Death Takes Yreka Man

YREKA—Funeral services were held for Howard M. Hicks, 71, well known retired California Oregon Power Company district superintendent, Saturday, Feb. 13, at 2 p.m., in Girdner's Funeral Chapel. The Rev. Harold C. Coleman of Yreka Methodist Church officiated. Interment was in the family plot at Evergreen Cemetery.

Hicks died in his sleep Thursday morning at his home, 704 West Miner Street, Yreka. Hicks was born at Ashland, Ore., Dec. 28, 1889. He was first employed as a lineman in 1912 by Ashland Light and Power Company. His status was changed to that of an electrician in 1917 when Copco merged with the company.

In 1923 he became a construction foreman in the Siskiyou Division, and was appointed superintendent of the division April 1, 1933. He held that position until his retirement Jan. 1, 1965.

Hicks was active in many community affairs, particularly the Boy Scout organization, and was a member of local Masonic lodges. He was married to Edith Emily Palmer in Yreka July 2, 1916. Mrs. Hicks died in 1957.

Hicks is survived by his daughter, Beverly Hicks of Berkeley; a sister, Ernestine Hicks of Medford; a nephew, Olan Sneed of Medford, and a cousin, Morris Plymate of Dunsmuir.

developed into an atomic or naval base. Cayo Largo is "only a base for melons," the newspaper said, publishing photographs of melons and other vegetables. The newspaper confirmed construction of an airstrip on the key but said it is part of a plan to develop the tiny islet as a "tourist center."

Communist technical advisers sent here under contract to the Castro government have fat agreements, many of them calling for greater expenditures by Cuba than American technicians normally receive for such jobs.

Diplomats here said Soviet technicians in Cuba under terms of the Soviet-Cuban technical assistance pact reportedly receive from $1,000 to $2,000 monthly in salary, part in pesos, part in foreign currency and also air-conditioned homes with an automobile, servants and other services.

Many Communist technicians brought their wives and children and appear to be settling in for a long stay. Others were here only a short time and already have returned home.

Three Held In Burglary

YREKA — The Siskiyou County sheriff's office reported Thursday that Charles Eugene Brissett and Rennie Randolph Gray, both 18, and a 17-year-old juvenile, all from St. Helens, Ore., were booked in the county jail Wednesday night on charges of burglarizing an automobile near Mount Shasta.

A fourth youth, Denny Silks, 18, also of St. Helens, Ore., has applied for a writ of habeas corpus and was not returned with the others.

Orders to hold the youths were placed by the sheriff's office for charges they took a pistol, rifle, ammunition and binoculars from a car belonging to William Robert Coleman, Castrolville. The burglary allegedly happened about 2½ months ago.

A report from a wrecking yard that a pistol believed stolen from Coleman's car had been found in the back seat of a car previously registered to one of the youth's mother led to the arrests, deputies said.

Educators At Meeting

WEED — Dr. Myron Green-shields, president of College of the Siskiyou here, and W. E. Roberts, Siskiyou County superintendent of schools, were in Sacramento recently to discuss a bill introduced by State Sen. Randolph Collier, (D-Yreka) that would provide some financial help for the state's junior colleges.

The bill would provide some funds for new buildings that are much-needed due to increasing enrollment.

Dr. Green-shields also visited the state Department of Education.

Wool Subsidy Bill Gains Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — Strong bipartisan support is claimed for proposals to extend a wool law under which domestic producers are paid subsidies from import taxes.

Members of Congress from the sheep country of the west are sponsoring bills which would continue and make permanent the practice of giving production payments to domestic wool growers.

The payments are intended to bolster wool prices to levels that would provide production incentives.

One Senate bill and at least six House measures would make the program permanent. A strongly-backed Senate bill and a companion House measure would extend for three years the law now due to expire March 31, 1962.

The Senate bill has 25 co-sponsors. The House bill was offered by Rep. E. Y. Berry, R-S. D. The wool law was enacted in 1954 and extended in 1958. Money from wool import duties finances the "incentive" payments.

