

Two Couples Recite Vows

DUNSMUIR—Two couples exchanged wedding vows at All Saints Episcopal Church in Carmel-by-the-Sea recently. The bridegrooms, close friends for a number of years and former residents of Dunsmuir, were Robert Carlton Berryhill and William Alan Poe.

Jo Anne Gilmer became Mrs. Robert Berryhill gowned in white tulle and wearing a veil of illusion net. She was given in marriage by her father, Tom Gilmer of Bakersfield.

Judith Staub in a gown of white tulle wed William Poe. Her veil was of illusion net. Her father, Dr. Jon Staub of Claremont, escorted her to the altar. Both brides carried bouquets of white roses and bouvardia.

Father R. Farmer officiated at the double ceremony before an altar banked with white chrysanthemums and gladioli and tall white tapers.

Majds of honor for the twin brides were Judith Gilmer, sister of one bride, and Catherine Poe, sister of one bridegroom. Judith Gilmer wore a champagne pink satin gown with net headpiece and matching slippers. Catherine Poe wore a sheer blue frock with tiara and matching slippers. Both carried nosegay bouquets of roses.

Jerry Vogt Jr., brother-in-law of Robert Berryhill, served as best man for both bridegrooms. Tom and Mike Staub, brothers of one bride, seated the guests.

Young cousins of Robert Berryhill, Martha Jane, Wesley Ann, Sarah Lee and Ellen Brooke Carlton, passed the traditional rice to the guests.

The wedding reception was held in the Women's Club at Carmel where a multi-tiered cake was cut by both couples.

Among the wedding guests were

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Berryhill and Mr. and Mrs. Delwin Poe of Dunsmuir, parents of the bridegrooms.

The new Mrs. Berryhill was graduated from Stanford University in June and is currently employed by the Hewlett Packard Company in Palo Alto. Her husband is a graduate of Dunsmuir High School and Stanford University. He is a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity and an assistant engineer in research and design with Fairchild Electronic Corp. in Palo Alto. They will live in Atherton.

The new Mrs. Poe is a graduate of Claremont High School and has attended Chico State College. Her husband is a graduate of Dunsmuir High School. He attended the University of California and recently has been a student of civil engineering at Chico State. Their temporary home will be in Dunsmuir pending resumption of their studies.

CLEAN MACHINES AID FALL SEWING

Got your sewing machine tuned up for fall sewing? Machines need at least once-a-year cleaning. If yours hasn't been cleaned lately, you might want to go over it before undertaking a lot of new fall sewing. Here are some tips.

Cleaning consists of removing the lint and "gum" from all the mechanisms. Before you start, study your instruction book to get well-acquainted with your own machine.

Remove the thread, needle and bobbin. Take off the face plate (or open the needlebar housing) and clean the mechanisms that control the needle bar, presser bar and thread take-up.

Remove the throat plate located directly under the presser foot and covering the space around the feed dog. Brush out lint and use a toothpick to carefully remove any gumminess from the teeth of the feed.

Next lift the head of the machine and clean the mechanisms underneath. Use a toothpick to remove bits of thread and lint from hard-to-reach places.

Now, after you've cleaned out all the lint you can, you're ready to oil your machine. Never oil first. Your instruction book will show you where. Use only a light grade oil recommended by the manufacturer. Heavy, all-purpose or general household oils collect lint more readily.

Adjust the tension and stitch length, if necessary, and your machine should be ready to run quietly and smoothly. After machine is cleaned run it on fabric scraps to remove excess oil.

the scalloped neckline. A pearl crown held the shoulder length veil. For the bridal bouquet, a white orchid was centered in a cascade of white stephanotis.

The bride's sole attendant, Marjorie Harkins of Oakland, wore a short princess style frock of ice blue polished cotton with matching headpiece and slippers. Her bouquet was a cascade of white gladioli.

Dr. Calvin L. Hunt was best man. Ushers were Charles Finch and Robert Graves, Merrill.

Organist was Mrs. A. F. Heringshaw.

The bride's mother wore a royal blue two piece shantung ensemble with a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Gladioli decorated the church parlors for the reception after the service. Serving the wedding cake were Mrs. Arthur Cherry and Mrs. Tom Zinn. At the coffee services were Mrs. Arthur Williams and Mrs. Richard Gilchrist. Pouring punch was Mrs. Bill Wilson.

Leaving for a honeymoon on the Oregon Coast, the new Mrs. Case wore a navy blue suit, matching accessories and the white orchid from her bouquet. The newlyweds are making their home at 2022 Lavey Street.

Guests from out-of-town included Mr. and Mrs. Scott Reed and Tara, Coeur d'Alene; Mrs. Patricia Case, Steven, Mary and Mrs. Oliver Larson, Chico; Mrs. John Larson and Teresa, Fairbanks, Alaska; Mr. and Mrs. L. V. McCumsey, Portland.
