Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—Late profit taking trimmed gains of a vigorous stock market rally but the list was still well ahead at the close.

The ticker tape lagged under the pressure of heavy dealings as the session ended.

Volume for the day was estimated at 6 million shares compared with 5.61 million Thursday.

Key stocks held gains of fractions to around a point, generally. Some did better. More speculative or higher-priced issues gained 2 or more.

The list was higher at the start as confidence rode on better business reports, including news that the industrial production index had steadied in February after a six-month decline.

Steels, motors, chemicals, oils and airlines did well.

Later in the day aircraft-missile stocks picked up strength as some other prices were trimmed. United Aircraft spurted about 2 points and General Dynamics more than 1.

Search Pressed For Youth

A police search was continuing Friday for an 18-year-old Klamath Falls youth wanted in Medford on a forgery charge.

A circuit court warrant has been issued in Medford for the arrest of Roger Dean Ballard, 309 Washington Street. The youth is also wanted for questioning in regard to three car thefts in Medford and Klamath Falls.

Ballard's two-day spree started late Tuesday night or early Thursday morning when he allegedly took his father's car without permission. The father, Gene Ballard, said the car was parked at the corner of Main and Sixth streets.

The youth apparently drove to Medford, where he is accused of passing at least one forged check. Police got on his trail and spotted him once but Ballard allegedly stole another car and headed south down Highway 99. State police reported that they chased the car in the Siskiyou area but lost it.

The scene shifted back to Klamath Falls Thursday morning when Economy Auto Wreckers, 1846 South Sixth Street, reported that someone broke into their place and stole a car. Manager M. C. Mayes said they were doing some work on the car for young Ballard. There was a $400 bill due on the car and Ballard last week had allegedly attempted to give Mayes a check for that amount.

A car fitting the description of the one stolen in Medford was found abandoned Thursday on Owens Street near Eberlein Street.

Police bulletins have been issued by the Medford and Klamath Falls police departments. Medford police warned that Ballard "may be armed," but Klamath Falls officers said the youth is probably "just running scared."

Ballard was a senior at Klamath Union High School and was an end on the football team last fall. He has a record of minor offenses but no major crimes, according to City Juvenile Officer Ray Howard.

Taylor Held In Shooting

Isaac (Tex) Taylor was charged with assault with intent to kill Thursday afternoon upon his release from Klamath Valley Hospital, where he had been treated for knife slashes on his throat.

Taylor, 35, 550 Broad Street, was involved in a shooting and stabbing melee in a Broad Street barber shop last Sunday afternoon. He is accused of shooting at Alex Lyles, who is a barber, in a small cabin at 432½ Broad Street.

Police said Taylor was angry and had been drinking before he opened fire with a .38 caliber revolver. The concussion from the blast bruised Lyles' hip. Lyles is then said to have retaliated with a straight razor.

Taylor was in jail in lieu of $5,000 bail.

Youths Unhurt In Car Crash

Five Chiloquin youths escaped injury early Friday morning when the car in which they were riding skidded out of control and overturned in the roadside ditch on Highway 66 near Dairy.

Seventeen-year-old Fred James Brown of Chiloquin, the driver of the car, said he lost control on a patch of icy pavement and the car toppled into the ditch upside down. Brown called state police.

The car was badly damaged and was towed from the scene.

Question Girl After Knifing

A 17-year-old Chiloquin girl was being questioned by city police Friday morning in connection with the Thursday night stabbing of a 41-year-old Klamath Falls man.

The stabbing victim was Ivan L. Horton, 41, 619 North Eleventh Street. He was taken to Klamath Valley Hospital with a knife wound on the left side of his back. Horton, the girl, and the girl's grandfather were all arrested for being drunk in public.

Police were called to the Klamath Court, 2514 South Sixth Street, Thursday night in regard to the knifing. As the police car pulled up, officers saw a car starting to leave. Police stopped the car and found the girl and the two men inside. The trio got out and police said they were all staggering.

Horton was bleeding profusely and was taken to the hospital. He and the girl both said she was jealous and had accused him of drinking with other women. Horton said they were to have been married in June.

Two other men who had been in the cabin said they had heard Horton and the girl arguing. They checked and saw Horton's wound and tried to stop the bleeding.

Police found a knife and three gallons of wine behind the door of the cabin. The investigation is continuing.

Police Report Car Stolen

Another car theft, the third in three days this week, was reported to city police Thursday.

J. C. Peters, 427 Michigan Street, said his car was stolen shortly after noon Thursday from in front of his home. Peters said he was working in his back yard and the keys were in the car. Neighbors said they saw a youth get in the car and drive off.

