Merchants Back Plan Of Welcome

Complete cooperation in welcoming back the 408th Fighter Group and the 322nd Fighter-Interceptor Squadron of the Air Force to Kingsley Field was pledged at the Klamath Merchants Association meeting at the Chuck Wagon Wednesday noon.

Air Force personnel will be returning to reconstructed Kingsley during the first week in October, and Saturday, Oct. 7, has been designated Air Force Day.

Jim Dyer of the Klamath Falls Jaycees explained to the merchants a club plan providing complete showing of American flags downtown on holidays. The Jaycees propose to provide new 50-star flags and install them in special parking meter standards for a fee of $12 for 13 holidays a year cost per flag to store operators.

Noel Flynn of the Park and Shop Corporation reported that, from the start of operations in May through August, the corporation incurred a net loss of $1,022 which was considered good in view of large organizational expenses during that period.

Parking ticket redemption during that period grew from 2,800 in May to 4,400 in August, Flynn said. He pointed out that during that same period use of city parking meters on the street also had increased, showing a greater use of downtown parking facilities.

Park and Shop facilities have the capacity to equal filling all downtown parking meter spots every four days.

Frank Bogatay presided at the meeting in the absence of President Bob Beach.

BIG LOAD — Dead weight meat is heavy these four fellows discovered as they helped load a shipment of 4-H carcasses donated to the Shrine Crippled Children's Hospital in Portland. Doing the work are Charles Bane, left, of Bend-Portland Truck Lines who donated transportation, Harold Heaton, Don Phelps of the Klamath Shrine Club, and Charles Heaton. The Heaton donated a beef purchased at the 4-H sale. Other donations to the hospital included two hogs by I. W. Chapman and Johnson, two lambs by Ben Adair and two lambs by George Flitcraft.

Spud Mart Officers Reelected

The Oregon California Potato Marketing Association concluded its one day session at the Klamath County Fairgrounds exhibit building Monday by reelecting its complete slate of officers for another year.

Scott McKaig, Klamath Falls, reelected chairman; C. M. Barnum, Bend, vice chairman; F. J. Carpenter, Madras, secretary-treasurer, and Merrill Webb, Redmond, association manager.

The meeting established grade and size to quality members in the Basin for the diversion program. The diversion to livestock feed purposes has been set at 60 cents a hundredweight through December, 40 cents January through February, and 30 cents March 1 to the close of the program.

The meeting also set standards for U.S. No. 1 potatoes at two inches or four ounces; U.S. 2 at six ounce minimum, and round varieties U.S.-1 at two-inch minimum diameter.

It was also stressed at the meeting that potatoes for the diversion program must be fed to livestock and cannot be dumped.

A budget for the coming year for the activities of the committee was set at $20,650. Three-eighths of a center per hundredweight is assessed for the activities of the association. The budgeted amount was predicated on an estimated carlot shipment for the entire District Four area of 13,500 cars of 400 sacks to the car.

District Four covers Siskiyou and Modoc counties in California, and all of Oregon except Malheur County which belongs to an Idaho association.

It was also brought out at the meeting that potato crop prospects for the year are better than last year with a greater yield expected in all areas.

3 Klamath Men Study Tax Rules

The appointment of Harry D. Boivin, William R. Bradshaw and George Proctor of Klamath Falls to the Committee on Rules of the Regular Division of the Oregon Tax Court was announced in Salem today by Tax Court Judge Peter Gunnar.

As members of the committee they will receive the first draft of the proposed rules for study and will suggest to the committee changes or additions based upon their experience in practice in the Klamath Falls area.

The Committee on Rules, headed by Ralph R. Bailey, Portland, chairman, and Charles P. Duffy, Portland, vice chairman, is engaged in advising the Tax Court on the rules soon to be promulgated by the court. The first draft is being prepared by a drafting sub-committee of Portland attorneys and will be submitted for comments and suggestions to the entire committee composed of lawyers throughout the state.

Boivin is state senator from Klamath County and president of the state Senate. Bradshaw is a former trust officer of the U.S. National Bank. Proctor is a member of the firm of Proctor and Puckett.

