Quarter-Finals Pit Tall Flyers, Temple

NEW YORK (AP) — The long and the short of the National Invitation Tournament meet in one of the quarter-finals in Madison Square Garden tonight. They're scared stiff of each other.

Dayton, five times a finalist and never a winner, has the tallest team in the tourney. The Flyers play Temple's Tiny Tims in the opener of the doubleheader.

In the second game, Niagara—the only other seeded team left besides Dayton—goes against Providence. The winners go into the semifinals on Thursday. The final is scheduled for Saturday.

"I know all about these little guys," said Dayton Coach Tom Blackburn, referring to Temple. "They are not easy to beat. In fact, the little teams have been dominating this tournament."

Furthermore, one of our tall guys, Bill Cramsey (6-3), may not be able to play. He suffered a hairline break in his elbow three weeks ago. He's been working out and shooting, but the shots have not been going in. The doctors will take another look at him before the game and tell us whether he can play.

New American Loop To Sport 'Changes'

CHICAGO (AP) — Professional basketball will have a new look in the American Basketball League, which starts operations in the fall.

That's the word of acting Commissioner Abe Saperstein, who has learned over the years as owner of the independent Harlem Globetrotters how to give the fans what they want to see.

"There are going to be rule changes, a premium placed on the smaller player and a better balance between offense and defense," Saperstein said in an interview.

"We plan to paint an area 25 feet in front of the baskets and a field goal from behind it will be worth three points. This should be as interesting as a home run in baseball. It will get the good, little man in position to shoot and the fans will see the ball going through the air and swishing through the hoop."

Saperstein also is widening the keyhole along the base line to 18 feet, the Olympic distance, to keep the big man away from the basket.

"We also intend to legalize contact," Saperstein continued. "I don't mean we'll be playing a football type of game. But there will be addition of some body con-

Cincinnati Slugger Pleads Guilty To Charge Monday

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Frank Robinson, slugging Cincinnati Reds baseball team outfielder, pleaded guilty in Common Pleas Court Monday to a charge of carrying concealed weapons and was fined $250 and costs.

Under the law the Negro ball player could have been sentenced from one to three years in prison.

The charge against Robinson grew out of an argument in a restaurant here on Feb. 9. Robinson was accused of having drawn a pistol during the dispute.

He said at that time he drew the weapon after he saw a cook in the restaurant make a threatening motion with a knife. The cook claimed he did not get the

Not Too Tall
NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—The girl basketball player whose height was reported as 8 feet, 2 inches, actually is 16 inches shorter.

Dolores Pulfard, 14, is 6 feet, 10 inches—still a lofty height even for a basketball player.

The higher figure was reported through a misunderstanding at Charity Hospital where the De Quincy, La., High School student is being treated for a knee injury. It seems the Negro girl told a nurse she was "eight two" in height. She meant 32 inches, but the hospital took it to mean "8-foot-2" and reported her as possibly the tallest in the world.

Chi Sox Star Says He's Not Too Old

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Tease Minoso about the way he murders the English language and his face breaks out in a white toothed grin. Plunk him in the ribs with a pitched ball and he combedly rubs the sore spot and trots to first base.

But just ask him his age and the easy-going, good-natured Chicago White Sox star bristles with indignation.

"You think I too old to play?" Minoso asked challengingly when the question was put to him today. "You think maybe I should hang up glove? Writers always trying to run players off field years before they're supposed to do so. Some players quiet ahead of time because writers get on them if they have had year."

Minoso, who will be 38 on his next birthday, enjoyed one of his finest seasons in 1960, his 10th in the big leagues.

At an age when most players are either through or considering retirement the flashy Cuban ranked third in the league with his .311 batting average. He collected more hits than any other batter and was no lower than third in runs batted-in, runs scored, total bases, doubles and outfielders' assists. He also stole 17 bases to rank among the leaders in thefts.

"No one is too old if he can still produce," said Minoso. "I play 154 games last year. I move in league did that. I nobody in over 100 runs. How many did that? I can still steal bases as good as anybody and no one loves to play more than I. When away from me, then I quiet. Up to now, no one can do it."

"I know my age and I'm proud of it. But I don't talk about it. I have dignity. I have respect for everyone, old and young. I am grateful for everyone for giving me chance, for making me somebody in my home city (Marianao, Cuba). I thank God every day for giving me ability to play baseball. I never expected to play in big leagues this long."