Leo H. Bauer of the Ellingson Lumber Company reported the theft of a pickup truck load of heavy insulated copper wire from the company's storage yard. The theft occurred between Monday and Thursday.

Ray Scaife, Cooley Hall, OTI, said someone broke into his room about a week and a half ago and stole his wrist watch.

Mrs. E. E. Brow, 2341 Garden Street, said a prankster let the air out of her car's tires late Wednesday night.

Michele McNoise Crowned Queen Of Indian Tourney

By RUTH KING

CHILOQUIN — Talented Michele McNoise, a dancer and baton twirler of Klamath Falls, became 1961 queen of this year's All-Indian Basketball Tournament on the opening night of tournament play. Mrs. J. Edward (June) Poitras, Portland, member of the Klamath Tribe, opened ceremonies, singing the National Anthem.

Suspense among the three girl candidates was ended when Queen Ramona Soto, also of Klamath Falls, who presided over the 1960 tourney, presented Michele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haines McNoise, with a handsome wrist watch. Ramona was also accompanist for Mrs. Poitras.

Princesses are Helen Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elnathan Davis, Klamath Falls, and Karen Jenkins, daughter of Mrs. Verna Scott, Klamath Falls, and C. E. Jenkins, Fort Klamath.

Also present was the 1959 queen, Viola James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde James of Fossil, Ore.

The new monarch was chosen on poise, personality, her costume and on tickets sold. On the basis of tickets, Michele, in addition to her wrist watch presented by the Bly Logging Company, was presented with a $25 savings bond.

Karen Jenkins placed first in ticket sales competition to win a transistor radio. Helen Davis, in third place, won several cases of Coca Cola. All prizes for sales competition were given by the Coca Cola Bottling Company of Klamath Falls.

Indian dancers from both local and visiting tribes performed at half time and between games in competition for cash awards.

Dancers will be presented $75 for first place, $50 for second, $25 for third and $15 for fourth place. A handsome first place trophy will be presented by Pete's Texaco Station of Chiloquin.

Cash awards for the best costume will be $20 for first and $10 for second place. All cash prizes will be given by the Reservation Jaycees. Williamson River Methodist Church gave first; William Lorenz Plumbing and Heating, second.

Costumes worn by the dancers this year are exceptionally colorful and competition has brought some of the top talent from a number of visiting tribes to Chiloquin.

The entertainment program tonight at half time and between games will include Indian dances and a performance by the Girls Pep Club of Chiloquin High School under the direction of faculty member Rosalie Hobach. Warm Springs tribal members will both sing and dance.

A dance spectacular is planned for Saturday afternoon, the hour and a half program to be one of the most ambitious ever attempted at the tournament.

Jaycees, in announcing the plans, report that the Saturday performance will include dances by Queen Michele, Klamath Tribe; Tony Shoulderblade, Cheyenne Tribe of Beatty; Bob James, Piute, Washoe Tribe, Fallon, Nev.; Henry Cole, Klamath Tribe of Chiloquin; Rudy Saluskin, Yakima Tribe, Toppenish, Wash.; Byron Patt and Dan Scott, Warm Springs Tribe, Madras, and Steven Kirk, Klamath Tribe of Beatty.

Dances will include the impressive Eagle Dance, fast and slow war dances, hoop, feather, owl, skip, grass and possibly the difficult canoe dance.

The public is invited to see these old dances being preserved by the youth of the tribes.

Jury Deliberating Fate Of Verna Lee Ruff Today

The fate of Verna Lee Ruff was in the hands of a 10-man, 2-woman circuit court jury Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Ruff, 31-year-old Sprague River woman, is charged with the second degree knife murder of 38-year-old Joseph W. Penasse, also of Sprague River.

The opposing lawyers made their final arguments to the jury Friday forenoon. Deputy District Attorney Robert M. Redding called for a guilty verdict in accusing Mrs. Ruff of "deliberately and purposely" stabbing Penasse.

"She has changed her story since Feb. 4," Redding said. "If this was an accident, why didn't she say so then? Because she just thought of it, that's why."

Defense Attorney Glenn D. Ratnirez contended that none of the state witnesses proved that Penasse had been murdered. He belittled testimony by Irven W. (Johnny) Holt and the sheriff's office.

"The only purpose of the sheriff (Murray Britton) was to get Mrs. Ruff to say that she stabbed Penasse," Ramirez said. "But, on the witness stand, his memory was none too good." Sheriff Britton earlier testified that Mrs. Ruff gave a "confession" that she committed the stabbing.

Mrs. Ruff testified in her own behalf Thursday afternoon. She said she loved Penasse and denied that she stabbed him to death. She said they had argued during the day Feb. 4 and she tried to "make up" with him when they pulled into the yard of her brother's (Bobby Lee Beal) house in Sprague River.

