Whirligig By Ruth Dixon

Look at this whirligig very hard and it seems to go round and round. Turn it slowly around and it will go faster and faster.

A wheel cut from an automobile picture often works this way, too. Try it out!

Last Roundup

By Evelyn Witter

For this game, each player needs a soft rubber ball and a fly swatter. The balls represent cattle being driven into the loading chute, while the fly swatters represent the prodgers which cowboys use to turn the cattle in the direction they want them to go.

For the drive, place two chairs back-to-back (the canyon pass), use four table legs as handicaps to get around (the winding trail the cattle must take), and place a pasteboard box at the far end of the room for the loading chute.

Each player takes a turn at getting through the chair canyon pass, around the four-leg trail, and into the pasteboard loading chute as quickly as possible. Each player is timed, and the quickest one is the winner of the Last Roundup.

The eel's a fish so long and thin,

He's like a snake with fish's fin!

This eel is electric and so, to beware of him, It's safer to put him in an aquarium.

Christ's Church HAS TO BE Infallible!

Many people challenge the claim of the Catholic Church that it is infallible in matters of religion.

"No human being is perfect," they will say. "No institution run by human beings can be infallible."

Many believe the Bible fills this need. However, since numberless fallible people interpret the Bible... and often in direct conflict with each other, the Bible cannot supply the need of an unquestioned source of Christ's teachings. For Catholics, the infallible source is the Catholic Church, established for that purpose by Christ Himself.

The Church is the infallible source of religious truth because it was established by the Son of God for that purpose. We know from the New Testament that Christ instructed Peter and the other disciples to "teach all nations" ... that He gave them the power to forgive sins in His name ... that He appointed Peter the first head of His Church ... that He promised to send the Holy Spirit to guide and protect the Church against human errors and the assaults of evil forces.

Peter was divinely appointed to be the shepherd of the flock of Christ. In his lifetime, he was so recognized by the disciples and by the early Christians. He was also, according to Holy Scripture, instructed by Jesus to appoint others to spread Christ's teachings to succeeding generations. This continuation and succession of authority was obviously necessary if Christ's Church was to fulfill His promise to endure for all time and against all enemies.

We know that Peter was the first Pope of the Catholic Church ... that all of the Popes down through the centuries are his successors ... that the Church which existed as Christ's Church for the first Christians is the Catholic Church as it exists today.

Everyone, of course, has the obligation to follow his own conscience in seeking the truths taught by Jesus Christ. This, we sincerely suggest, should include an investigation of the claims of the Catholic Church, which, significantly, is the only Church on earth making the claim to be Christ's true church—one, holy and infallible in its promulgation of the message of the Son of God. You may ultimately, and sincerely, disagree with us, but nothing is more important than finding an infallible source of Christ's truth and we hope you will investigate.
