DETAILS AND COLORS SPRING FASHION NEWS

NEW YORK — This spring, it's color everywhere, with the details that make the difference between "just wearing clothes" and being with it.

The smart teen-age girl will choose a complete collection of clothes. The cardigan neckline, big and brave buttons come in checks. Suit jackets grow short-bolled buttons; a single-floral pin, strong in pink Acilan flannel, pale shoes; cut-off sleeves; and dresses; a mauvy pink slow-fit pale gloves as an alternate to coat with hip interest, and an white. Calling attention to these unusual, curved - cape ensemble, important fashion points is col-ble. Sleevelessness calls attention of corals, pinks and golds to to pinky silk print fabrics shaped into bouffant dresses with high, simple necklines. Still more of the pink story is told by shades of raspberry ice, punctuated by polka dots, or solid silk shantung.

Coats and suits go on a color fling that ranges from blue and yellow to apricot and lilac, including monochrome plaids and plaid separates and complementary solids. The talents of beige and jacket dresses are combined in extra - wearable designs with cardigan necklines.