"Joe had been giving me trouble and I was feeling bad," Mrs. Ruff said. "I asked him to step out of the car and, when he did, I tried to kiss him. But he shoved me and said, 'I'll fix you.' He hit me and took his hand from his pocket. He always kept a beer opener in his pocket.

"I shoved Joe and he dropped the opener," Mrs. Ruff continued. "I got it and he grabbed me by the hair. At that time, I had the knife between my knees. I started hitting his hand and he let go." Penasse was later found to have cuts on his right wrist.

Mrs. Ruff said Penasse then knocked her down and fell on her. She said she was able to get up but Penasse remained on the ground.

"I thought he had had another heart attack," Mrs. Ruff said. She recalled that Penasse had beaten her on several occasions and said he had threatened to kill her.

Mrs. Ruff and her mother, Mrs. Jane Lawvor of Sprague River, contradicted testimony by Sheriff Murray Britton and Deputy Sheriff Alvie Youngblood regarding an alleged "confession." Both women said Mrs. Ruff never admitted the stabbing. They also implied threats were used to obtain the statement.

"Mr. Youngblood said they could keep me in jail all summer to find out who killed Joe," Mrs. Ruff said. "They (the sheriff's office) said they had proof that I stabbed Joe and I had the impression that it didn't make much difference what I said."

Mrs. Lawvor said Youngblood offered "protection."

"He said somebody might want to kill Verna, me or my grandson," Mrs. Lawvor said. "He didn't say who might want to do that."

IKE GOES FISHING

LA PAZ, Baja California, Mexico (UPI) — Former President Eisenhower spent Thursday marlin fishing aboard a chartered fishing vessel. Eisenhower arrived at this secluded resort last Saturday and was expected to return to his Palm Springs, Calif., vacation spot by Monday.

Central Catholic, Douglas Win Tournament Games

McARTHUR COURT, Eugene, (AP)—Central Catholic defeated St. Helens, 47-42, to enter the finals of the lower bracket of the consolation round in the Oregon A-1 Basketball Tournament here Friday morning.

The victory gives Central a chance for fifth place and eliminates St. Helens from the tourney.

The game was a seesaw affair all the way, and St. Helens had a one-point lead until almost the last minute of the game. Les Henderson put the Rams ahead 43-42 with only 38 seconds left.

St. Helens made desperate efforts to get the ball in the last half minute, but only succeeding in fouling Central's Joe Quirk, who put the game on ice.

The game was tied three times in the first period, which ended with Central Catholic leading, 17-14. St. Helens forged ahead to hold a one-point edge at the half, 25-24. Central came back to lead at the three-quarter mark, 35-32.

St. Helens' last rally came midway in the fourth period when center Bob Nichols came up with a three-point play to pull within one point of the Rams at 39-38. Nichols then got in the clear under the basket and got his team ahead at 39-38.

St. Helens began ball-control tactics while holding the narrow margin but Central's guards seemed superior at the time and the Rams fought back to take the game.

McARTHUR COURT, Eugene (AP)—David Douglas went into the lower bracket of the consolation finals at the Oregon A-1 Basketball Tournament when they out-fought Tillamook, 51-47, Friday.

Central Catholic entered the finals in the first morning game by defeating St. Helens, 47-42.

With David Douglas meeting Central Catholic with fifth place in the tournament at stake, the two metro league teams from Portland will be playing off the rubber game.

During their regular league season, each won one game. Central had the better record during the season and took the metro championship.

ENDS HOSPITAL STAY

WEST LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Comedian Mel Blanc was scheduled to leave UCLA Medical Center today, nearly two months after he was injured critically in an auto crash. Blanc, the voice of Bugs Bunny and scores of cartoon characters, will recuperate at his home.

In the David Douglas-Tillamook game, it seemed as though the Scots had an easy victory by the middle of the last period when they had a lead of 10 points. At this point, Tillamook's Leon Thompson and Mark Sather got the Cheesemakers back into contention as the Scots could not find the basket.

In this stretch little David Douglas guard Terry DeSylvia missed the first shot each time of three one-and-one free throw combinations. Previously, DeSylvia had displayed almost deadly accuracy at the foul line with seven out of eight.

Thompson was high point man in the game with 22 and Sather was second with 18.

The Scots had three players in double figures — Jim Horner with 15, Hoyt Keeney with 12, and DeSylvia with 11.

Attendance for the morning games was 2,454.

In the afternoon games, in the top bracket of the consolation round which will have the eventual winner in fourth place in the final Saturday afternoon game, Corvallis meets South Eugene and South Salem takes on Roseburg.
