

Young Men Are Reminded They Must Be Registered

A reminder to register on time for Selective Service is being brought to the attention of men attaining 18 years of age. The law requires that every young man must register on his 18th birthday or within five days thereafter unless on active duty, even though he may be a member of a reserve or the National Guard.

Men on regular active military duty must register within 30 days after separation if not previously registered; if registered prior to entry into service, they must report within 10 days after separation. Aliens born on or after Sept. 15, 1925, who have entered the United States on a permanent visa are required to register within six months after entry.

The purpose of registration is not solely to provide lists of prospective peacetime draftees. Actually, the number of draftees at this time represents a drop in the bucket compared to the reservoir of young men who are eligible. Registration also serves the purpose of furnishing the government with the available manpower should total mobilization become necessary. Under present condition, unless a man volunteers or becomes "delinquent," he may have to wait about four years before facing induction.

Failure to register on time is asking to be declared "delinquent" with the resultant possibility of being prosecuted or inducted ahead of others in the same age group who are registered. Most draft board members are reluctant to resort to either of these courses, but since the drafting of delinquents would set an example, this action could prove effective in eradicating delinquencies.

Fire Fatal To Old Man

NEWBERG (AP)—A 64-year-old man died today in a fire that consumed his home near here.

The body of Harry Armstrong of Dundee was found in the smoking ruins of his home a few miles southwest of here, after both his house and a walnut-drying building about 200 yards away had been destroyed by fire, sheriff's deputies said.

Firemen said it did not appear likely that the flames spread from one building to the other, since there was a heavy rainstorm at the time. The cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

A .22 caliber rifle was found across Armstrong's body, said Sheriff W. L. Mekkers. An autopsy will be performed, he said.
