Mount Shasta Chamber Backs SP Bid

MOUNT SHASTA—The Mount Shasta Chamber of Commerce has endorsed Southern Pacific's position in the bid for Western Pacific control.

The matter has been discussed at the last three meetings and speaking in favor of taking action, Barney Hoffman, chamber president, commented, "We have to think of our own backyard."

Reports of Santa Fe-Western Pacific's presentation to the Dunsmuir Chamber of Commerce at a dinner meeting Wednesday night were given by Henry Schroeder, Carl Clement and Peggy Walsh.

County governmental agencies will be urged to make a definite stand in seeking a state park site, the chamber membership decided. Bob Rogers was appointed to get delegations from Mount Shasta, Weed, McCloud and Dunsmuir to the next meeting of the county planning commission, April 5, at 10 a.m. in the supervisors' chamber.

Rogers and Carl Clement in reporting on the last planning commission meeting said the matter was "kicked around" but nothing was done.

Hoffman said, "If we go en masse, we'll get action. If we don't, we may miss out on parts development for the next five years."

Frank Brockway, celebration chairman, reported plans were underway for a St. Patrick's Day parade in Mount Shasta Friday, March 17. Merchants are being asked for parade entries and to plan special sales promotions for the day.

Not Much Hope In This Blaze

CLIFTON, Va. (AP)—The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Breed burned to the ground Friday. But that's only part of the story.

Mrs. Breed tried to put out the fire with a garden hose but it was frozen. She tried to call the Clifton Fire Department but her phone was out of order.

She drove to a neighbor's home about a half mile away but the neighbor's phone also was out of order. Another mile to another neighbor. Same situation.

Mrs. Breed then drove to the Clifton fire house and notified the firemen. On the way to the fire a fire truck dropped a rear wheel through the wooden planks of a bridge and a tow truck had to rescue it.

First postage stamps for letter postage were issued in England in 1840, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Automation Now Comes To Solve Farm Problems

NEW YORK (AP)—Automation is winning a firm place in the vocabulary of today's farmer.

It helps him lick problems of operation costs. With it he can coax more out of acreage that may be restricted in size by government controls. Or it can let him buy and cultivate another 40 and still keep the whole thing a family farm.

Automated gadgets are also prime factors in the struggles of the farm equipment industry with its earnings problems, often acute in recent years.

Sales of automated farm machinery should show a gain of 5 to 8 per cent this year over last, if increased production of this form of equipment is any indication. Makers of automatic equipment to be fitted into farm machinery report their orders are climbing steadily.

Automation is used in its broad sense of mechanical operation or control of farm machinery. Example: Combines designed to perform a variety of chores. Automation doesn't mean that the farmer himself isn't very much in the picture.

Based on his orders from farm equipment makers, Steven P. J. Wood, president of Warner Electric Brake & Clutch Co., Beloit, Wis., says this should be a banner year. He estimates that the average farmer already has an investment of $50,000 per worker in farm machinery.

Warner's sales to makers of combines increased by 850 per cent between 1953 and 1960. And Wood says that this year one manufacturer is equipping 60 per cent of his combines with automatic electric clutches, compared with 40 per cent last year.

Weed Gives TV Permit

WEED — Weed city councilmen have granted a franchise to Jack Colombano to install a cable television system here.

Colombano stated he hopes to begin installation in the downtown area in April. He operates a radio and television service here.

Colombano said he will install a receiver on Reservoir Hill that should pick up good signals from Channel 2 and Channel 5.

He plans to charge $100 for each installation and $4 per month. The city will receive two per cent of the monthly charge.

Councilmen in other action voted to hire Nancy Fruzza as a part-time assistant to the deputy city clerk. The job will pay $1.50 per hour.

They also decided to give the contract for city general liability insurance to the Gary Girdler Insurance Company of Dunsmuir during the period ending June 30.

Lumber Shippers Like New Method

By PEGGY WALSH

YREKA—Prepackaging, an accepted modern device, is catching on as a method of shipping lumber by rail.

It is being introduced to lumbermen in Siskiyou County in the interest of speedier delivery, easier handling and reduced costs, Sam Burton, Shasta Division superintendent for Southern Pacific Company, explained today.

"The prepackaged lumber is banded together with metal straps after being loaded in overlapping units," Burton stated. "Points of stress and weakness are eliminated as the overlapping creates one weight mass, less subject to shifting than loosely stacked lumber.

"In addition to the metal straps, rough 2x4's are the only other shipping materials needed. These support the load to allow fork-lift loading and unloading and anchor it to prevent side shifting," Burton continued in explaining dunnage costs are reduced by about one third over the standard method of stacking and staking lumber for shipment.

The new method of loading a flatcar using wire-bound units of lumber was demonstrated at the J. F. Sharp Lumber Company in Yreka last week.

In 55 minutes, three men using a fork lift and a metal banding device loaded a flatcar with 35,000 board feet of lumber and had it ready to roll. This is a sharp reduction in time required for standard methods of lumber loading.

Lynn Cecil, general manager of the Yreka Western Railroad which serves Yreka and its five lumber mills, was among the lumber and railmen observing the loading. He said the car being loaded was destined for Saugus, Calif., via Yreka Western and Southern Pacific. He said he was advocating the new loading system to his lumber shippers.

After initial testing on the Southern Pacific system, some shipments originating in Siskiyou County are now going to East Coast points via other lines as test loads.