Klamath Tribal Meeting To Be Held At Mission

CHILOQUIN — The Reservation Discussion Group will sponsor a general meeting of Klamath Tribal members at the Williams River Mission, starting promptly at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 22.

The group will discuss tribal hunting and fishing rights.

According to the government solicitor the withdrawing members of the tribe relinquished rights to hunting and fishing when they elected to withdraw from the tribe. Remaining members, according to the solicitor's opinion, retained their rights but only on the area set aside for the remaining group. This opinion is not shared by members of the tribe and the tribal attorneys.

The Klamath Indians and tribal attorneys maintain that the Indians were deprived of their rights without due process and without just compensation.

On Sept. 15 officers of the Discussion Group met at the home of Marie Norris to confer with Donald Gormely, tribal attorney. The Sept. 22 meeting is being called for the purpose of determining a course of action based upon the information provided by Gormely.

Pat Shelp, a withdrawing member, active in tribal politics has been designated by the Discussion Group to chairman the meeting.

All Klamath Indians, both withdrawing and remaining are urged to attend.

SHA Blood Donors Go Over Goal

Red Cross blood donors at Sacred Heart Academy Wednesday went over the 200-pint goal set by the sponsoring Knights of Columbus and Catholic Daughters of America.

A total of 211 pints was given at the two Wednesday sessions staged by the bloodmobile corps of volunteer nurses, doctors and clerical and canteen workers, according to Mrs. Winston Purvine, blood program chairman.

This brought the total take for Box 1223, and Walter Bingham, 3816 Bristol, reached the five-gallon quota.

Three-gallon pins were earned by Albert Lynch, 3312 Cannon Street, and John E. Holley, 1001 Pacific Terrace. Two-gallon pins were received by Byron W. Carroll, 3904 Bisbee; Thomas Peterson, 5831 Mack; Mrs. Antone Peterson, 2345 Nile Street, and Robert Knuths, 317 Pine Street.

One-gallon pins were earned by Loyal G. Garboden, 4149 Summers Lane; Mrs. Casper Minton, a visitor from Crandon, Wis.; Elmer Blanchard, 1305 California; J. R. Holzgang, 1040 California; Wendell Huettl, 1940 Lowell; Arnold Torrogino, Rte. 1, Tulelake; Betty Sharp, Olene; Carol Poe, Merrill; Esther Corst, 2036 Garden; Mrs. Frank Bunnell, Tulelake.

Professional Cracker Hits Merrill Market

A professional safecracker broke into Griggs' Market in Merrill early Wednesday morning and stole between $500 and $600 from the safe, according to the Klamath County Sheriff's Office.

Carl Woods, market meat department manager, came to work at 8 a.m. Wednesday and found the front door open. He noticed that the safe, which sits by the door, had been broken open and the money stolen.

The sheriff's office was called and an investigation was conducted by deputies Del Summers and Lou Bogart and Merrill Police Chief Dal Reed. Summers said the burglar broke the lock and jimmied the front door with a wrecking bar. The burglar then "peeled" the safe (pried it open with the bar), Summers said.

"The safecracker knew just what he was after," Summers said. "It looks like a professional job." There are no suspects, he added.

Negus Rites Held In Bend

Word has been received of the death of Clarence W. Negus, Gilchrist, at the St. Charles Hospital in Bend Sept. 16. Mr. Negus had been ill for five years and had been confined to the hospital for two months.

He was born June 24, 1886, at Davis, S.D. In 1906 he was married to Florence Rose Aslin, who survives him. They lived for several years in South Dakota and North Dakota. They later moved to Wyoming and then to Oregon in 1932. They lived for a few years near John Day and then moved to Crescent where he operated the Negus Grocery for about 13 years.