Sponsors of the wool bills say they will press for early hearings by the Senate and House Agriculture Committees.

The Senate bill to make the program permanent was introduced by Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah. He told the Senate last week speed is essential.

"This is true," he said, "so the wool growers can make their plans for next year and obtain the necessary financing from loan agencies to carry on their operations."

"In fact, they actually have to plan almost two years ahead. This is because they have to buy their replacement breeding stock one year for the following year's production."

Montague Baby Found Dead

MONTAGUE — Eric Charles Crouter, 11-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Crouter, Montague, was found dead in his crib Friday morning by his mother when she attempted to wake him.

The infant was not ill when he was put to bed Thursday night, she said. Coroner A. B. Cottar ordered an autopsy performed.

Besides his parents, the child is survived by his sister, Julia, 2.

The funeral was set for Monday at Girdner's Funeral Chapel. The Rev. G. E. Halcomb of the First Baptist Church of Montague officiated.

Couple Hurt Near Canby

ALTURAS — Jason Dollarhide and his wife, Clara, of Cedarville, Calif., were injured slightly when the car he was driving ran into a telephone pole near Canby, officers said. The accident occurred about 6:20 p.m. Monday.

Investigating officers of the Alturas office, California Highway Patrol, report that Dollarhide was driving east at about 45 to 50 miles per hour when the car wandered to the right side of the road and got into soft mud in the gutter.

Officers say the driver stated he was afraid of getting stuck so kept his foot on the throttle. When he got back on the roadway he was going too fast and went across the road, down an incline and hit the pole and a fence on the opposite side of the road, police said. The sedan was badly damaged and was towed to Canby for repairs.

Dollarhide was charged with excessive speed for conditions of the road.

Police Cite Adin Driver

ALTURAS—Mae Massoti, Adin, involved in a two-car collision Friday, in Adin, was charged by the California Highway Patrol for failure to yield right of way.

Mrs. Massoti's car struck a car driven by Johnny Hartley of Alturas, causing minor damage to both cars.

According to California Highway Patrol officers, the accident occurred near Adin Bridge, whose concrete side walls apparently interfered with the vision of both drivers. Officers say Hartley was driving south at about 25 miles per hour on Highway 299, when the other car crossed the highway.

Hartley told officers he did not see the other car coming in time to avoid collision. Mrs. Massoti stated to the investigating officer that because of the concrete side walls of the bridge, she did not see Hartley's car until she had struck it. Neither driver was injured.

FEARS LAW SUITS

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI) — Jack Andrews, maintenance division manager of the state highway department, said plaintively on TV Sunday that the $7 million job of snow-removal might proceed faster if he could remove tow cars from much-traveled portions of the road.

He can't, Andrews said, because the department would probably be sued for damages.

Junior College Head To Attend Convention

WEED — Dr. Myron Green-shields, president of College of the Siskiyou, is planning to attend the 41st annual American Association of Junior Colleges convention March 1 through 3 in Washington, D.C.

For the first time in any AAJC convention, more than 100 key delegates will meet before the convention to determine how to approach their convention tasks.

Among topics to be discussed are things junior colleges must do to hold open the door to opportunity for college education. Delegates also hope to stimulate and guide establishment of sound junior college systems in states where they are nonexistent or weak.

Congressman John Baldwin of California will speak. His topic is "The Role of the Junior College in Developing Responsible Citizenship."

COS is one of 19 new institutional members whose application for membership in the AAJC were approved during the January meeting at the AAJC Board of Directors.

Frosh Girl Gets Award

WEED — Janice Truelove, a freshman at College of the Siskiyou, received a check for $100 from Yreka's Soroptimist Club for outstanding scholarship at College of the Siskiyou, during a club meeting recently.

Miss Truelove was graduated from high school last year. She was selected to receive the scholarship "on basis of her scholastic abilities and her deserving qualities."

The Soroptimist Club each year gives scholarships to students who plan to attend colleges other than COS. Club members hope to be able to give two similar scholarships to COS students this year.
