Key Pairings Top Nation's BB Slate

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The big conferences, which furnish the bulk of the field for the 25-team NCAA championship tournament, tonight move into what could be a straightening-out week in college basketball.

Key pairings are spread throughout the schedule all week, with the Big Ten, Big Eight, Southeastern and Ohio Valley conferences first off the mark in games that will help fill the NCAA lineup and the National Invitation Tournament as well.

Ohio State's top-ranked Buckeyes, needing the Big Ten title to qualify for defense of their NCAA championship, are home tonight against Northwestern—seeking to stretch their winning streak to 24 before moving to Iowa City for Saturday's showdown with second-place Iowa.

Iowa, still kicking despite the loss of four regulars because of poor grades, is home to Wisconsin tonight. A victory for both the Bucks and Hawkeyes would put Ohio State at 9-0 and Iowa at 6-1 for their Saturday collision.

In the scrambled SEC, Kentucky—a mediocre Wildcat this year—challenges Mississippi State, the conference leader with an 8-0 record, a nine-game winning streak, and a 16-3 over-all mark. SEC runnerup Vanderbilt (6-2) is at LSU with the game taking on added importance because Mississippi State will not go into the NCAA tournament if it wins the conference. State, like two years ago, will pass up the NCAA under an unwritten state law forbidding competition against Negroes.

Also tonight, Kansas and Kansas State resume their duel for the Big Eight title, Ohio Valley Conference leader Western Kentucky is at second-place Eastern Kentucky, and in a big Eastern duel—second-ranked St. Bonaventure (18-1) plays NIT-bound Providence (16-3).

Kansas State is at Colorado and Missouri at Kansas with the Wildcats and Jayhawks currently sharing first place with 6-1 records. Western Kentucky is 7-0 and Eastern Kentucky 6-2 for their OVC duel.

All six members of the nation's top 10 in action won Saturday—topped by Ohio State's 83-68 victory over Michigan State as Jerry Lucas set a Big Ten record of 48 points. Tom Stith had 27 points and Freddie Crawford 26 as St. Bonaventure routed Boston College 103-69. Chet Walker's 31 points led fourth-ranked Bradley over St. Louis 69-54, moving the Braves within a half game of leading Cincinnati in the Missouri Valley Conference.

North Carolina, No. 6, thumped Wake Forest 93-78 with York Larese scoring 30 points and Doug Moe 25 but Kansas State, No. 7, needed Al Peithman's basket with 9 seconds left to edge Iowa State 66-65. Revamped Iowa, No. 9, shrugged off the loss of four regulars and toppled Indiana 74-67.

Some of the luster of tonight's St. Bonaventure-Providence match was lost when Rhode Island spilled the Friars, 78-76, for Providence's first loss at home in 37 games.

College of Idaho came from behind to edge Linfield, 65-63, Saturday night and pare Linfield's lead to one game in the Northwest Conference basketball race.

Bob Moreno led the second-place Idahoans with 26 points as they gained a split in the two-game weekend series with Linfield, which won Friday night, 70-69.

Linfield led at halftime, 35-30, but Idaho finally went ahead on a Moreno basket, 50-49, with seven minutes left. Linfield playing without its top scorer, Bill Wallin, never caught up.

Bob Close paced Linfield with 12 points.

Lewis and Clark, in third place, defeated Pacific, 93-77, and Willamette beat Whitman, 73-58. The results kept Whitman and Pacific tied for fourth in the standings.

Conference action resumes tonight with Linfield at Whitman and Willamette at College of Idaho.

On Thurrday College of Idaho wil be at Lewis and Clark and Whitman at Pacific. On Friday and Saturday it will be Whitman at Lewis and Clark and College of Idaho at Pacific. Another Saturday game will send Willamette to Linfield.

Butte Valley Five Bounces

BUTTE VALLEY (Special) — The Butte Valley Bulldogs bounced back from a Friday night thrashing at the hands of Happy Camp and chalked up a 41-30 win over Etna here Saturday night.

Friday night the Bulldogs battled the Happy Camp club all the way but couldn't hang on in the final period when three of the starting five players were called out on personal fouls. In the "B" game, the Butte Valley squad downed the Happy Camp juniors 40-31.

Tom Wostenburg of Happy Camp bucketed 25 points to nab the high scoring honors, while Butte Valley's top man, Del Hands, scored 14 to lead his teammates.