Lumber companies in Weed, Yreka, Hilt, Klamath Falls, Anderson and other Northern California points are finding the new method cuts labor and material costs. Test of the system indicate lumber arrives at the point of destination in better shape.

In prepackaged units, it can be unloaded in about 15 minutes per car, rail officials concluded.

Girl Scouts, Brownies To Don Uniforms

WEED — The 138 members of Girl Scout and Brownie Troops in Weed will wear their uniforms this week in observance of Girl Scout Week. "Honor the Past—Serve the Future" will be the overall theme during the 1961 Girl Scout Week, March 12-18.

Traditionally the Weed Girl Scouts and Brownies will attend a church of their choice Sunday to commemorate Girl Scout Sunday and are expected to attend in uniform and be seated in a group.

A 9:30 mass has been set at the Holy Family Catholic Church by the Rev. James Vaughan for the girls of Catholic faith.

"Girls today are growing up in an ever-changing, complex society," according to Mrs. J. P. Barcaglia, neighborhood chairman, "and we, in Girl Scouting, believe that the Girl Scout program offers real life experiences for girls 7-17."

The Girl Scout program is in tune with space age demands for responsible young people, she adds, and has expanding, flexible interest fields for exploring minds.

Intermediate and particularly Senior Girl Scouting provides opportunities for girls to pursue their own interests and to develop new interests.

"The Girl Scouts in our community belong to a growing family of 3,420,000 members, and our girls are tied by the Girl Scout Promise and Laws to the 2,650,000 girls and 770,000 men and women registered in the movement," Mrs. Barcaglia added.

City Divided On Pigeons

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Don't mention this to the Chamber of Commerce, please, but San Francisco is divided roughly into two kinds of people—those who feed pigeons, and those who flinch when they fly over.

The city fathers held another unsuccessful conference Friday on what to do about pigeons, but unlike previous meetings, this one ended with an idea—for a sort of bird Alcatraz.

The meeting considered a proposal put forward by the Bird Guardian League and championed by the Citizens Committee in Support of the Bird Guardian League, the chairman of which is Miss Elizabeth Blodgett, a nursery school teacher.

Miss Blodgett called for building a giant pigeon cage at San Bruno next to the county jail to house an estimated 6,000 pigeons. They would be caught by the city's pigeon lovers, acting as volunteers, and the cage would be built on city jail property at an estimated cost of $10,000 to $15,000.

Man Illegally Held In Jail

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Jessie Marshall was freed Friday after having been held in jail without just cause for more than six months, Cecil Stoker, probation officer, said.

Stoker said a clerical error caused the slip-up. He discovered Marshall's plight in checking on the man's probation status Friday.

Marshall, 38, a Negro, was indicted last July on a robbery charge. The complaint was dismissed on Aug. 31, however, when the injured party decided he did not want to prosecute.

A report on the dismissal apparently was lost, and Marshall remained in jail.

Officer Talks About Guard

YREKA—"Your National Guard in Your Community" was the subject of a talk given by 1st Lt. Everett Main, California National Guard, when he appeared before the Yreka Chamber of Commerce during its semi-monthly dinner meeting last week.

Lieutenant Main announced that Company B of the 1401st Engineer Battalion, stationed here in Mount Shasta, will transport its heavy equipment and manpower here March 18 and 19 to landscaping Discovery Park.

The park is the Jaycees' major current project. They recently raised funds to start work with a show. Bob McGuire, manager of Broadway Theater, announced that the theater would have a Jaycee Theater Day to benefit the park.

Co-chairmen for the activity will be George Davis and Dave Camara. Further announcements on this project will be made later.

Also present at the meeting was Bob Hill, vice president of the state Junior Chamber of Commerce.

An invitation has been extended by the National Guard and Jaycees to local residents to visit the project.

A comprehensive report on the activities of the Business and Industry Development Committee was given by Dan Girdner Jr., who urged more participation.

Name Vital On Income Tax Return

When you mail that check or money order for federal taxes, be sure Uncle Sam doesn't have to guess which Joe Smith, or Tom Brown, or Joe Zilch to credit. Or just what tax you want to pay.

A. G. Erickson, district director of the Internal Revenue Service for the state of Oregon, said recently that each year he receives many payments that are not properly identified.

As a result, he said, some of the taxpayers involved may not receive proper credit, or payments to their tax accounts may not be recorded until after considerable delay occasioned by checking records or exchanging correspondence.

In some instances, taxpayers may even continue to receive bills for taxes they had sought to pay, he added.

To avoid such pitfalls, Erickson said, persons making payments to the Internal Revenue Service should observe these "musts":

1. Follow carefully the instructions accompanying each return, bill or notice.

2. Be sure to enclose with your remittance the properly filled out return, or the director's copy of the bill or notice as indicated. It is best to attach these to your check or money order.

3. Where your account number is given, enter it on your check.

4. Print your name and address legibly wherever called for.

5. Be sure you mail your remittance to the proper Internal Revenue Service office.

Also pointed out was that some 975,000 tax returns of various types, for income taxes, excise, employment, social security, etc., are filed in the Oregon District each year.

The district director said that while his office makes every effort to match up unidentified payments promptly with the proper accounts, considerable delay is bound to result for many of these cases during the income tax filing period, because of the large number of returns filed.
