WALL STREET

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed mixed with a tendency toward the downside today. Turnover was fairly heavy.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.5 million shares compared with 5.07 million Thursday. Gains and losses of fractions to a point or so peppered the list of key stocks.

The market ran into profit taking after three days of vigorous advance. Corporate bonds generally were higher. U.S. governments were unchanged.

Heavy Snow Hits Passes In Cascades

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy snow fell overnight in the Cascade Mountains. As a fresh six-inch layer of snow cloak Cascade passes, forecasters said a new storm probably would bring more snow tonight to mountain areas and much of Eastern and Central Oregon.

The Oregon coast experienced moderately heavy rains overnight, but the rest of Western Oregon had very little rain. Weather Bureau forecasters said there would be showers tonight with some clearing and sunny periods Saturday.

Astoria, with .97 of an inch of rain, was the rainiest spot in Oregon. Newport had .52 of an inch and North Bend 41. Away from the coast, the heaviest rain was at Salem, with .15 of an inch.

The Weather Bureau said there would be mostly moderate precipitation through Monday, with some snow flurries in Eastern Oregon. The cold air flow from the Columbia will bring colder nights to Eastern Oregon, forecasters said.

Concern

The lots will provide free parking for customers of participating merchants. Those merchants will pay for the parking time themselves and proceeds will be divided among the stockholders of the Park and Shop Corporation.

Merchants plan soon to begin a campaign to educate shoppers in use of the system.

In other activity, the merchants decided to warn they will prosecute as fully as possible when someone is charged with molesting the lodgepole pine planters on Main Street.

Merchants said, however, that vandalism has not been a serious problem, and that the worst instance of it was recently when someone pulled up one of the young trees.

They also decided to ask the Klamath Junior Chamber of Commerce to sponsor the annual Fourth of July parade again. If Jaycees accept, they will work with a committee of merchants, and will receive a total of about $500 for prizes and parade expenses.

Merchants also discussed plans for their annual spring opening and tossed around a suggested spring style show.

They decided that insufficient time remains to plan a style show for spring, but a committee was appointed to study possibility of one in the fall.

Two Admit Burglary

No sooner had the city police solved one burglary Thursday than another was reported Friday morning.

The city juvenile officer took two 16-year-old youths into custody Thursday after they admitted the Jan. 7 burglary of the Kingsley Field bowling alley.

The youths said they broke in through a door and stole enough beer from an ice box to fill an empty case. Then they drove around and drank most of the beer. The youths were released to their parents and were scheduled for a juvenile court appearance Monday.

Approximately $5 in small change and possibly some food was taken from the Dog House Drive In, 1515 South Sixth Street, early Friday by a burglar who broke a window to gain entrance.

A bakery truck driver on his morning route noticed a window broken on the west side of the building. City police investigated and found that the window had been broken with a wooden mop. The juke box had been smashed with a hammer.

Fingerprints were taken from the juke box and a package of hamburger buns was found outside the building.

Tulelake Man Dies At Ranch

TULELAKE — Bryan Augustus Armstrong, 44, a resident of Tulelake for five years, was stricken and died at the family ranch home near the state line road, northwest of Tulelake, Feb. 16. Cause of death was not reported.

The body will be shipped to Pomeroy, Wash., his former home, by O'Hair's Memorial Chapel.

Survivors include the widow, Gertrude, Tulelake; daughters, Mrs. Max Ruchert and Mrs. Henry Denard, and one brother, Leo Armstrong, all of Pomeroy.

It has been estimated there are about 600,000 kinds of insects on earth.

THE VALIANTS will challenge The Corvettes Saturday evening in Klamath Auditorium to a rock 'n' roll duel. They will also appear next Friday evening with five other bands in a benefit performance here. Bandsmen are, from left, Mike Boring, Delmer Young, Denny Tonelli, Dave Davidson and Jim Hicks.

Klamath Falls Police Are Busier During '60; Major Crime Is Static

Klamath Falls City Police investigated more cases than ever before in 1960 but there was virtually no increase in major crime, according to the annual report released this week by the police department.

