Multiple Use Of Forest Areas Demanded

PORTLAND (AP)—Many of the 20 witnesses who appeared Saturday morning at a congressional sub-committee hearing called for areas in Oregon.

Some 45 other witnesses were scheduled to testify at the afternoon session of the Forests Subcommittee of the House Committee on Agriculture.

Today's session was devoted to policies on use and administration of areas of the national forests with high recreational or scenic value.

The subcommittee was studying whether these areas should be kept under the multiple use plan established by Congress last year. It was primarily interested in the Oregon Dunes seashore area, Waldo Lake in Oregon and the Northern Cascades area in Washington.

Rep. Edwin Durno, R-Ore., said the question is whether Oregon's national forests are to be managed on the multiple-use concept or whether certain portions are to be set aside for restrictive use.

Durno reaffirmed his support of the multiple-use concept, which he said is consistent with the views of President Kennedy.

He said his bill to set aside the Oregon dunes area as a recreational shore line would protect the multiple-use of resources.

Dean Allen, executive secretary of Gov. Mark O. Hatfield's committee on natural resources, also supported the multiple-use principle of land management. Allen said, however, that his committee has taken no definite stand for either the Durno bill or one by Sen. Maurine Neuberger, D-Ore., which would put the Dunes area in a national park.

"Any legislation to establish a national recreation facility should provide for such a continued state jurisdiction over the public resources of fish, game and wild fur-bearers, and for continued free fishing and hunting," Allen said.

State Sen. Robert Straub, D-Eugene, appeared in support of creation of a wild area to the north and west of Waldo Lake, in Lane County.

Straub proposed his own three-point plan for it:

An access road from the Willamette Highway in the vicinity of Gold Lake, around the eastern shore of Waldo Lake; permit commercial logging in the western end of the Waldo Lake limited area; create a new wild area lying north and west of Waldo Lake in the high lake basin plain.

Miller Charges Kennedy Trying To 'Use Press'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman William E. Miller said today the Kennedy administration was guilty of censorship, favoritism and "attempting to use reporters as political propaganda conduits."

Writing in Editor and Publisher, a newspaper trade magazine, Miller a New York congressman, said Americans' "right to know is being cruelly eroded and will continue to be until this administration comes to regard information as a public trust rather than a political puff operation."

"Last April," said Miller, "the Freedom of Information Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors concluded that the Kennedy administration had run out on its glowing campaign pledges to keep the American people fully informed. Sigma Delta Chi's (professional journalism fraternity) Freedom of Information Committee, equally disillusioned, underscored these findings."

Miller said the facts on the President's back ailment "were suppressed for three weeks and revealed to reporters only when the need to appear in public with crutches forced it out."

"Compare this," he said, "with the prompt straightforward, complete release of details on former President Eisenhower's illness."

Miller said that "perhaps the administration's crassest attempt to use newsmen as propaganda pipelines came in mid-September when a group of 30 Washington correspondents met secretly at the home of a reporter for a favored Kennedy paper.

"Among those not invited: the Los Angeles Times, Dallas News, Detroit News, Chicago Tribune, Kansas City Star," Miller said.

Miller said White House staffers arrived at the meeting with a memorandum "setting forth the 'line' on the Kennedy administration's 'successes' in the 1961 session of Congress."

"Its White House source was to be concealed."

"To the credit of the assembled newsmen," said Miller, "most of them did not buy it."

Bay Gets Teaching Certificate

OLYMPIA (AP) — A three-year Washington provisional teaching certificate was granted Friday to Dean Bay, an ex-convict who worked his way through college to become a school teacher.

Bay, now teaching a seventh grade class at the private King's Garden school north of Seattle, had been refused a teacher's certificate in three close votes by the Oregon State Board of Education.

The Washington certificate was issued by State Superintendent of Public Instruction Louis Bruno, who said an exhaustive study had been made of Bay's case.

The provisional certificate is issued to teachers applying from out of state for Washington teaching jobs.

"Mr. Bay will be expected to complete a fifth year of college study and provide evidence of successful teaching experience in order to secure a standard teaching certificate," Bruno said.

Bruno said four factors were considered in Bay's case — a strong recommendation from the Eastern Oregon College of Education at La Grande, restoration of his civil rights, the fact his crime—larceny—was not committed against a person and Bay's "lawful and exemplary life" since he was released from the state reformatory at Monroe eight years ago.

"In reaching our decision we are mindful not only of the right of the applicant for fair and impartial consideration of his qualifications but also of our duty to the citizens and most especially to the students in the schools of our state," Bruno said.

"We wish Mr. Bay success in the field of education."

Bruno said letters in praise of Bay had been received from the Superintendent of Schools at Weston, Ore., where Bay taught for a year, and from ministers who have worked with him.

Bay, a father of five children, was convicted of grand larceny in connection with a series of thefts of money and property while a night policeman in Goldendale, Wash.

Washington parole officials, who say Bay is rehabilitated, had expressed dismay over the action of the Oregon Board of Education.

Bay's attempt to obtain an Oregon teacher's certificate was backed by his college and Dr. Harris Hunter, chairman of the Washington Parole Board.

Isaac Thiessen, superintendent of the King's Garden school, described Bay asa "topflight" person and teacher, who represents what we stand for in a Christian school."

'Muzzling' Reply Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker said today he has been invited to file a statement with a Senate subcommittee investigating charges that the Pentagon "muzzled" military men from speaking out against communism.

A friend of the general's told reporters he was sure Walker would submit a statement to the subcommittee.

The general has demanded opportunity to reply to allegations by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara before the Senate Armed Services Committee that Walker tried to influence the 1960 election votes of U.S. troops in Germany. Troops stationed overseas vote in their home precincts by absentee ballot.

McNamara was being questioned at that time about the Army's action in relieving Walker of command of the 24th Infantry Division and reprimanding him last spring. The Army's explanation for the action at the time was that Walker had made statements picturing former President Harry S. Truman and other prominent Americans as soft on communism.

McNamara has said Walker was free to speak out in his own defense.

Walker is in the United States on a 20-day leave. His Army assignment is on the headquarters staff in Germany.
