

Western Pacific Rail Fight In 2nd Round

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today began the second round of hearings in the Western Pacific railroad case.

Two railroad giants, the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific, are battling each other bitterly for permission to obtain stock control of the Western Pacific.

ICC examiner Paul C. Albus set most of October to hear cross-examination of Santa Fe and Southern Pacific witnesses. They first appeared last summer when the rival companies presented their main cases.

The battle began last Oct. 12 when Southern Pacific announced purchase of 10 per cent of Western Pacific's stock. Santa Fe, a long-time ally of Western Pacific, bought 20 per cent in the following two weeks.

In the summer hearings, Southern Pacific president Donald J. Russell explained that his railroad wanted Western Pacific so some facilities of the two lines could be consolidated.

Valley Job Gets Check

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An Interior Department spokesman said today a contract for construction of the federal-state San Luis unit of the Central Valley Project in California was under review by the department solicitor.

Final approval of a contract between the federal government and the state of California is not imminent, the spokesman said.

It was understood that a major stumbling point was the use of irrigation water from the project. Under federal law, water from a federal project may not be used on a farming unit of more than 160 acres. California law permits use of impacted water on larger units.

The San Luis unit was authorized by Congress June 3, 1960. Key facilities will be developed and used jointly by the state and federal governments.

The 1962 appropriation bill contains $2 million in federal funds for the project. This will be used for field surveys, planning and initiation of construction. During the fiscal year, an additional $1.8 million in funds contributed by the state will be available if the contract is approved by the Interior Department.

The Reclamation Bureau will build the unit, with the state putting up 55 per cent of the money.

Reds Okay Exhibition

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States and the Soviet Union have agreed to resume an exchange of exhibits previously canceled, the State Department announced today.

The department said that the United States and Russia had reached an agreement to open a United States transport exhibit in the Soviet Union and a Russian medical exhibit in the United States next month.

The exhibits had been slated to open in Oklahoma City and in Moscow on Sept. 23. However both were canceled on Sept. 21 when the State Department demanded that Russia submit a copy of the contract it had worked out with a private American firm for its medical exhibit at the state fair at Oklahoma City.

Another point of controversy was Soviet refusal to pay for an American liaison man who would be attached to their exhibit. The United States was required to hire a Russian staff with this country's transportation exhibit in Moscow.

The department said it was "pleased" by the new agreement. It said the Soviet Union had bowed to the U. S. demand that the contract with the American firm be submitted.

Water Pollution Lab Planned For Oregon

PORTLAND (AP)—Secretary of Health Education and Welfare Abraham Ribicoff said today that the federal government is planning a $2.5 million water pollution control field laboratory at Corvallis.

It will be the first of a number of research laboratories authorized by congress at the last session.

The laboratory, which will be staffed by some 130 engineers, scientists and technicians, is another step, Ribicoff said, "in President Kennedy's program to protect the nation's water resources."

The purpose of the laboratory will be to develop means of preventing and controlling pollution.

Ribicoff said that the laboratory will work closely with the region's universities and with state and federal government agencies and with the region's industries.

Ribicoff said that Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., had convinced him that the laboratory should be located in Oregon.

Governor Mark Hatfield said that much credit is due to the effective teamwork between members of our congressional delegation and state agencies, especially the State System of Higher Education, the State Sanitary Authority and the Department of Planning and Development, who joined forces for the support of authorizing legislation and in presenting Oregon's qualifications as a location for the laboratory.

Bad Landing Crash Cause

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—Experts probing the air crash that killed U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold expressed belief today his plane was making an approach to land when it smashed into the Rhodesian bush Sept. 18.

This conclusion, expressed after more than a week's inquiry, would indicate the crash was an accident, not a result of sabotage.

Commission sources said it has been established by now that the undercarriage of the DC6 carrying Hammarskjold and 15 others was down and the pilot was preparing to land.

The plane came to an altitude of 40 to 50 feet, cut a swath through treetops six miles from here, then smashed into the ground. The inquiry commission says it believes all four engines were running at the same pitch, indicating the pilot was making his run in to land.

The commission also says it has established that the craft carrying Hammarskjold to a peace meeting with Katanga's Premier Moise Tshombe carried a large amount of arms and ammunition, presumably as a precaution in case of landing in hostile territory. When the plane crashed some of this ammunition exploded. Bullets were found in some of the bodies aboard the stricken craft.

Atom Tests Protested
MOJI, Japan (UPI)—American pacifist Earle Reynolds set out in his 30-ton yacht today for the Soviet port of Nakhodka to protest Russia's resumption of nuclear testing.

Accompanying the 50-year-old college lecturer were his wife, Barbara, their son, Ted, 22, daughter Jessica, 17, and Thomas Yoneda, 23-year-old student from California.

The yacht, Phoenix, pulled into port here last Tuesday after sailing from Hiroshima on Sunday. Reynolds told newsmen before his departure today that he was opposed to nuclear testing by any country. He said he hoped to discuss nuclear testing with the Russian people.

Chou Willing To Coexist

TOKYO (UPI)—Chinese Communist leader Chou En-lai said today his regime was willing to coexist peacefully with the United States providing the U.S. drops its opposition to a United Nations seat for Peiping.

Chou said his Communist regime and the millions it rules "wish to live together in peace with the peoples of all countries, including the United States of America."

Chou made the statement in an unusually brief speech which he delivered at a Peiping reception for visiting dignitaries on the eve of Red China's 12th anniversary. His speech was carried by the Communist New China News Agency in a report monitored here.

Although Chou tempered his statements on coexistence with the United States by laying down certain "conditions," they were an apparent reversal of Red China's often repeated stand that war and only war can settle the issues between East and West.

Private Back In Army; Wife To Get Allotment
DETROIT (AP)—Pvt. Jon Floeter, 25, serving in the Army in Korea, is back on Uncle Sam's payroll. And his wife, 24, who lives in East Detroit, can keep a $91.30 allotment and will get $182.60 shortly due as back allotments.

Col. Clovis B. Norris, chief of the Army Finance Center's Collection Division in Indianapolis, put it this way: "We goofed."

Norris explained, "We have 30,000 cases here and these things happen."

Norris, answering a query from the Detroit News, said that after Floeter joined the Army some question came up about whether his enlistment was valid. Pending an investigation, his pay and $91.30 monthly allotment checks were held up. Floeter was at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., at the time.

Then the Army put him back on full pay and sent him to Korea. The only trouble, said Norris, was that nobody in the Army notified the finance center, which does the paying.

So the center wrote Mrs. Floeter and demanded return of $91.30 it said she had been overpaid, claiming her husband was discharged last June.

"What's more, Floeter wasn't getting paid in Korea, either," said Norris. "But that's cleared up now, too."

Woman Freedom Rider Claims Rape By Negro
DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—A 22-year-old London, England, woman who said she had been a freedom rider for the Congress of Racial Equality, told police Friday she was raped by a 260-pound Negro posing as a sympathizer for the organization.

Detectives L. D. Montgomery and Harvard Johnson said a physician examined her and reported she had been raped, and apparently had had no relations prior to the assault.

Police arrested the Negro and were holding him on investigation of forcible rape. They said he had admitted to "almost all" of the girl's story.

The green-eyed, brunette said she joined the CORE movement in New Orleans during the summer and was jailed at Jackson, Miss., for one month as a freedom rider. She said she was released after CORE posted her $500 bond three weeks ago.

The woman said she came to Dallas looking for a job. She said the NAACP fixed her up with a hotel room.

She said she met the Negro at a cafe near the hotel and that he identified himself as a "friend of the organization (CORE)". He told her he owned the hotel and also
