South Carolina, Kentucky, Alaska and Hawaii.

James D. McDonald, president of the Oregon AFL-CIO, said his organization has supported it for many years.

Hospital Bill

SALEM (AP)—Rep. Sidney Bazzett, R-Grants Pass, Wednesday introduced a bill that would require the registration of hospital administrators and create an examining board to pass on their qualifications.

"Doctors, nurses, lab technicians, X-ray technicians and nursing home supervisors are licensed but those in charge of multi-million dollar plants are not required to show proficiency in their field," Bazzett said.

"At present, there are too few qualified administrators in Oregon and it is a known fact that a good administrator can save his salary many times each year," Bazzett said registration would give greater protection to patients, promote better relations in all areas and would tend to make hospital charges more realistic by relating them to actual costs.

Gas Firm Buys Portland Plant

PORTLAND (AP)—Purchase of the Nicolai-Neppach Co. wood-working plant in the northwest Portland industrial area was announced Wednesday by the Northwest Natural Gas Co. The price was not disclosed.

The tract, which includes a block square building, is located adjacent to other gas company properties. The company reported that it needed more property for when it moves its headquarters from the Public Service Building later this year.

An official of Nicolai-Neppach said the gas company will not take over the plant until November. Until then, he said, the firm will continue its woodworking business.

Nicolai-Neppach has a normal working force of about 65 persons.

Top Scholars Are Named

First scholastic honors for Sacred Heart Academy elementary school students went recently to eighth graders—Karen Van Griethuysen, Paula Andrieu, Kathleen Weaver, Carol Moty and John Jendzejewski; seventh graders—Mary Beth Moty, Jeanne Schiff, Maureen Hurley, David Conlin, Michael O'Connor, Patrick Colohan and William Holtford.

Sixth graders—Michael Holford; fifth graders—Sandra Jones, Ann Bailey, Virginia Falkowski, Alta Colohan, Judy O'Connor; fourth graders—Donna Smith and Kathleen McGregor; third graders—Matthew Cavanaugh, Pamela Freed, Margaret Steinbeck and Carmen Yasana, and second graders—Christine Johnston, Edward Maloney and Margaret Perly.

Second honors went to the following youngsters in the following grades:

Christine Harrison, eighth; Phyllis Sobota, seventh; Pamela Ferguson, Mary Rice and Lucille Schiff, sixth; Stephen Bellotti, Patrick Creedican, Pamela Doveri, Kathleen Fitzgerald, Sharon Freed, Rosemary Novak, James O'Connor and Michael Schooler, fourth; Joan Bair, Holly Broderick, Colleen Cavanaugh, Mary Harral, Joan Kocbevar and Linda Moore, third; Wade Johnson and Frank Sanko, second, and Nancy Barhal, Kathryn Cavanaugh, Ronald Brown, Steven Amsterry and Maria Mickelsen, first.

Caroline Gets First Peek At White House Party

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three-year-old Caroline Kennedy was fascinated by the scarlet-coated Marine Corps Band Wednesday night as she watched her parents give a big party at the White House.

The President's daughter sat on the stairs to listen and watch. And for a while, she was in full view of the gathering of Washington's diplomatic corps as she stood with her nurse in the main corridor.

It was Beauty and Mrs. Kennedy's second major social event in the White House—a 5 to 7 p.m. diplomatic reception. But it was Caroline's first glimpse of a party in the huge home she has lived in for just five days. She obviously loved it.

And Mrs. Kennedy explained she'd rather have her daughter see the historic event first hand, "than tell her about it afterwards."

Caroline watched her father get the exciting musical honors—ruffles and flourishes and a rendition of "Hail to the Chief" as he made his entrance. And later she got a special song—"Old MacDonald had a farm."

The appearance of the President's little daughter in her white organ party dress was just one of the warm, unexpected touches that greeted the foreign visitors.

The President and his wife, after shaking hands with 240 top diplomats and their wives, spent another 50 minutes chatting and visiting in the huge State Dining Room, where waiters served champagne and a buffet table was laden with canapes, sandwiches and pastries.

Mrs. Kennedy, in a pink brocade dress and jacket, spoke fluent French to many of the guests.

Presidents in recent years have spent only 10 to 15 minutes mingling at such affairs, White House aides observed.

Fires burned in the fireplaces, and though two in the East Room got smoky, they were a welcome sight on the snowy Washington evening.

For the first time, gilt candleabra from the famous $100,000 Margaret Biddle gift collection were displayed with lighted candles on side tables.

There were lovely floral arrangements, including white orchids, carnations, African daisies and poppies.

Vice President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson and Secretary of State and Mrs. Dean Rusk joined the Kennedys in the receiving line in the Blue Room.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and his wife formed a secondary team of greeters in the State Dining Room with other cabinet officers. The attorney general is the President's brother.

Mrs. Kennedy had some of the famous White House paintings rehung and the appearance of the full-length portrait of Mrs. Calvin Coolidge in a red velvet dress was a spectacular addition to the historic Red Room. Except for Martha Washington's famous painting in the East Room, no first ladies' portraits had been hanging in the formal state rooms.

The famous portrait of Abraham Lincoln by G.P.A. Healy was returned to a place over the dining room mantel.

Experimenting On Brass Mines

CORVALLIS (AP)—Robert E. Meredith of the Oregon State College chemical engineering department is experimenting to determine if Oregon has brass mines.