Saturday night's action turned out to be just the reverse of Friday's as the Bulldogs fell behind in the first quarter by a 10-8 score, but came on to lead 16-13 at halftime, and rolled on to widen the margin to 27-19 over the Etna crew at the end of the third frame.

Hands led the Butte Valley attack with a 20-point total. Ronald Sargent paced Etna with 12.

BOSTON (AP) — The fabled Boston bench—one of the chief reasons the Celtics have dominated the National Basketball Association in recent years—soon may be playing as much or more than the regulars.

One reason: Bob Cousy has had it.

"I'm beat," the weary Celtic captain said after Boston's 136-125 triumph over Philadelphia Sunday.

"I've never felt like this—physically and mentally—before. Never," the perennial all-star guard emphasized.

"I guess it's a combination of things. I haven't been well physically. Then there's all this travel. And we broke the race open too soon.

"I can't get up for a game when it doesn't mean much. I have to have something to shoot for," he said.

Perhaps, Cousy said, things may be different in the playoffs, but he questioned his value for the rest of the season.

Bill Sharman, Cousy's 34-year-old partner in the backcourt, took a different tack.

"What can you do in 20 minutes?" he asked. "I don't want to say anything against anyone, but I'm not playing as much as I used to. I've always thought you play better after you get your second wind. How are you going to score much in 20 minutes?"

Coach Red Auerbach, advised of the comment of his veterans, made a vague motion of dismissal.

"Aw," he shrugged. "No comment. Look, we won. That's what I care about. We won."

And it was his bench—swift Sam Jones in particular—that had a big hand in fashioning the Celtics' fifth victory in nine meetings with the Warriors.

Jones, who has keyed the four previous victories over Philadelphia, came off the bench to lead a second period rally that broke the game open.

Arnold Palmer In Phoenix Playoff

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Arnold Palmer and a man who infringed his patent on incredible finishes, Doug Sanders, met today in a golf match that seemingly couldn't be—an 18 hole playoff for the Phoenix Open championship.

The winner gets $4,300, the loser $3,000, and each takes a fourth of the day's gate receipts.

Sanders was eight big strokes behind the front-running Palmer Sunday at the start of what was scheduled as the final round.

He proceeded to slash eight strokes off par to set an Arizona Country Club course record of 62, while Palmer had to scramble for an even par 70. They pulled into the 72-hole mark deadlocked at 270, 10 under par for the distance.

Sanders, 27-year-old advocate of the short backswing, was the picture of perfection as he drove out of the fairway only once; hit every green in regulation and rang up a card of 10 pars and eight birdies.

Palmer also parred his holes, but his four birdies were offset by an equal number of bogeys in his worst round of the tournament.

At that the muscular Miamian would have won it had it not been for an unplayable lie on the 16th hole. Purposely shooting down the left side for the most desirable approach to the green, the top money winner of 1960 hooked his drive into an oleander bush.

After dropping out with a one-stroke penalty, Palmer took a bogey 5 on the 339-yard hole.

Sanders, playing out of Ojai, Calif., came within an inch and a half of getting a victory-sealing eagle on the par-4 18th hole when his 45-foot putt stopped in front of the cup.

Palmer came into the 18th needing a birdie 4 to tie. His second shot was in the fringe at the left of the green, 50 feet from the pin. He ran the ball up with his putter but hit too strongly and rolled eight feet past. The great pressure player got down from there for his birdie.

Jack Fleck, who won the Phoenix Open last year in a playoff with Bill Collins, finished one back at 271 for third money of $2,000.

Don January was fourth at 272 for $1,700. Dave Marr and Johnny Pott tied for fifth with 274, winning $1,450 each. Collins and tournament tenderfoot Jackie Cupit of Longview, Tex., each took $1,250 with 275.

Oregon State and Seattle are back on top in the spirited race among major independent college basketball teams in the Pacific Northwest.

At stake is a bid from the NCAA to compete in the post-season Far West regional playoffs.

Oregon State climbed back up with weekend victories over Washington State 53-52 and Idaho 55-49. Seattle defeated Gonzaga Sunday 79-77. Both now have 13-7 records.

Oregon, last week's leader, meanwhile slipped to 12-7, taking weekend defeats at the hands of Idaho 61-57 and Washington State 77-73.

Crucial games are coming up next weekend.

Oregon will be in Seattle, playing Washington Friday night and Seattle Saturday. Oregon defeated both of these teams earlier at Eugene.

Seattle will get a chance at full revenge, not only playing Oregon Saturday but also entertaining Washington State on Friday. Washington State downed Seattle recently at Pullman.

