

Butler Shooting Tale Told To Cowan Jury

Charles Hood Sr., found sleeping Wednesday afternoon in a local hotel, testified Thursday afternoon that he saw Ransom Cowan shoot Bybee Butler on May 26.

Sowan, 65, of Chiloquin is on trial in circuit court for first degree murder. Hood, 64, is the state's main witness. He was arrested Wednesday on a warrant charging him with contempt of court for failing to appear.

Hood firmly maintained that he saw the shooting despite a nauseous cross examination by J. C. O'Neill, one of Cowan's two defense attorneys (the other is R. F. McLare). O'Neill wanted to know why Hood told a different story at the preliminary hearing.

"At the preliminary hearing you said 'I don't know whether he shot him or not. I heard a couple of gunfire,'" O'Neill reminded Hood.

"Now why do you say you saw the shooting?" Hood didn't know why but he stuck to his story.

Under direct examination by District Attorney Dale T. Crabtree, Hood said he, Cowan and Butler were drinking wine the night of May 26. At one point, Hood said Cowan fell off a chair and knocked over a small stove. Cowan apparently told Butler to pick up the stove. When Butler refused, Hood said Cowan went into another room and got his caliber rifle, came back and fired two shots at Butler.

Deputy Sheriff Alvie O. Youngblood and Sgt. Schomover, Chiloquin police chief, also testified Thursday. The absence of the state, Youngblood related a statement given to him by Cowan on the morning of May 27.

Schomover said he picked the gun up. Dr. Robert I. K. Wood said Wednesday that Butler had two bullet wounds in the chest and that Cowan was "drunk and a little irrational" on May 26.

Girl Disappointed With Lump Of Dirt

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 15 and my boy friend is 16. He went to Europe with his folks and was gone six weeks. His letters were wonderful, especially the parts where he said he missed me very much.

He got back yesterday and of course I was dying to see what he brought me in the way of a gift. Well, he handed me a paper sack and guess what was in it—a lump of dirt from Ireland. We are Irish but I think this is a pretty poor excuse for a present. I'm anxious to let him know how I feel but my mother says to control my temper and say nothing. What do you advise?—LET DOWN

Dear Let Down: What were you expecting—a Bentley? Say nothing about your disappointment. After all, a daughter of Erin should be proud to own some of the old sod. And I must say the kid is plenty smart. This is really something you can pick up at a last minute!

Dear Ann Landers: I know you are a practical woman who looks at all angles. Please give me some help.

My husband and I were divorced because I told him to choose between me and his 15-hour-a-day taxi job. He chose the taxi. He asked if he could continue to live in the house and pay room and board, and take the kid out every Sunday, as always. I agreed.

The arrangement has been going on for two years and it has worked out pretty well for both of us. In fact, we get along better now than we ever did. The kids do realize we are divorced because neither of us had the heart to tell them.

Last night the kid suggested we get married again. What do you think?—WYRTLE

Dear Wyrte: I think it's a shame that a 15-year-old boy would suggest a remarriage. You should be as well. —ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: My mother is wonderful. She's good-natured and understanding. I know how lucky I am when I listen to some of my girl friends talk about their mothers. But I love my mother which gives me bug-ey.

She has a habit of repeating things to me which I already know. For example she'll say, "Don't forget to put water in the ice tray before you put it back." Or, "remember to wash the let-

Anti-Bossism Victory Wrecks Tammany Hall

NEW YORK (AP)—A smashing victory by Mayor Robert F. Wagner on an "anti-bossism" platform today wrecked the city's old line Democratic organization, led by Tammany Hall Chief Carmine G. DeSapio.

Wagner, backed by insurgents, defeated the organization candidate, State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, in a record outpouring of voters for a Democratic primary.

The final vote was 451,458 to 291,672. The total vote of 743,130 bettered the previous Democratic primary mark of 718,000 set in 1937.

Wagner will face State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, unopposed for the Republican nomination, in the Nov. 7 general election.

Other insurgents won sufficient district leadership fights to have a good chance of control of Tammany, the Manhattan Democratic organization.

To top it off, DeSapio lost his own district leadership in Greenwich Village to James S. Lanigan, a Harvard-educated lawyer.

That in itself sent DeSapio into political eclipse because to New York County, or Tammany, leader is chosen only from among district leaders.

Wagner said in a victory statement shortly after midnight that the outcome was a triumph for "Democrats who want decency to rule their party."

He said the voters had repudiated DeSapio and that "the other party bosses must get as quickly as possible."

Chief among the others are Charles A. Buckley of the Bronx and Joseph T. Sharkey of Brooklyn, the City Council majority leader.

Wagner had the support of all organization leaders on winning the mayoralty in 1933 and 1937, but split with them this year in favor of the insurgents.

Wagner also broke with City Council President Abe Stark and chose Deputy Mayor Paul R. Screvane as his running mate for that post. Screvane and Budget Director Abraham Beame, Wagner's choice for comptroller, also won nomination.

Stark sought the Democratic nomination for Brooklyn borough president and won easily. Lawrence E. Gerosa, the present city comptroller whom Wagner also dropped, is running for mayor in November as an independent Democrat.

The insurgent forces backing Wagner were headed by former Sen. Herbert H. Lehman and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.
