

Canada Warned On River Pact

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP) — Justice Minister Davie Fulton says the United States can wait only five more months for Canadian ratification of the Columbia River treaty.

"If we haven't made up our minds by next March, the United States will be compelled to say: 'Sorry, it's no go,'" he said in an interview Friday night.

He said the U. S. anticipates a power shortage in the Pacific Northwest by 1966.

If federal and provincial authorities in Canada cannot agree on a plan for Columbia power development by March, "then our American friends will have to commit themselves to some other sources to collapse rather than agree to B. C.'s plan to sell its downstream benefits from storage dams on the river in the U. S."

Earlier Fulton said Ottawa would allow the Columbia treaty to collapse rather than agree to B. C.'s plan to sell its downstream benefits from storage dams on the river in the U. S.

Officers Seek Motive For Soldier's Slaying

FT. DIX, N.J. (UPI)—Military and civilian authorities today were retracing the steps of a young soldier from a military post in California to his home in Florida and then to the sandpit here in which his body was found with a bullet hole in the forehead.

They sought to discover the motive for the slaying of Harold Childs, 25, who enlisted in the Army when he was 18 and who was promoted to the rank of sergeant just before his transfer from The Presidio in San Francisco to Ft. Dix. From here he was to have been sent overseas for his second assignment abroad.

Childs traveled, presumably by bus, from California to his home at Eau Gallie, Fla., where he has a half-sister, Mrs. Harold Rogers. Then, completing a 15-day leave and five days' traveling time, Childs went by bus to Washington, D.C., where he boarded a bus for Trenton, N.J.

Somewhere in the 21 miles between Trenton and here, Childs ran into foul play. When his body was found Thursday by a group of children returning home from school, Childs had been dead two or three days. His face and head had been beaten and there was a bullet hole over the left eyebrow.

He was wearing his khaki Army uniform. His pockets contained only a comb and the stub of his bus ticket.

ACCEPTS INVITATION — Col. George S. Howard, conductor of the U.S. Air Force Band, accepted the invitation of Klamath Union High School's music department to hold two concerts of the band's 1961 tour in Klamath Falls. Matinee and evening performances are slated for Oct. 18.

Red Doctors Touring U.S.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — While the United States and the Soviet Union tried to settle a disagreement over cultural exchange exhibits, Soviet surgeons are touring medical facilities in Oklahoma's capital.

They donned white suits and went into operating rooms of two city hospitals Friday and scheduled another round of visits today.

The Russians arrived here a week ago, along with 60 tons of equipment in 313 crates, to set up a medical display at the Oklahoma State Fair, opening today. The crated equipment is under a customs seal.

The exhibit here and a U.S. exhibition display, scheduled to open today in Moscow, were canceled when the two countries could not agree on certain conditions of the cultural exchange.

The Russians are guests of the Oklahoma County Medical Society while they await further orders from the U.S.S.R.

Prof. Nicolai Krakorski, a vascular surgeon, appeared highly enthusiastic about the clarity of X-ray film at Mercy Hospital.

Women interested in the Camp Fire Girls may call the council office, Mrs. Francis Landrum, chairman for the Klamath Falls District, and Mrs. Robert Kennedy, South Klamath Falls District.

"Finding these new leaders is a big job and we want to get it done as soon as possible so that girls may have a full year in the program," she said. "More than 20 Camp Fire Adults have volunteered to be group organizers for the council and are now busy interviewing women to take leadership assignments."

"Most women want to make a worthwhile and needed contribution to society and being a leader of a group of Camp Fire Girls

Portland Fetes Japs

PORTLAND (AP) — Visitors from Sapporo, Japan, Portland's sister city, continued to be feted in Portland Saturday — proclaimed "Sapporo Day" by Mayor Terry D. Schruk.

Friday, the delegation from Sapporo, led by Mayor Yosaku Harada, toured some of Northwest Oregon's mountain scenery on the Mt. Hood loop — a trip around the 11,245-foot mountain in Oregon's Cascade Range.

The delegation, hosted by Schruk and City Commissioner William A. Boves and their wives, stopped for a luncheon, a tour of a pear cannery, and a visit to an orchard.

Some 1,200 Americans of Japanese ancestry live in Hood River Valley.

Henry Nakamura, president of the Japanese-American Citizens League in Hood River, told the visitors there were many eligible Nisei girls available in Hood River, and perhaps Sapporo could send over some eligible bachelors.

Air Force Band Slates Pelican Court Concert

The United States Air Force Band and the Singing Sergeants will have both a matinee and evening concert in Klamath Falls Oct. 18, according to LaMar K. Jensen, KUHS director of music.

The concert is under the sponsorship of the KUHS music department. It will be held in Pelican Court.

Under the direction of Col. George S. Howard, one of the nation's most distinguished conductors, the band will play a limited number of personal appearances on their fall concert tour. "We consider ourselves fortunate," Jensen said, "that they have consented to have one of these personal appearances here."

Last fall's concert tour took the Air Force band and the vocal group to West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, Missouri, Michigan and Kentucky.

Net proceeds of the concerts here will go to the KUHS Music Department's operating fund.

Directing the Singing Sergeants will be Capt. Robert L. Landers who organized the group.

This year's concert tour will include appearances in Utah, Idaho,