Police Chief Charles A. Howard made the report to City Manager G. S. Verger. Major crimes — homicide, rape, robbery, burglary, assault and larceny over $50 — continued to occur at the rate of about one a day. There were 365 such crimes in 1959 and 367 in 1960. Cases investigated increased from 5,237 to 6,134.

The department is staffed by Chief Howard and 33 other police officers, including three women. In addition, four meter maids handle parking violations.

City police officers made 5,453 arrests in 1960, 1,681 for drunkenness and 2,431 on traffic and parking violations. More than 95 per cent of the people charged were subsequently found guilty or pleaded guilty in court, which indicates that there were few charges that failed to "stick."

In the major crime category, aggravated assault more than doubled in 1960 with 23 cases reported as against 10 in 1959. Larceny over $30 showed a slight increase, from 91 cases to 119, but robbery and burglary both decreased. There was one criminal homicide report each year and one forcible rape.

Other crimes which showed significant increases in 1960 were larceny under $50, auto theft, forgery and bad checks, sex crimes and liquor law violations. Disorderly conduct and vagrancy reports decreased and there were no reported narcotic violations during the year as compared with three in 1959.

Traffic accidents and injuries declined during the year despite increased traffic. The one blot on the traffic record, however, was deaths, which rose from one in 1959 to five in 1960. In an effort to control the accident rate, police issued 1,277 tickets, not counting 66 for drunk driving. The meter maids passed out 49,995 parking tickets, more than two for every man, woman and child in Klamath Falls.

The city police department was able to clear about three out of every four cases (77 per cent) investigated. A final solution was found for 4,749 of 6,134 cases investigated. The yearly report also showed that April was the worst month for crime, with 605 cases investigated. December, August and June followed in that order with 541, 533 and 520 cases respectively.

The age and race of law violators have been the subjects of much police study. In Klamath Falls, more 17-year-olds (78) were arrested among people between 15 and 25 years of age. There were 84 arrests of juveniles under the age of 15 and 562 arrests of men and women over 50. The statistics showed that numbers of arrests tended to increase in succeeding age groups. The 25-29 age group, however, showed the fewest arrests with 173.

A disproportionate number of Indians were arrested in Klamath Falls during 1960. The records show that 737 Indians were arrested, as compared to 1,693 whites and 131 Negroes. The great majority of Indian arrests, 83 per cent, were for drunkenness while only 39 per cent of the white arrests involved drunks. Chief Howard considers drunk arrests as "non-productive" police work.

In summary, 1960 was a busy year for the Klamath Falls Police Department. The overall work load increased but the major crime rate remained at about the same level.

"We are proud of our record," Chief Howard said, "but with increased public respect for the law we can do even better."

Solons In Quandary Over Aged Medical Care; Must Await Congress

By PAUL W. HARVEY JR.

SALEM (AP) — The Oregon Legislature adjourned for the weekend today in a quandary over what to do about providing medical care for persons over 65.

Sen. Monroe Sweetland, D-Milwaukie, prepared a bill for introduction that would enable Oregon to take advantage of President Kennedy's proposal for medical care under Social Security.

Gov. Mark O. Hatfield's bill, based on what Congress proposed last year, was introduced Thursday.

Now the legislature is faced with having to wait to see whether Congress adopts the Kennedy plan.

The governor's bill would cost the state and counties about $6.5 million a year. Sweetland said the Kennedy plan would be much less.

Each bill would provide medical aid for about 65,000 persons. Sweetland's bill would be administered by the state Public Welfare Commission.

Sweetland said his measure also would tighten up the law which requires relatives, when able, to contribute to the support of well-fore cases.

Twenty-seven of the 60 House members, headed by Rep. William J. Gallagher, R-Portland, introduced a bill to prohibit stores and places selling services from discriminating against any customer because of race, religion, color or national origin.

The present Civil Rights Law applies only to places selling food or lodging. The bill is similar to one already introduced in the Senate.

Rep. Clarence Barton, D-Colquille, introduced his bill to permit property owners to fix the value of their own property for tax purposes. But the owner would be required to sell at that price.

