Freeman-Wilson Vows Exchanged In Malin Rites

MALIN — Malin Community Presbyterian Church was the scene of the wedding of Susan Emmaline Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Halbert Wilson, and Jack Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Freeman, on Feb. 11. Both families are well known residents of Malin.

The double ring ceremony was read at 1 o'clock in the presence of about 25 guests by the Rev. Ethen M. Whitman.

The church was decorated with large bouquets of pink carnations and white chrysanthemums arranged in tall beauty baskets with accents of green. Tall candelabra held white lighted tapers.

Mrs. Jim Bunnell, organist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Darrell Haskins who sang "True Love" and "Wedding Prayer."

Escorted by her father who gave her in marriage, the bride was lovely in a gown of white nylon organdy, with short scalloped sleeves and a scalloped neckline. The full bouffant skirt was finished with nylon eyelet panels dropping from the waistline in front, sides and back. A crown of lace and teardrop pearls held the fingertip illusion veil. She wore white mitts, and carried her childhood Bible and a white orchid arranged with stephanotis with long satin streamers. Traditional pieces were a blue garter and a lucky penny in her slipper.

Maid of honor was Sara West, student at College of the Pacific, Stockton, close friend of the bride. Bridesmaids were Janet Drager, Oregon State College roommate of the bride, and Carol Moore, Portland, cousin of the bride. They wore identical dresses of pink nylon organdy, with tall skirts and matching sleeveless boleros, and white satin slippers. Their matching shoulder length veils were attached to a small circle of pink plastic. They all wore crystal bracelets, gifts of the bride, and carried bouquets of pink and white carnations and pink rosebuds.

Nancy Tomjack, cousin of the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Joe Tomjack of Medford, was the junior bridesmaid. Her dress was white organdy, full skirt and short puff sleeves. She wore a headband of pink carnations and carried a nosegay of pink carnations. Her teardrop pearl necklace was a gift of the bride.

Best man was the bridegroom's brother, Jim Freeman, from Pacific University. Ushers were Jerry Rajnus Jr. and Kirby Wilson, brother of the bride. Candlelighters Riley and Kelley Wilson are also brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Wilson chose for her daughter's wedding a turquoise taffeta under brown lace made with scoop neckline and full skirt, accented at the waist by a brown artificial rose. Her accessories were brown.

Mrs. Freeman wore an afternoon dress of Dior blue pure silk linen with white accessories. Her corsage was pink rosebuds.

The reception in the community hall followed the ceremony. The hall was beautifully decorated by Mr. Karl Eujac and Mrs. Robert Holi. Carrying out the sweetheart theme, the tables were covered with pink cloths, and red tulle, caught up with red satin roses. The background for the receiving line was two large red tulle hearts. The guest book stand was also covered in pink with red tulle and red and pink roses. It was attended by Susan Herrilla, College of Pacific.

Pink rosebuds and carnations encircled the four tiered wedding cake, topped with white wedding bells.

roses and valentine coach decorated the punch table.

The cake was served by Mrs. Ruth Wilson, aunt of the bride, and Roxann Wilson, cousin of the bride. Presiding at the coffee service were Mrs. Emmaline Shepherd of Portland and Mrs. Lillian Tomjack, both aunts of the bride. Serving punch were Mrs. Jerry Rajnus Jr., Malin, and Loverne Wilson of Corvallis.

For her going-away ensemble, the bride chose an aqua-blue suit, with matching fur collar, white gloves and hat, black bag and shoes and her orchid corsage.

After a honeymoon to San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego and Mexico, they are at home in the Kalina Apartments in Malin.

The bride, a graduate of Malin High School, attended one year at Oregon State College. Her husband is also a graduate of Malin High School and served two years in the Army. He is engaged in farming with his father.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Alt and children, Dick and Donna, of Grants Pass; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tomjack and Nancy and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bolin of Medford; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Tomjack, Phoenix; Mrs. Emma-line Shepherd and son, Darrell; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moore, and Cameron, all of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Goin and daughter Barbara, Toledo; Carla Fraser, Audrey Crosby, Karen Rajnus, Loverne Wilson and Ron Kalina, of Corvallis; Richard Stycskal of Fort Lewis; Bob Fabianek of Mountain Home, Ida.; Susan Herrilla of Stockton.

Lodge were Mrs. Julia Erickson, Mrs. Fawn Hullquist, Mrs. Juanita Evans, Mrs. Myrtle Brown, Mrs. Myrtle Wild and Mrs. Gertrude Parks.

Mrs. Ethel Norris, district grand marshal, escorted Mrs. Virginia Roberts, district deputy president, into the lodge hall, where she was introduced.

Mrs. Roberts installed Mrs. Audrey Wolford to the office of vice grand.

The district deputy president then presented a school of instruction to the officers after which each repeated the vows of obligation to the order.

A gift was presented to Mrs. Roberts by Eleanor Lewis in behalf of the lodge.

Appointed to the visiting committee were Mrs. Audrey Wolford, Mrs. Virginia Roberts, Mrs. Ethel Norris, Mrs. Mary Franklin, Mrs. Ruby Doggett and Mrs. Claire Potter.

The birthday of George Washington provided the theme for decorations used in the dining room for refreshments following the meeting. During this hour the birthdays of Sodie Starr, Mrs. Doris Jackson and Mrs. Potter were celebrated.

Arrangements were made by Mrs. Eleanor Lewis, Mrs. Augusta Rotan, Mrs. Thelma McNeil and Dorice Young.

Parties Mark Social Calendar

The social calendar of Langell Valley, Bonanza and Dairy communities continues to be well filled with birthday, farewell and anniversary observances.

Langell Valley friends of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Nichols and their sons honored the family at a party March 4 given by Mrs. Wayne Yancey and Mrs. Claude Brown in the community hall. The family, residents of this area the past five years, is moving to Malin. A money tree was presented to them as a farewell gift. Dancing and a social evening was followed by refreshments.

On the last day of February in Dairy, Robert Rice celebrated his 16th birthday. The occasion was marked with a dinner party given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Rice. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Macy and Robert of Klamath Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Don Jacobs and Roger, Robert and Suzanne Rice.

Also in Dairy, Mrs. John Urbach entertained the Dairy Pinocchio Club. Four tables were in play with prizes going to Mrs. P. H. Farum, Mrs. Keith Turner and Mrs. Milton Conquergood.
