

Death Jolt Given Gorge Killer

MADRAS, Ore. (AP)—Jeannette Lane, 20, convicted last Friday of first degree murder, stood in the circuit court today and heard the sentence of death pronounced.

She showed no emotion. The sentence was expected. The jury that convicted her of killing a 6-year-old boy did not recommend leniency. That made the death sentence mandatory.

Judge Robert Foley set no date for her execution in the state gas chamber. That date will be set only if the Supreme Court upholds the verdict. Appeals go to the high court automatically in murder cases involving the death sentence.

Students Given Grants

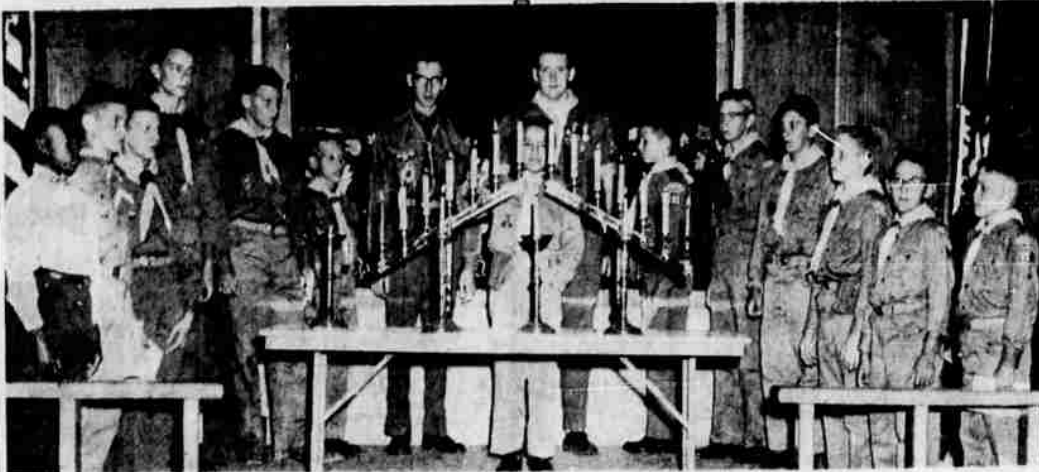

Two Klamath Falls high school graduates have been given monetary grants to attend Pacific University at Forest Grove, the school announced this week.

Bert Frewing, 2255 Summers Lane, was awarded a grant-in-aid for the fall semester.

Larry Bender, 2221 Bisbee Street, was awarded an athletic scholarship.

The two grants were part of approximately $34,000 given by the school in scholarships, grants and athletic awards for the 1961-62 school year.

Miss Freeman was convicted of killing 6-year-old Larry Jackson. His body and that of his 4-year-old sister were found May 12 at the bottom of the Crooked River Gorge in Central Oregon. The children's mother—Mrs. Gertrude Nunez—has admitted she threw the little girl off the cliff. She testified that Miss Freeman threw the little boy over.

COURT OF HONOR — Kingsley Field's Boy Scout Troop 101 gathered recently at a Court of Honor to award merit badges to troop members. Present were, from left, Bernard Richardson, Dales Rogalski, Richard Rice, Dan Zell, Steve Hinz, Scoutmaster James LaFredo, Assistant Scoutmaster Richard Halsaver, Jule LeBeau, Jeff Nickler, Tim Sullivan, Rodger Johnson, Doug Prarat, Mike Ortega and Dwight Fiske. Sullivan, son of Capt. and Mrs. Rudolph Sullivan, received the rank of Life Scout from LaFredo, who conducted the court.

School Thefts Probed

City police detectives Monday were investigating two recent burglaries at the Conger School.

Sign Wanted

The Winema National Forest wants its sign back.

One of a series of four roadside signs on the approach to Lake of the Woods from Klamath Falls stressing fire prevention was stolen Saturday night. Forest Service employees reported the loss by radio to both state police and the Klamath County Sheriff's Office.

The sign in question depicts a raccoon warming its hands before some blazing sticks; the legend says "Keep Your Campfires Small." Its reverse side says, "Thanks for remembering..." signed, "Smokey Bear."
