

COBBLER — A spicy, delicious new treat is Cinnamon Apple Cobbler, shown here ready for serving.

CINNAMON APPLE COBBLER

2 cups water
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons red cinnamon candies
4 cups peeled, sliced tart red apples (5 medium apples)
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons water

Combine water, sugar and candies. Heat to boiling. Add sliced apples, reduce heat and cook until tender, 10 to 15 minutes. Blend cornstarch with two tablespoons water and stir into apple mixture. Bring to boiling and boil one minute, stirring constantly.

Pour into two-quart baking dish. Top with Cobbler Swirls.

COBBLER SWIRLS
1 cup sifted enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup shortening
1 to 2 tablespoons milk
1 egg, beaten
Melted butter
2 tablespoons sugar

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Combine milk and egg. Add to flour mixture and stir well. Add additional milk, if necessary, to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 30 seconds. Roll out to eight-inch square. Brush with melted butter and sprinkle with two tablespoons sugar. Roll up like jelly roll and cut into eight one-inch slices. Push center of cut side up to form rosette. Place on hot apple mixture. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 25 to 30 minutes. Makes six to eight servings. If self-rising flour is used, omit baking powder and salt.

CHIFFON PIE — Date-Orange Chiffon pie features morsels of fresh California dates whirled through a fluffy orange filling to create a handsome, refreshing dessert.

Date Orange Pie Special For Family, Party Treat

Swirl up "Date-Orange Chiffon Pie" for a family treat or a special party dessert. Chopped fresh California dates in an airy orange filling make a perfect taste duo. You can cut down the calorie count by eliminating the whipped cream topping. Serve this high and light pie on a pretty plate underlined with fern or other fresh leaves and complement it with cups of Espresso coffee.

California date slivers are a pretty garnish for many dishes. To make slivers, cut pitted dates lengthwise into thin slices with kitchen shears or a sharp knife. Use them as pinwheels or clusters or as petals for a flower-shaped garnish centered with an almond or maraschino cherry. Fresh California dates are a natural sweet and the natural sugar in them is utilized quickly by the body as a pick-me-up. Their energizing qualities make them a "must" for hiking trips and for youngsters at play.

Chicken Pate Club Sandwich

Chicken Pate Club Sandwiches are made for the he-man eaters in your family. Toast slices of rye bread; butter each slice. For each sandwich, spread canned chicken pate on buttered side of one slice of toast. Top with thin slices of tomato, sprinkle with seasoned salt and cover with a second slice of toast. Cover with lettuce, crisply cooked bacon and sliced hard cooked egg. Sprinkle egg with seasoned salt, spread buttered side of third slice of toast with mayonnaise; put mayonnaise side down over egg. Fasten sandwich with four toothpicks, then cut into quarters. The sandwiches are also especially tasty made with canned liver or ham pate.

PICNIC CHILI — Simmering over the coals is this Spicy Picnic Chili made extra hearty and nourishing by instant nonfat dry milk.

Spicy Picnic Chili Is Popular Favorite

Take instant nonfat dry milk over the coals meal-in-one that's easy to prepare. This is a handy recipe for a pound of ground beef can be tucked into your cooler for the first night out, or the meat can be readily purchased at a market along the way. Better take the small bit of crushed chilies called for from home, as this is less likely to be available.

With these staples you have the makings of Spicy Picnic Chili, an easy to prepare. This is a handy recipe for a pound of ground beef can be tucked into your cooler for the first night out, or the meat can be readily purchased at a market along the way. Better take the small bit of crushed chilies called for from home, as this is less likely to be available.

This chili is mighty rich in protein; for nonfat dry milk has all the nutritive value of skimmed milk — the proteins, carbohydrates, minerals and vitamins found in the fat free protein.

There's no trouble to storing nonfat, either, even after opening. Just keep in a cool dry place along with your other staples.

Fruit is always a favorite to round out the meal; serve an assortment along with crisp butter cookies that accompany milk kept icy cold in an insulated cooler.

Pickle Combination Dish Adds Zest To Party Menu

Pull out your best relish tray, fill it with your prettiest pickles, and you are on your way to impressing even your most persnickety guest. You might prefer a different combination but a dish of sliced pickles, mint sauce, pear slices, pickled cauliflower, spiced kumquats and hot peppers offers a choice of sweet, sour and hot.

DILLY CHIPS

On the sour side
Best when ice cold
12 4 to 4 1/2 inch cucumbers
5 tablespoons salt
2 teaspoons turmeric
3 1/2 cups cider vinegar
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons mixed pickling spices
Dill

1/2 teaspoon powdered alum
Wash, rinse, drain, dry and cut slender cucumbers into thin (about 1/8 inch) slices. Thoroughly mix cucumbers and salt. Let stand 3 or 4 hours. Drain. Add turmeric and 1 1/2 cups vinegar to 2 cups water. Bring to boiling. Pour over cucumbers. Let stand until cold. Drain. (Taste cucumbers; if too salty, scald again.) Add sugar, spices (tied in bag), 1/2 cup water, to 2 cups vinegar. Simmer 15 minutes. Pour over cucumbers. Let stand 12 to 24 hours. Drain sirup into kettle. Heat to boiling. Add cucumbers. Simmer 10 minutes. Wash and drain dill. Put layer in bottom of fruit jar. Pack cucumbers into jar; cover with layer of dill. Add alum to sirup and heat to boiling. Pour, boiling hot, over cucumbers. Put lid on jar; screw band tight. Note: If fresh dill is not available, use about a tablespoon of dill seed per pint jar.

Steak-Cooking Is Art To Be Easily Learned

Cooking steak is an art that many seek, but few acquire. Yet, meat expert Reba Staggs has some advice for the cook who handles steaks that can make the job easy and simple.

Quickie Supper

1 can (12 oz.) luncheon meat
2 cans macaroni with cheese sauce (1 1/2 oz. each)
1 small can evaporated milk (2-3 cup)

Cut luncheon meat into small cubes. Empty cans of macaroni and cheese into a saucepan. Add luncheon meat and evaporated milk, and stir to mix thoroughly. Heat over low heat until hot, stirring occasionally. Makes 6 servings.

Steak for broiling, she suggests, should be at least 1 inch thick. Set the regulator for broiling. Place the steak on the rack in your broiler pan and insert the pan and rack.

If your steak is 1 inch thick, its surface should be two to three inches from the heat. Thicker, two-inch steaks should be three to five inches from the heat.

When one side is browned, season, turn and finish cooking the steak on the second side. Meals, such as steak, which are broiled should be seasoned after they are browned. Steaks should be turned only once during broiling.

Steaks cut one inch thick require 18 to 20 minutes total cooking time for rare steak, 20 to 25 minutes for medium. Steaks cut two inches thick require 30 to 35 minutes for rare, 35 to 40 minutes for medium.

If you are broiling on an outdoor grill, the distance from the heat and broiling time are about the same. Build the fire so that the coals are covered with a gray ash when cooking begins. Following the directions, you can't miss as a steak-cooking expert.