Hatfield's bill to set up a broad system of college scholarships was introduced in the House. These four-year scholarships would be used at any public or private university or college in the state.

The bill would appropriate $75,000, with a $500 limit on each scholarship.

Present scholarships administered by the state can be used only at the state university or state colleges.

A bill to create a nine-member Advisory Board on Police Standards and Training was introduced by Rep. George Van Housen, D-Portland. The board would be appointed by the governor, and would set up standards of training for state, county and local police.

Henry Petrick Dies At Age 64

Henry William Petrick, 64, resident of Klamath Falls for 23 years, died at the family home early today. He had been an invalid from a heart condition for several years.

Mr. Petrick was manager of the Drake Lumber Company from 1937 until the company closed in 1956. He was a life long member of Zion Lutheran Church. He was born in Appleton, Minn.

Services will be Monday, Feb. 20, from Ward's Klamath Funeral Home with the Rev. Norbert Dey officiating.

Survivors include the widow, Vera, this city; sons, Clinton Petrick, Colorado Springs, and Maurice Petrick, San Jose; a daughter, Mrs. Myla Jean Heyenga, San Diego; brothers, Christ Petrick, Holloway, Minn., Ferd Petrick, Makoti, N. D., Fred Petrick, St. Paul; sisters, Mrs. Bertha Schlieman, Ryder, N. D., Mrs. Elsie Hadley, Costa Mesa, and Mrs. Emma Schroeder, Lester Prairie, Minn.; also six grandchildren.

Witnesses said Reed, who had been drinking, had been causing a disturbance at the Anchor Hotel and adjoining restaurant for about 45 minutes. He was asked to leave the restaurant by a waitress.

A man at the cafe told city police officers that he had opened the door and given Reed a slight push. The officer said Reed apparently slipped and fell to the sidewalk. Reed was bleeding from the left ear when the officers arrived.

Reed's condition was listed as "fair" Friday morning. Police said no charges were contemplated.

Blotter Shows Unusual Cases

A fanatical newspaper and a photo-electric cell showed up on the city police bulletin Thursday.

Earl Graham, 1104 Crescent Street, said he had received a fanatical religious newspaper through the mail from Atlanta, Ga. Graham said the incident could be a joke.

Someone broke a photo-electric cell used to control traffic lights at Dixon and Laguna streets, the California Oregon Power Co. reported. The cell, worth $30, was broken with a BB gun or some other kind of gun.

John Banta, 916 East Main Street, said someone had broken a window in the canopy of his pickup truck.

Two brothers, ages 3 and 5, were caught Thursday playing with mail boxes at the corner of Kila and Nevada streets. The police officer warned them about tampering with mail boxes.

Housewives Expected To Flay Trade Stamp Bill

SALEM (AP) — The trading stamp bill is on again. A bill by Rep. C. R. Hoyt, R-Corvallis, to regulate trading stamp companies was introduced today in the Oregon Legislature.

It is sure to touch off a sharp reaction from housewives, who have rallied at past legislative sessions in support of the stamps.

Sponsors say that this is a compromise measure that ought to get support from consumers and retailers alike.

This is what the bill proposes: Require that the stamps, which are given by some retailers with purchases, be redeemable in cash as well as in merchandise; that the cash and merchandise redemption value be equal; that stamp companies be bonded; and that the stamps be available to any retailer wanting them, rather than under exclusive franchises.

R. R. Bullivant, Portland attorney for Sperry and Hutchinson, said, "I am concerned. They are calling it regulation, but the intent is to kill trading stamps."

Hoyt said some of those who asked him to introduce the bill told him they wanted to regulate stamps. Others want to put them out of business.

Four years ago a cash redemption bill died in committee. Two years ago a bill calling for cash redemption and a yearly license met the same fate.

"Its purpose is to eliminate evils but permit the stamp business to continue," said Ralph Emmons, Salem, executive secretary of the Oregon Business Council, a sponsor of the bill.

Nonsense, said John Beinert, San Francisco, vice president of Sperry and Hutchinson, whose S and H Green Stamps are most popular of all. The bill would kill trading stamps in Oregon, he said.