Brass is an alloy of copper and zinc. Meredith said that Oregon has a number of mineral deposits containing both these metals. He said it would not be economic to extract either one separately with normal refining processes. So he is trying to extract them together with a special electro-chemical process.

The research is being done in cooperation with the state Department of Planning and Development.

George Brown, state AFL-CIO lobbyist, said the elections bill would nearly eliminate labor disputes. But he said the unfair practices bill would encourage disputes, instead of curbing them.

He said that expert labor lawyers can't agree on what the Landrum-Griffin Act means, so "how could they agree on what the same thing means in state law?"

Don Richardson, AFL-CIO attorney, said the anti-picketing provision after elections is "quite severe." He denied Scott's charge that unions now are coercing Oregon employers to sign contracts.

Scott came back with an offer to produce employers who have undergone organizational picketing within the past two months.

Harold E. Carlson, secretary of the Oregon Independent Retail Grocers, pleaded for passage of both measures. He said the Meatcutters Union and Culinary Alliance have been conducting organizational picketing.

The committee didn't get into the unfair practices bill. A hearing will be held on that late in February.

Herald and News
Klamath Falls, Oregon
Serving Southern Oregon and Northern California
Published daily (except Sat.) and Sunday
Southern Oregon Publishing Company
Main at Esplanade
Phone TU-600 4811
W. B. SWEETLAND, Publisher
Entered as second class matter at the post office at Klamath Falls, Oregon, on August 20, 1960, under act of Congress, March 3, 1879. Second-class postage paid at Klamath Falls, Oregon, and at additional mailing offices.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
1 Month ..... $1.75
3 Months ..... $5.25
6 Months ..... $10.00
1 Year ..... $18.00
Mail in Advance
1 Month ..... $1.75
3 Months ..... $5.25
6 Months ..... $10.00
1 Year ..... $18.00
Carrier and Dealers: Weekday & Sunday, copy 10c
UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATED PRESS
AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATION
Subscribers not receiving delivery of their Herald and News, please contact Gene Carpenter, Circulation Manager, TU-600 4811 before 7 P.M.

WEISFIELD'S "Once a Year" WATCH SALE

Over 4000 NATIONAL FAMOUS WATCHES at 1/2 PRICE & LESS

REGULAR 39.75
NEW 17 JEWEL WRIST WATCHES
Styles for Women and Men
YOUR CHOICE 17.00 LOW EASY TERMS

Each With These Quality Features:
• Fine Swiss Movements • 17 Jewels
• Anti-Magnetic • Unbreakable Main Springs
STYLES FOR WOMEN:
• 2 Diamond Models • 14 Karat Gold Case Models • Nurses Water, Shock-resistant Models in Yellow or White Metal Cases.
STYLES FOR MEN:
• Self-Winding, Water and Shock-Resistant Models • Water and Shock-Resistant Models with Expansion Bracelets
• Dress Models with Expansion Bracelets

Man's 17-Jewel Self-Winding Croton
NATIONALLY ADVERTISED AT $950
NOW 44.70 WITH TRADE PRICE
THE ANTARCTIC V
• 3-Year Unconditional Guarantee
• Waterproof
• Shockproof
• Non-Magnetic
• Expansion Bracelet
EASY TERMS

Man's "Lance" Self-Winding WESTCLOX
NATIONALLY ADVERTISED AT $495
LESS THAN 1/2 PRICE 7.47

• Waterproof
• Shockproof
• Non-Magnetic
• Luminous Dial
• Sweep Second Hand
• Smart Leather Strap
EASY TERMS

NOW! LESS THAN 1/2 PRICE!
ONE OF AMERICA'S TOP FIVE BRANDS

Ladies' 17-Jewel 2-Diamond
FACTORY TICKETED AT $580
LESS THAN 1/2 PRICE 42.44

• 2 Sparkling Diamonds
• Attractively Designed Case
• Unbreakable Main Spring
• 17-Jewel Movement
LOW EASY TERMS

Man's 17-Jewel AUTOMATIC
FACTORY TICKETED AT $890
LESS THAN 1/2 PRICE 44.66

• Yellow Gold Filled Case
• Waterproof-Shockproof
• Non-Magnetic
• Sweep Second Hand
• Expansion Bracelet
LOW EASY TERMS

WEISFIELD'S THE WEST'S LARGEST CREDIT Jewelers
701 Main Street
Store Hours 9:30 to 5:30

WALT DISNEY
SWISS FAMILY ROBINSON
TECHNICOLOR PANAVISION
STARTS SUNDAY AT REGULAR PRICES! DOORS OPEN AT 9:30 A.M. CONTINUOUS FROM 10:00 A.M.

TOWER
PHONE TU 4-8484

ESQUIRE POSITIVELY LAST 3 DAYS! Doors Open 6:45
NEVER again will the screen hold such excitement!

Gable Monroe Cliff in the Misfits ADULTS ONLY!
No One Under 16 Admitted Unless Accompanied By An Adult!

CO-STARRING Thelma Ritter · Eli Wallach

MID-TOWN OFFICE SPACE $40.00 CONTACT: DREWS Manstore 733 MAIN

SWEATERS
SPECIAL CLOSE-OUT TABLE $5.88
Good Selection of Styles & Colors VALUES TO $13.95 .. NOW ONLY

SPORT SHIRTS Long Sleeve Values to $6.95 $1.88

WOOL SHIRTS
"Levi" - Wash 'n Wear Sport & Dress $7.88
Types, First Quality. Reg. $11.95.
Machine Washable

HERMAN'S SINCE 1907 for men's wear 826 Main