Oregon State will play two games against Idaho at Moscow.

Both Idaho and Washington State, despite recent strength, are considered out of the race among independents. Idaho has a 6-14 record and Washington State 8-12.

Portland also is considered out of the race although it has a respectable 12-8 record. Portland also will go on the road next weekend, playing Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind.

Terry Ball led Washington State to its victory over Oregon, scoring 21 points. Two players on the losing Oregon team outscored him, however, Charley Warren getting 25 and Glenn Moore 22.

Jay Carty led Oregon State to the win over Idaho with 14 points. But he was outscored by Idaho's sophomore Chuck White, who had 21.

Kearns Picks Ingo To Win By A Kayo

By OSCAR FRALEY

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — The slender little man sat hunched over, squinting through the strong sunlight with his bright blue eyes and nodding vigorously.

"I think," said Jack (Doc) Kearns, jabbing his cigarette in the direction of Ingemar Johansson, "that he'll knock the other guy out."

The "other guy" is, of course, Floyd Patterson, from whom the Swedish iron man will attempt to recapture the heavyweight championship of the world at Miami Beach Convention Hall on March 13.

"You must be kidding," said someone.

"No I'm not," said the little septuagenerian who piloted Jack Dempsey to the heavyweight title on another sunswept day at Toledo 42 years ago. "I think this guy has got the killer instinct you need to pull it off."

Staggers Sparmate

Johansson, working in a sun-shaded ring in a palm-surrounded glade a few hundred feet from the ocean, staggered his sparmate with a stiff right hand, leaped forward eagerly and then pulled back.

"See what I mean," barked the 79-year-old Kearns. "He was going to go in and polish off that guy. He looks like a guy filled with hate to me. Like one of the old time fighters."

The "old time fighters" live robust and alive in the mind of "Doc" Kearns. They should, for among his "tigers" he numbered, in addition to Dempsey, such as Abe Attell, Benny Leonard, Jackie Fields, Mickey Walker, Mushy Callahan, Les Darcy and Archie Moore.

"On the whole they don't build them that way any more," he explained as the wind made the palms do a can-can around the canvas - enclosed bleachers jammed with some 1,500 spectators. "In the old days, a guy got knocked down and he came back tougher than ever, rough and full of hate. These days they get knocked down and they've had it."

Ready To Explode

"Not this guy, though," he added, pointing again toward the slugging Swede. "He doesn't say much, but I have a feeling he thinks a lot about getting flattened by Patterson and it's a thing that's growing and building inside of him until he's ready to explode. I look, the way he's training, for him to really go in there winging punches."

That, says Kearns, is what Johansson is going to have to do if he hopes to regain the crown from Patterson.

"He can't hope to box him, and I don't think he will," Kearns analyzed. "He's got to go in there throwing 'em from the outfield and he's training as if that is exactly what's on his mind."

Kearns was cautious about naming a round, hedging that "it could be real early if this guy lands one of those right hands." But he insisted that, if Johansson arouses the tiger within himself, he could upset the 3-1 odds which say that Floyd will win again.

Good Sign

"He looks hungry to me and that's a good sign," Kearns asserted. "You know, that's the trouble with fighters today. They're not hungry. Back in the old days they'd walk three miles to school, walk three miles afterwards and then hold down a job on top of it."

"Today, just like my kids, they're not hungry," he added sadly. "One of my boys started engineering, now he's at Tulane studying to be a doctor. The other is at Stetson studying to be a lawyer.

"And that's okay, I guess. I've always needed a doctor and a lawyer — particularly a lawyer."

Oregon Tech replaced Eastern Oregon atop the Oregon Collegiate Conference basketball standings by defeating the team from La Grande, 74-56, at Klamath Falls Saturday night.

The Techmen were in command all the way and held a 35-24 halftime lead. Leon Wilson of the winners topped the scorers with 18 points. Tom Neel registered 15 for the visitors.

Oregon College finally moved into the victory column, upsetting Southern Oregon, 82-62, after 10 league defeats. Denny Spencer, with 25 points, and Steve Rankin, with 23, led Oregon College. Gordy Carrigan was high for the losers with 21.

Portland State played out of the conference and shaded Seattle Pacific, 49-47.

Eastern Oregon will try to regain first place next weekend when it hosts Oregon College in a pair of games while Oregon Tech is idle.

Southern Oregon, in fourth spot, will try to gain ground on third-place Portland State when the teams meet in another two-night series at Ashland.