Pilot Hopes Tiger Club To Pay Off Playoff Series Set Tonight

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The Detroit Tigers may be shaking their "fat cats" reputation, but their new business-like approach to baseball may not be enough to lift them out of sixth place.

For Manager Bob Scheffing, the 1961 season will be one of trial and he hopes, not too many errors. Veterans call this training camp the best organized and most spirited in years. But the former Chicago Cubs manager needs more than an improved attitude to pump new life into the Tigers.

For years the Tigers have been rapped as the most contented group of second division players in baseball.

Scheffing is forced to attempt the latest rejuvenation with untried rookies. There are 20 players on the 36-man roster who were not listed on the Spring roster of 1960.

A winter trade brought center fielder Bill Bruton and Scheffing has moved Al Kaline back to his old right field spot and put slugger Rocky Colavito in left.

The manager came to camp with two major problems — his infield and the catching.

Dick Brown is the number one catcher. At 26, he is trying for a regular job with his third team.

The manager says his infield "could be our most pleasant surprise or our biggest disappointment." The key figures are third baseman Steve Boros and second baseman Jake Wood, who have only seven years of minor league apprenticeship between them.

Minor Loops Must Expand

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — The minor leagues must expand to at least 30 clubs in order to stock 20 major league teams in 1962—that's the contention of minor league President George Trautman.

"The major league clubs know the only way they can stock their ball clubs is through the minor leagues," said Trautman. "They realize we can't produce all the players needed under our present setup."

Trautman said he was certain the major leagues in their expansion to aid the minors are planning "because if they aren't, then they are killing off their own young."

Hitters Have Ball

Pitchers Having Spring Training Woes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The ball hitters are smashing the way off, and over, the fences in Florida and Arizona, the name of the game could be ricochet instead of baseball.

The carnage continued unabated Monday with the St. Louis Cardinals inflating the worst damage by flogging Cincinnati pitchers for 19 hits, including seven doubles and a triple, in a 14-5 exhibition victory over the Reds.

Pittsburgh Pirates, while in a night game the Kansas City Athletics edged the Washington Senators 4-3 on Jerry Lumpe's two-run double in the ninth inning.

Bill White led the Cardinals with four hits, two of them doubles, and Stan Musial contributed a single, double and triple against Cincinnati pitching hopefuls Ray Rippelmeyer, Dave Stenhouse and Zach Monroe. Vada Pinson had a single and two triples for the Reds.

Cleveland right-hander Jim Perry pitched scoreless, four-hit ball in a six-inning stint against the Giants. Woodie Held led the homering triumvirate with a three-run shot while Tito Francona and Hal Jones added two-run clouts.

The Yankees put together a four-run outburst in the sixth and came up with six in the seventh to hold off the Dodgers, who got a homer and triple from Willie Davis and four RBI performance by Wally Moon, Mickey Mantle had a homer and double for New York.

Vic Wertz, with 3-for-4, powered the Red Sox. Wertz' run-producing single in the ninth chased the winning run across after his three-run homer had kept Boston in contention. Gene Leek had a homer, double and single for the Angels.

Chuck Essegian's two-run homer in the fifth and a three-run homer by Ron Sanford in the sixth brought the Orioles, trailing 6-0, within range of the Pirates. Baltimore then won it two to one in the ninth on Essegian's double, singles by Jerry Adair and Whitey Herzog, and an error.

Lumpe's game-winning double for Kansas City came with two out and the bases loaded off Washington reliever Marty Kutyna. The Athletics entered the bottom of the ninth trailing 3-2 when Ray Semproch filled the bases on three walks. Bud Doley, Johnny Kucks and Don Larsen worked for the A's, who won their seventh game in nine starts.

Ducks 'Too Smart'

Leo Harris Draws Blast From Trojans

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The University of Oregon, and especially its athletic director, Leo Harris, will never win a popularity contest at the University of Southern California.

SC track coach Jess Mortensen made that plain Monday at the track writers luncheon when he said he'd like to see the Ducks to "keep 'em in their place; they are getting too smart."

Mortensen, who never has lost in his 10 years at the Trojan helm, said the Ducks won't be invited here for a dual meet "until one of our directors die," referring to SC's Jess Hill and Harris. "We just don't happen to like Leo Harris," he said. "I don't think it's a secret."

Mort made it clear that SC lays much of the blame for the death of the Pacific Coast Conference at the feet of Harris.

