

Home Rites Unite Couple

MONTAGUE—White lattice entwined with ivy and banked with baskets of autumn blooms created an effective setting for the delightful wedding service when Constance Lorraine Rizzardo became the bride of William Boyd Barron, on Monday evening, Aug. 28.

The single ring rites were read by Judge James B. McAdams at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rizzardo in the presence of relatives and close friends.

John Rizzardo gave his daughter in marriage. She was gowned in white nylon organza over taffeta, the fitted bodice featuring a scoop neckline and ballerina length bouffant skirt. A crown of satin bows held her dainty veil. Her jewelry included a pearl cross necklace, a gift from the bridegroom, and the bouquet she carried featured a white orchid nestled in stephanotis.

The bride's sole attendant, Sharron Dallaire of Yreka, was gowned in blue and white nylon chiffon. She carried a pink carnation nose-gay.

Raymond Hogan served as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rizzardo chose an afternoon dress in a champagne shade, worn with a white carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Arthur Smith of Windsor, Ore., was unable to be present for the ceremony.

After the ceremony, the justweds cut the initial slice from a beautifully decorated four tiered cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Mrs. Earl Cummins of Yreka, aunt of the bride, cut and served the cake which had been baked by Mrs. Joe Thomason of Yreka. Mrs. T. K. Thomason assisted with the decoration of the cake which featured a swirling stairway of pale pink roses and lily of the valley

Fashion Flair

Do your clothes mix and mingle with ease. Like guests at a well-coordinated party? Dressing well is similar to a good party where the hostess has chosen her group with thought to the easy blending of people with similar interests or backgrounds. Do you have shoes in dark brown that go nicely with not only a suit but several dresses? Do you have two sets of accessories for that suit... one dressy and one tailored... so that you have variety and get fashion mileage out of your investment?
