

Two Local Men Attend Course

Thomas C. Barnes and E. C. Nicholson of Klamath Falls completed a special Sewage Works Operators Short School last week at Oregon State College.

Seventy-two sewage works operators from cities and utility companies across the state were enrolled for advanced training in the seventh annual school.

Purposes of the school are to promote efficient and economical operation of sewage works systems and to reduce hazards to public health in the disposal of sewage and industrial wastes.

Sponsors of the three-day training program are the Oregon State College Department of Civil Engineering, Oregon State Sanitary Authority, and League of Oregon Cities. Instruction covers advanced fundamentals of sewage treatment, laboratory tests necessary to control the sewage treatment processes, and plant operation and maintenance.

Festival Season

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—The annual Moomba Festival season started today. The wind blew down a mile of decorative lights in the city streets. Many bars had to close when bartenders and hotel workers suddenly struck for more vacation time. The slogan for Moomba: "Let's get together and have fun."

There still are five or six million gypsies wandering across Europe, the Americas, Asia and Australia, resisting settlement.
