

Direct Club New Officers

A new slate of officers, installed last spring, met recently to formulate plans for the coming season for the Direct Club. First event was the rush party held Tuesday evening, Sept. 19, at the home of Patti O'Harra, 611 Hillside Avenue. This will be followed on Oct. 3 with a dinner at the Winema Hotel when new members will be initiated. That evening, Floyd Wynne, managing editor of the Herald and News, will speak and show slides of his recent tour of the Hawaiian Islands.

President of Venture Club this year is Anna Marie Eck. She will be assisted in her duties by Patti O'Harra, vice president; Jolene Robustelli, secretary, and Genevieve Amberg, treasurer.

Venture Club is sponsored by Soroptimist Club and has a membership of young professional and business women between the ages of 19 and 30 years. The Klamath Falls club was chartered in 1940 and is a member of the American Council of Venture Clubs.

Club members, believing in their slogan, "Nothing Ventured—Nothing Gained," do not hesitate to give of their time and effort in many civic projects. In the past, such activities have included directing the March of Dimes, assistance with the TB Fund, the kiddie parade and bringing favors each month to the Klamath Nursing Home.

Tentative plans for the year call for monthly favors for the nursing home, sending a doll to the School for the Deaf, and giving of food staples to the Gospel Mission. In addition, the girls will provide a basket for a needy family at Thanksgiving and Christmas and will present $25 to a graduating senior girl in the spring. And once again in the spring will be the card party and style show.

All is not work, however, for interspersed with the community service activities, social affairs are planned to round out the year.

Landscape Course Offered

The third course of the Landscape School will be offered at Corvallis on Oct. 26, 27 and 28, according to Mrs. Irene Seely, district landscape chairman.

Reservations are now being made for those interested in taking this course.

A list of the required books has been given to both the city and county libraries.

Local Girl Wins Award

WINNER — Judy Esgate is the winner of a scholarship given by Klamath Lank No. 460, Vasa Order of America and Canada. She was graduated last June from KUHS and is now enrolled at Oregon State University.

EAT FOR BEAUTY

Want to lessen your beauty potential? Skimp meals. Well-balanced meals are essential to the glow of health that adds so much to your appearance.

Judy Esgate, a '61 graduate of KUHS, is the recipient of a $300 scholarship presented by the Grand Lodge, Vasa Order of America and Canada. The Swedish Klamath Lank No. 460 is affiliated with the grand lodge.

The award was made for a composition written about John Erickson, great engineer and his role in the Civil War.

The scholarship has gone three times before to young members of Klamath Lank.

First to receive it was Eunice Wellman in 1955. She was graduated from Southern Oregon College in elementary education. Second winner was Gary Esgate, brother to this year's winner. He later received an additional scholarship to study one year in Germany. Rudy Hedberg received his Vasa scholarship in 1959. He is a third year major in business administration at the University of Oregon.

Judy Esgate has enrolled this fall at Oregon State University. Her scholarship was presented by Mrs. Fanny Hedberg, chairman of the local lodge, who represented Martha Pearson, grand lodge deputy of Spokane.

There are 10 scholarships given by the grand lodge each year. Once each four years a $2,000 award is given to one of the scholars toward a year's study in Sweden.

We The Women Fatigue Is Not Shameful, You Run-in-Circle Girls

Ruth Millett
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The way to keep from being eternally tired is to burn your candle at both ends, using up every available ounce of energy each day. Otherwise you will feel restless, frustrated or misdirected.

That is the advice in one of the latest how-to books, this one written by Margery Wilson, with the come-on title, "Double Your Energy and Live Without Fatigue."

Somehow I can't buy that advice. Too many women are already trying it and from what I see of the two-end-candle-burners they are strained, nervous, jittery and always running around in circles.

They are forever leaving one meeting early in order to get to another one, forever taking on more jobs than they can do without getting in a dither, forever wondering out loud if they are going to be able to live through this week or get through this month.

They don't sit around being tired, to be sure. They run around being tired, hurrying and scurrying and complaining. They are using up every ounce of available energy—but for what? Not to accomplish any one important goal, but just to keep eternally busy, eternally on the run.

Burning their candle at both ends certainly hasn't made them cool, calm, and collected—or even ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Jack S. Griffin of Bonanza have announced the engagement of their daughter, Judith Ann, to Thomas E. Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Morris of Junction City. No date has been set for the wedding. The future bride attended school at Bonanza High School. Her fiancé is taking basic submarine training while stationed in New London, Conn., with the Navy.

BPW Plan Annual Sale

ALTURAS—The Business and Professional Women of Alturas announce the dates of their annual fund raising rummage sale as Oct. 6 and 7. The rummage sale will be held this year in the building next door to Bonner Electric in Alturas. Julia Smith is chairman of the sale and requested that anyone having rummage contact her at 7514.

At the club meeting Monday evening, Sept. 1, the members saw slides shown by Mrs. Cecil Dennis on her recent trip through the Southern states.

Neva Mapes, Clara Eddy and Julia Smith attended the fall conference of the Business and Professional Women in Weed Sept. 16 and 17.
