

Ducks, Beavers To Clash

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — Oregon and Oregon State meet each other next weekend in the final scheduled basketball games of the season for both teams. On the outcome of those games rest their chances for a berth in the NCAA regional playoffs.

Oregon State will go into that series with two weeks of rest, that is without having played a game in two weeks. Coach Slat Gull gave his players a lot of time off last week, but said drills will be a bit more strenuous from now on.

At Oregon, coach Steve Belko sent his squad through a rare Sunday workout, following a split of a two-game series with Washington State. Oregon's 76-68 victory Saturday night snapped a six-game losing streak, and Belko said that gave him hope for the coming weekend.

"I think that will certainly boost our morale. We'll work hard the rest of the week. We've got a lot to do. Oregon State has changed its tactics."

The teams have met twice before this season. And Oregon State lost both games. However, Gull said that didn't worry him. "It will be a real interesting and a very tough series. We had quite an opportunity for a lot of rest and we'll try to be as fresh as we can for the series."

As far as the NCAA berth is concerned, Gull said, "The safest thing would be to make a sweep." Oregon State now is 14-12 for the season, Oregon 13-11. The Friday night game will be at Oregon. The Saturday night contest at Oregon State.

Playoff Set At Eugene

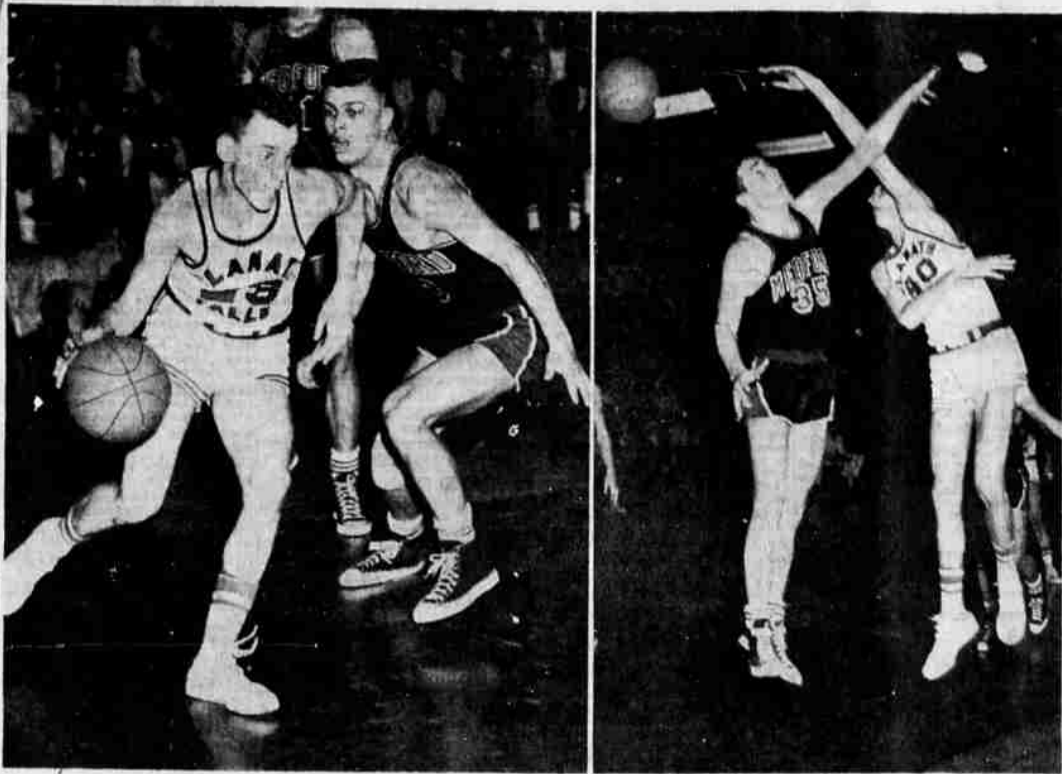

COOS BAY (AP) — The occupant of the final berth in the Oregon A-1 high school basketball tournament at Eugene next week will be decided Wednesday night at a game between South Eugene and Marshfield.

These two squads are tied for second place in the district competition. The game will be at Eugene.

The site and date were decided Sunday at a meeting of district officials in Coos Bay.

O'REE MAKES GRADE

BOSTON (AP) — The parents of Willie O'Ree, first Negro to play in the National Hockey League, traveled from Fredericton, N. B., to Montreal to see their son play. O'Ree is a left winger for the Boston Bruins.

PELS IN TOUGHIE — Klamath Union Pelican Freddie Bienn, "Mr. Ball-Handler" of the Southern Oregon Conference, demonstrates his ability to Medford's Dick Ragdsdale in the Saturday night KU loss to the Black Tornado. The Medford win was only the second charged against the Pels during the SOC season. In the picture at right Pelican Bruce Brickner climbs high enough to make his successful hook-shot almost even with the height of the basket. Going up in a futile effort to stop him is Medford's Bruce Bray. The Pels are still the number one team in the conference and will kick off the 1961 A-1 prep tourney at Eugene when they tangle with the St. Helens' Lions on Tuesday, March 14. St. Helens' coach Gene Strohman was in the stands to see the Saturday Pel-Tornado test.

Champ Eyes 160-Pound Ring Title

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — NBA middleweight champion Gene Fullmer's one good eye was fixed firmly today on Paul Pender's limited version of the 160-pound crown.

Sugar Ray Robinson, his 21-year-career perhaps finished by Fullmer in their nationally televised Donnybrook, was glumly considering his future.

Fullmer, his left eye closed tight by a Robinson right, said before leaving for his Utah rink ranch: "I'd like to fight Pender and clear up the muddled middleweight picture. The division should have an undisputed champion."