He is survived by three sons, Wayne, Klamath Falls, Thomas, Mount Vernon, and Eugene of Gilchrist; two daughters, Mrs. Mildred Lutton, Hoquiam, and Mrs. Dorothy Bowman, Crescent; brothers, Harvey, Glendive, Mont., Cliff and Arthur of Mount Vernon; also 13 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Recitation of the Holy Rosary was held Monday, Sept. 18, at the Niswonger - Reynolds Chapel in Bend at 7:30 p.m., and Requiem Mass was held at 10 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 19, at St. Francis of Assisi Catholic Church, Father Antonine Keating officiating. Interment was in Deschutes Memorial Gardens, Bend.

Two Injured In Accident

A 17-year-old Klamath Falls youth and a 15-year-old girl were injured Wednesday night after the youth's car ran into a metal railroad signal pole near the corner of South Sixth and Market Street.

Injured were Raymond A. Coulter, 17, 4608 South Sixth Street, the driver, and his passenger, Laura E. Wilson, 15, 1223 Oak Street. Both were reported in "satisfactory" condition Thursday morning. Police said they both suffered head cuts.

Coulter told police he had crossed the South Sixth Street Viaduct when the car in front of him slowed down. Coulter said he applied his brakes and his car swerved into the signal pole. He estimated his speed at 45. Police found no skid marks. The youth was not cited.

Youth Learns Cars Don't Fly

Cars don't fly or float very well, an 18-year-old Klamath Falls youth learned Wednesday night.

The youth, Robert L. Washburn, 18, 630 Pine Street, was driving west on Highway 66 near the Olene Store when he apparently failed to make a curve. State police said his car climbed a slight embankment, flew about 70 feet through the air and landed in the shallow waters of an irrigation canal.

Washburn escaped from the car uninjured but police arrested him on a charge of being drunk in public. The car was extensively damaged.

Houck Dies In Ashland

Funeral services for Jacob Garfield Houck, former resident of Klamath Falls, will be held Friday, Sept. 22, at 1:30 p.m. from Litwiller's Mountain View Chapel in Ashland. Mr. Houck died Sept. 20 at the family home, 882 Garden Way, Ashland.

He left Klamath Falls in 1944 to make his home in that city. He was well known in the Klamath Basin.

Mr. Houck was born Aug. 12, 1881, in Kirby, Ore.

Survivors include the widow, Lena, Ashland; a daughter, Mrs. Al Schmeck, and this son, Leroy Houck, both of this city; a brother, George R. Houck, also of Klamath Falls; a sister, Mrs. Laura Johnson, Crescent City, Calif.; also three grandsons.

Final rites and interment will be in Rest Haven Mausoleum in Ashland.

State Rests Intent Case

The state rested its case Thursday morning against Leslie Roberson, 49-year-old Klamath Falls man on trial for assault with intent to kill.

Roberson is accused of shooting Roy McDowell, 35, Klamath Falls, three times on July 20. The shooting occurred outside a house at 549 Commercial Street.

Testimony produced Wednesday by District Attorney Dale T. Crabtree confirmed the shooting. Witnesses included city policemen Oscar Gerleve and John Kennard. Dr. Richard H. Ottoman, Pat Demery, Kathryn Shipp, Edward Bryant and McDowell.

Dr. Ottoman said two bullets entered McDowell's leg just above the knee. The police officers said Roberson had apparently fired three shots with a .22 caliber pistol, but the first one missed. During Gerleve's testimony, an oral statement by Roberson was admitted into evidence in which Roberson confessed the shooting because he was afraid McDowell was going to attack him with a knife. Gerleve also testified that both men had been drinking but were not drunk.

McDowell's story was that Roberson shot at him after the men exchanged remarks on the porch of 549 Commercial Street, the home of Kathryn Shipp.

Roberson's defense is expected to be based upon self defense. His attorney is J. R. (Bob) Thomas.

'Lights On' Program Talked

Statewide, "Lights on for Education" will be conducted in Oregon again this school year, sponsored by Oregon Education Association, Oregon Congress of Parents and Teachers and Oregon School Boards Association. This year's theme will be "Preparing Your Child for a Changing World."

The first "Lights On" program was held Jan. 5, 1961 in school-houses throughout the state. Nearly 25,000 citizens gathered across Oregon to discuss legislation affecting education and child welfare.
