Who Buys All The Posies? Why, People-- That's Who

Ruth Millett
Newspaper/Enterprise Assn.

Florists want to know "who buys flowers and why" and so they are about to launch a motivational study to get the answer.

Looks as though they would know who buys flowers, doesn't it?

Boys buy them (by the corsage) up to college age—and then they quit for a spell.

Men buy them after they are married—sometimes for sentimental reasons, sometimes because a man can't think of anything else to give his wife. (Just as she can always buy him a necktie or a sports shirt.)

Women buy corsages for other women—luncheon speakers, madame president and honored guests. These usually are orchids, the bigger the better.

Housewives buy flowers for special occasions. They are usually "arrangements" — to center tea and buffet tables. Here the main object is to persuade the florist to make an arrangement from a dozen posies and lots of fern that will somehow manage to look impressive.

Organizations buy flowers for banquets. The person giving these orders always explains: "We don't have much money to spend."

And, of course, somebody has to buy the bunches of flowers little girls are always presenting to visiting dignitaries.

CONSTITUTION WEEK NOTED

— Eighth graders of Altamont Junior High School social studies classes last spring, under the direction of Mrs. Velma Tenney, made posters which are displayed in business firms this week, Constitution Week, Sept. 17 to 23. The week was set aside in June, 1956, by the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives and is proclaimed each year by the president. Posters were judged by Mrs. Isabelle Brixner and Mrs. Mary Hall, vice regent of Eulalona Chapter, DAR, presented a constitution medal to the winner, Mike Faught. Posters were submitted by this group. Seated left to right are Carolee Westvold, Jackie Tesch and Beverly Silva. Standing, same order, Bib Spencer, Lyle Alton, Howard Rooks, Mike Faught and Mrs. Tenney.

CLEAN BEFORE STORING

Vacuum or dust with a stiff brush all reed, cane or wicker furniture before washing and storing. And wash with well-wrung-out sponge or cloth. Too much dampness tends to warp such furniture.

Cooked thinly sliced celery crescents are delicious served with melted butter and drained capers.

BRIDE-ELECT — Mary Ann Hickman will be the future bride of William Jasmur, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lowe, Dunsmuir. The betrothal news was told recently by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hickman of Mount Shasta. Mary Ann is a senior at Mount Shasta High School and secretary of GAA. Her fiancé was graduated from Dunsmuir High School in 1959. He is presently employed by the Southern Pacific Company.

She is a graduate of University of the Pacific and is an instructor in the Oakland public schools. Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett J. Breeden of Merrill, is stationed with the Navy at San Diego. The wedding will take place in Corpus Christi Church in Oakland.

NON-STICK BURGERS

Wet your hands before shaping hamburger patties and you will find that the meat doesn't stick to your hands.

Kitchen waxes may harm wood floors!

Expert warns: Many new self-polish waxes can't be removed from wood floors without serious damage!

As the world's largest maker of hard-wood floors, we feel it is our responsibility to issue this warning to all wood floor owners.

These self-polishing waxes are primarily made from synthetic plastics and do a good job on kitchen floors. They can be removed from linoleum and tile floors without harm, but it's a tough job. However, if you use any of these kitchen waxes on wood floors, you're inviting trouble.

The plain truth is, we can't find anything that will remove these new kitchen waxes from wood floors without serious damage to both the finish and the wood. If you have wood floors, I urge you to read what we have learned . . .

HOW YOU MAY BE HARMING WOOD FLOORS!

Since these new kitchen waxes cannot be removed safely, every time you use them you are putting a fresh coat of wax on top of a soiled one. No matter how conscientiously you clean before waxing, the layers of old, soiled wax will eventually darken and discolor your wood floors.

We are sure you'll recognize the logic of always removing the old, soiled wax before putting on a fresh coat of wax. It's the only way you can have a clean, bright floor!

If your wood floors have already become dark and discolored through the use of these new waxes, the only thing to do is have them refinished. If you're lucky and your wood floors do not get show ill effects, we urgently advise you to change cleaning and waxing methods immediately.

We can assure you that your wood floors can be clean and bright years from now, if you will take care of them in the proper way. After 52 years of experience, we don't know of a better method to clean and wax wood floors than by using either Bruce Floor Cleaner or Bruce Cleaning Wax.

THE RIGHT CARE FOR WOOD FLOORS!

Both of these Bruce products work in the same way. They contain two basic ingredients—a waterless wood floor cleaner (never use water on wood) and a removable liquid paste wax. You actually clean and wax your wood floors at the same time.

Bruce cleans your floor and removes the old, dirty wax . . . then leaves a rich, new coat of real paste wax protection that can be rebuffered any time. Your wood floors will beam with clean natural beauty.

Remember—and I can't stress this too strongly—you must always remove soiled wax before putting on a fresh coat. It's the only way you can keep your wood floors clean and bright!

If you want a heavy coat of wax, we recommend Bruce Cleaning Wax. For lighter waxing or for cleaning extra dirty floors, use Bruce Floor Cleaner. I certainly hope you'll try the Bruce method. You'll find it not only the best wood floor care, but the easiest, too.

Need Help? Write Me! We'll be happy to answer any questions about proper floor care. Just write me—Henry M. Tobey, E. L. Bruce Co., Memphis, Tenn.

"Sure, I bank at U.S.—doesn't everybody!"

A mailman certainly might assume that everyone banks at U. S. National. Part of his job is to pick up and deliver deposits for the thousands of customers who take advantage of U. S. National's handy, postage-paid bank-by-mail service. And when he visits the bank, either as a mailman or as a customer, he experiences first-hand the smiling service for which U. S. is famous. His kind of bank is U. S. National—"your kind of bank," too!
