

Henley Girl Places Second In DAR Citizenship Contest

Again this year the Daughters of the American Revolution have sponsored the good citizenship awards, open to girls in senior classes in public high schools of the state.

Qualities on which the outstanding girls are chosen include dependability, service, leadership and patriotism. Candidates chosen by each chapter of DAR compete among other chapter winners in the district. The district winner is then eligible for state competition with representatives of the six districts of DAR.

Eulalona Chapter of Klamath Falls is in District 3 which includes Umpqua Chapter of Roseburg, Rogue River Chapter of Grants Pass, Crater Lake Chapter of Medford and Mt. Ashland Chapter at Ashland.

Eulalona's choice for the honor was Sara Jane Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant R. Williams of the Henley District. An outstanding student, she has been secretary of the student body

AEDENE JENSEN, student of Eagle Point High School, was named winner of the District 3 DAR good citizenship award. She was sponsored by Crater Lake Chapter of Medford.

EULALONA CHAPTER of DAR chose Sara Jane Williams of Henley High School for the local good citizen award. She received second place in district competition.

THIRD PLACE winner in DAR District 3 good citizen contest is Ginger Harris, who attends Roseburg Senior High School. She represented Umpqua Chapter.

PTA Dates Box Social

DUNSMUIR — A box social dance for adults will be given at a high school PTA project on Feb. 25. It was announced at the recent high school PTA meeting. This benefit affair will be held at the high school.

A colored film entitled "Your Child's Intelligence" was shown as the program for the evening. J. "Bud" Lachenmyer, Arthur Crowe and Kent Logan, past presidents of this comparatively new PTA unit, were honored as an observance of Founder's Day. The freshman mothers served refreshments.

KEEPS EARRINGS — An excellent storage place for earrings is a plastic egg tray. It only takes up a small corner of the dresser and will hold 12 pairs of earrings.

RECEIVING honorable mention in the DAR District 3 good citizen contest was Sara Vandenburg, Ashland High School senior, sponsored by Mt. Ashland Chapter.

Soil Expert Speaks To Club

MONTAGUE — Loren Herman of the Soil Conservation Service office in Yreka gave an enlightening talk on the various types of soil found in Siskiyou County when he appeared as guest speaker before members and guests of the Shasta Valley Garden Club of Montague on Friday afternoon, Feb. 2.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. M. T. Robinson on the Airport Road north of Montague. Assisting were Mrs. Di (Daisy) Raver, Mrs. Tressie Clement and Mrs. Betty Dow.

During the business session, presided over by Mrs. Rita Prather, it was reported that the city of Montague will aid the garden club in improving the site around the Southern Pacific depot. The city will provide the means of cleaning off the debris and clearing off the weeds which now create such an eyesore. Members will then plant the area with shrubs and lawn.

The afternoon's session was concluded with the serving of refreshments and plant sale among those present.

TIME'S UP — An egg timer placed beside you while making a long distance telephone call will let you know when your three minutes are up.

As the inside of a man's white shirt starts to wear, press a piece of white mending tape on the frayed part as a reinforcement.

Lodge Notes Birth Date

YREKA — A Hawaiian theme marked the decorations for the 51st birthday party of Stella Chapter No. 39, Order of Eastern Star, Friday evening, Feb. 3, in the Masonic Temple.

The regular session of the chapter was conducted by Worthy Matron Juanita Westbrook and Worthy Patron Charles Page.

Escorted and seated in the east was Deputy Grand Matron Viola Stone of Evening Star Chapter, Etna.

During the meeting a skit was presented by the worthy matron with the assistance of her staff of officers in commemoration of the chapter's birthday.

After the meeting was adjourned the members gathered in the banquet room where the refreshment tables, arranged to form a square, were decorated with pineapple and other fruits. Co-chairman Hazel Pellock gave a colorful paper lei to each person. Kay Morford was co-chairman for the evening. The birthday cake was cut and served by Ethel Ackerman.

Fashion Tips For The Men

Much is written for and about the women concerning their fashions, makeup and the latest in jewelry accessories.

Least the male of the house feel forgotten and ignored, today's column is devoted to timely tips to help him step forward as the well-dressed and well-groomed escort to his fashion-right wife.

The shorter spread collar on shirts, long a favorite of the well-dressed man, has had much wider acceptance since the advent of the neater, more orderly look in clothing. It goes well, too, with the reviving "British Accent" in apparel. And unless you are thoroughly unhappy without starch in your collars, tell the laundry to forget it. Starch shortens the life of a shirt, and proper-fitting collars do not need it for a neat look.

Avoid the lazy way of slipping a knotted tie over your head to get it off. And be sure the shirt collar is turned down to the correct fold line in the back when the tie is put on. If worn incorrectly, even for a few minutes, it will appear mussed and untidy for the rest of the day.

Narrower and trimmer ties have become well established as an accepted fashion by all types of men. Just as a change, shift your tie back to the upper part of the tie, in the position of a stickpin. It's an elegant touch to a dress-up outfit.

this country ask the clerk for "a hat just like the one I'm wearing." That's because men get used to a certain style. But other styles, particularly in this day of changing fashions, might be even more flattering.

Spray-type colognes and perfumes call for the light touch on the release. A little of either scent goes a long way.