SC and Oregon, track with two of the nation's finest track teams, meet April 22 in Palo Alto, Calif., in a double dual meet that includes Stanford. The two teams are very

Chi Quint Enters Tourney

DETROIT (UPI) — The Mountingstars of Chicago, considered one of the nation's outstanding teams and boasting such stars as Buddy Boman, Johnny King, Bill Bunetta and Carmen Salvo, invade the American Bowling Congress Chicago tournament.

The Chicago club will be trying to oust the present Continental Division leader, the Continental Classics of Roseville, Mich., and their 5903 total.

The Bowlers Shop team of Fort Worth, Tex., showed a weak 2664 to go with a 2723 opening series for their 5433 total.

Two Classic teams began play Monday night. The United Van Lines opened with 2775 while the Ralicha Cafe team of Cleveland had 2677.

A regular division team did the best scoring Monday night as the Utility Laundry Club of Chaffman, N.J., totaled 2905. The McGrath and Dohmen team of Detroit rolled 2792 for second place in the booster division.

Robert McKee of Wheaton, Md., in minor events play, bowled a 682 singles series for fourth place in the regular singles division. Another change in the standings occurred as Ophir Veltenoweth of Wheeling, W.Va., led 648 for sixth place in the singles.

St. Louis Faces LA In Playoff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The St. Louis Hawks, inactive the past 10 days, are raring to go as they open their National Basketball Association Western Division best-of-five final playoffs against the Los Angeles Lakers at home tonight.

The Hawks have been taking it easy while the Lakers were extended to five games before eliminating the Detroit Pistons in a semifinal series.

The second game of the Eastern Division finals also is on tap tonight with the Boston Celtics meeting the Nationals in Syracuse. The Celts won the opener in Boston Sunday, 128-115. The Nats reached the finals with a three-game sweep of the Philadelphia Warriors.

St. Louis coach Paul Seymour isn't afraid the Hawks will be rusty from their long layoff. "We needed the rest," he said. "Several players were run down but now the entire club is in good shape."

Last season the Hawks defeated the Lakers, who were then representing Minneapolis, 4-3 in the playoffs. Two years ago the Lakers won the series from St. Louis 4-2.

The second game of the series will be played in St. Louis Wednesday night.

Boston is aiming for its fourth NBA championship in five seasons. The Celts defeated St. Louis in seven games for the title last year.

The third game in the Eastern finals will take place Thursday night in Boston.

Yanks Lacking Bench; Want Duke Snider

VERO BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Veteran Duke Snider of the Los Angeles Dodgers is the man the New York Yankees are after to rebuild the bench that was broken by the player pool for the American League's two new clubs.

A Yankee spokesman has been talking with Dodger general manager Buzz Bavasi about the 34-year-old outfielder as a follow-up to discussions about Snider which were held during the winter baseball meetings in St. Louis last December.

The Dodgers want catching help in return and the Yankees are well-stocked in that department. Since the inter-league trading period isn't in effect now, any deal between the two clubs would have to be made via the purchase or waiver route.

Bavasi is in no particular hurry to get rid of Snider, who looks in excellent trim at 195 pounds, the lowest he has been in 12 years, and feels he can start 125 to 130 games this year.

"Buzzy never told me definitely that I wouldn't go to another club," said Snider, who tailed off to 243 last season but still managed to hit 14 homers in 101 games. "What he did say at the time I signed my contract was that he would not trade me unless he was certain that it would benefit the club."

Snider would just as soon finish his career with the Dodgers, whom he first reported to in 1947.

No longer puffy around the jaws or flabby around the waistline, the Duke has been rocketing balls over the right field wall here at Dodgertown all spring to the delight of all the Los Angeles brass.

AAU Tourney In 2nd Round

DENVER (UPI) — Five games today wind up the first round of the 54th national AAU basketball tournament, which opened in the Denver Coliseum Monday night with a pair of high-scoring, no-defense contests.

The Stevenson Biggers of Topoka, Kan., led by Big Eight Conference star Bill Bridges of Kansas State, beat Old Southern Foods of Jacksonville, Fla., 101-83, and the Cheyenne Merchants defeated the Navy All-Stars, 98-83, in the opening games.

A winter trade brought center fielder Bill Bruton and Scheffing has moved Al Kaline back to his old right field spot and put slugger Rocky Colavito in left.

The manager came to camp with two major problems — his infield and the catching.