Norman Rothschild, a co-promoter of Saturday's bloody brawl, said there was a good chance of a Fullmer-Pender title fight in June at the Las Vegas convention center where Fullmer whipped Robinson in their fourth meeting Saturday night.

Marv Jensen, Fullmer's manager, said his champion would agree to meet Pender anywhere except New York and Massachusetts, where the Boston Irishman is recognized as champion.

Odd Swing, Clubs Turn Into Golf $$

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Doug Sanders, despite an oft-criticized swing, a set of woods "not worth $7.50" and a 15-month victory drought, popped up among golf's leading money winners today after winning the $30,000 Greater New Orleans Open invitational tournament.

Sanders, 27, a Georgian by birth who lives in Florida and plays out of Ojai, Calif., employed his abbreviated, staccato swing to near perfection for a four-round total of 272, good enough for a five-stroke buge.

Gay Brewer Jr., of Crystal River, Fla., who had his troubles on the final day, and Mac Main of Danville, Va., who didn't have any, tied for the runnerup spot at 277.

South Africa's Gary Player and Johnny Pat of Shreveport, La., trailed at 280 with tournament favorite Arnold Palmer of Miami, Fla., heading a group at 283.

The winner's check of $4,300 was welcomed in the Sanders household, the first Sanders has won since December 1959. Not that the Sanders' bankroll is depleted—no, indeed. The jackpot hikes his 1961 earnings to $13,594.

UO's Warren Second Team All-Star Pick

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Frank Burgess of Gonzaga, John Rudometkin of USC and Tom Meschery of St. Mary's easily nailed down first team berths on the United Press International All-Pacific Coast basketball squad which was announced today.

Other spots on the starting five went to Bill McClintock of California and Eddie Miles of Seattle.

The second team consists of Bill Hanson, Washington; Ed Benito, Loyola; Charlie Warren, Oregon; Gary Cunningham, UCLA; and Chris Appel, Southern California.

On the "extra man" third team it's Dave Mills of Seattle, Karl Anderson of Oregon State; Ken Stanley, University of the Pacific; Ron Lawson, UCLA; Earl Shultz, California; and Bill Garner of Portland.

The mighty threesome of Burgess, who is the nation's top scorer, Rudometkin and Meschery pulled down first team votes on every ballot sent in by a committee of United Press International staff members.

Ohio Clubs Nail Championships; Bearcats, Buckeyes May Tangle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — If any team has a chance of knocking off champion Ohio State in the National Collegiate NCAA basketball tournament, it may be a neighbor—red-hot Cincinnati.

Ohio State has a 28-game winning streak going, counting five at the end of last season. Cincinnati, recovering from the loss by graduation of Oscar (Big O) Robertson, has won 18 straight and acts as if it has no idea of quitting.

Both the Ohio teams clinched undisputed conference championships over the weekend, officially qualifying for spots in the NCAA championships. The draw puts them in opposite brackets. If they keep winning their streaks won't collide until the tournament final at Kansas City March 25.

The fields for the two big post-season events—the NCAA, the official college title tournament, and the National Invitation opening March 16 at Madison Square Garden—are almost but not quite complete.

At least seven and possibly eight teams are yet to be determined for the sprawling NCAA, which gets its regional eliminations under way March 14. Three teams are yet to be officially chosen for the 12-team NIT.

In the NCAA, playoffs are necessary to resolve ties in three conferences — the Southeastern, Ohio Valley and Skyline—while incomplete schedules could still determine the issue in the Border and West Coast Athletic conferences. The NCAA also has spots for two and possibly three teams to be selected at large.

The National Invitation selectors are expected to announce a couple of picks today. One certainty is Bradley, the defending NIT champion which was knocked out of a possible tie for the Missouri Valley Conference title Saturday when beaten by St. Louis 70-63.

The Skyline Conference runner-up, either Utah or Colorado State, will get one of the bids with the 12th one going to Tennessee State, Duquesne or Holy Cross.

Already in the NIT are Memphis State, Providence, DePaul, Detroit, Army, Miami (Fla.), Dayton, Temple and Niagara. The NIT must wait until next Thursday night at Knoxville to Saturday for its Skyline representative. That's when Utah and Colorado State meet at Provo, Utah, in a playoff for the conference crown and attendant NCAA berth. Colorado State forced the playoff by upsetting Utah Saturday night 50-49.

Kentucky and Vanderbilt clash Thursday night at Knoxville to determine which carries the Southeastern Conference banner into the NCAA. They tied for second place behind Mississippi State, which is passing up the tournament because of an unwritten state law against competition with Negroes.

Loyola can clinch the West Coast Athletic Conference title by beating Pepperdine Tuesday. New Mexico State can tie Arizona State for the Border Conference crown by beating Hardin-Simmons tonight.

Princeton gained an NCAA tournament berth by beating Harvard 71-59, thus clinching the Ivy League championship. Southern California won the Big Five by thumping Stanford 79-61 while UCLA upset Washington 84-68.

Ten places in the NCAA had been filled previously — five by conference championships and five through selection at large. The conference champions are Kansas State (Big Eight), Ohio U. (Mid-American), St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania (Middle Atlantic), Texas Tech (Southwest) and Rhode Island (Yankee).

Linfield, EOC Matched

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Linfield, the Northwest Conference champion, and Eastern Oregon of the Oregon Collegiate Conference will meet in Portland's Memorial Coliseum Tuesday night for the District 2 NAIA basketball championship.

Linfield won its playoff berth with a 50-49 victory over Portland State at McMinnville Saturday night. Meanwhile, Eastern Oregon was defeating Lewis and Clark of the Northwest Conference 82-77 at La Grande.
