California Honeymoon Follows August Rites

The California Coast and San Francisco was the honeymoon destination of Mr. and Mrs. Larry O. Hollenbeak after their Aug. 13 wedding at the First Methodist Church. The Rev. Ralph Richardson performed the double ring ceremony in a background predominate in coral shades.

The bride is the former Myrtle Irene Harrison, daughter of Mrs. Irene Harrison. Mr. and Mrs. Lee E. Hollenbeak are parents of the bridegroom.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Marlon Ott. Her princess style gown was of white brocade satin with chapel train. Seed pearls trimmed the neckline and long sleeves at the wrist point. A fingertip veil was held in place by a crown of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered with an orchid and a lace edged handkerchief which had belonged to her grandmother.

Maid of honor, Mary Ott, cousin of the bride, wore a frock of coral nylon crepe made with scoop neckline and cap sleeves. A briefly veiled headpiece was matching in color. Her bouquet was of bronze and white chrysanthemums tied with coral ribbon streamers.

Identical dresses were worn by the bridesmaids, Janet Turner and Janet Henninger.

Robert Anderson was best man and ushers were two brothers of the bridegroom, Ronald Hollenbeak and Arnold Hollenbeak, and Gill Harrison.

Organist for the ceremony was Cora Enman.

Mrs. Harrison wore for her daughter's wedding a sheath dress of blue lace, matching accessories and white feather hat. Mrs. Hollenbeak chose a sheath of green linen with jacket and white accessories. Both wore corsages of pale pink rosebuds.

At the reception in the church parlors, a three tiered cake decorated with pink roses and topped with pink satin wedding bells was served to guests by Mrs. Arlene Ling, the bridegroom's sister, and Mrs. Shirley Hollenbeak, his sister-in-law. Punch and coffee were poured by Marieta O'Neal and Mrs. Donna Zigler. Attending the guest book was Carol Phillips and receiving gifts was Gayle Osborn.

For traveling, the new Mrs. Hollenbeak changed to a white walking suit worn with black velvet blouse and hat and black patent accessories. At her shoulder was the orchid from her bridal bouquet. A graduate of KUHS, she is employed as cashier for Miller's.

The bridegroom, also a KUHS graduate, is employed by Weyerhaeuser Company and attends Oregon Technical Institute.

The couple make their home at 1124 Monclair Street.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. May Harrison of Woodburn; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tyler and family, Mulino, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Ballock and family, Manhattan Beach, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ott, Gridley; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Huff and Pattie, Creswell.

Fashion Flair

What does it take to make a woman feel beautiful? Everyone you ask will give you an answer. A woman feels beautiful because of assurance in her clothes; they are comfortable; they fit; they're right for the occasion. They make her look like a million. They make her a new woman. They get her compliments. They're fashionable. If a woman disciplines herself to really look well by using the mirror as her ally, she'll feel happy, and as a result, her happiness will radiate, and she will feel beautiful!

Marieta O'Neal Bride Of Ronald Hollenbeak

Marieta Joyce O'Neal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. O'Neal, became the bride of Ronald D. Hollenbeak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee E. Hollenbeak, Sept. 1 at Bible Baptist Church. The Rev. Freeman L. Schmitt officiated at the double ring ceremony before a background of pink gladioli, accented with blue bows, greenery, ivy and lighted tapers. Lighted candles were also placed in the window recesses.

For the 8 o'clock ceremony, the bride chose a floor length gown of white lace and tulle over satin. She was escorted to the altar by her father. The lace bodice featured scalloped trim on the small round collar and outlining the neckline. Long sleeves were finished with ruffles at the wrists. The full skirt was of tulle with back detail of tulle and lace bustle above the chapel train. The fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of pink gladioli and rosebuds with pink ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Ernie Dennis, matron of honor, wore a dress of blue nylon taffeta with sash, tied in back and with streamers to the hemline. Sylvia Day, bridesmaid, similarly dressed, wore light blue taffeta. Both carried bouquets of blue gladioli and roses.

Leading the bridal party along the white carpeted aisle were the flower girl, Lois Howard, and the ring bearer, Randy Ling, nephew of the bridegroom.

The candles were lighted by Barbara Carr and Ona Hayes.

Larry Hollenbeak was best man for his brother. Another brother, Arnold Hollenbeak, Walter Polson and Jimmie Kent were ushers.

Mrs. Boyd F. Sprague of Portland was the organist. She also accompanied Cheryl Sanders when she sang "Because," "Moment By Moment" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride's mother wore a dress of Copenhagen blue with accessories and gladioli corsage in raspberry shade. Mrs. Hollenbeak's ensemble was a green linen sheath and jacket with white accessories and dark red gladioli corsage.

Pink wedding bells tied to blue, pink and white crepe streamers formed a background for the bride's table set with punch bowl and wedding cake. Hostesses for the reception in Field's Hall were Mrs. Lloyd Day and Mrs. Reuben Larson.

Cake was served by Florence Smith and Mrs. Oscar Stenberg and punch by Mrs. Carl Ewing. Assisting were Mrs. Robert Carter, Mrs. Roy McClung, Mrs. Earl Darrow, Mrs. Clarence Waldo and Mrs. Owen Robbins.

Diane Dennis attended the guest book and Dorothy Lewis and Sharon Pearson were at the gift table.

A wedding trip to Cannon Beach was chosen by the bridal pair, who returned to this city to make their home at 4731 South Sixth Street. Both young people are graduates of KUHS and Oregon Technical Institute. The bridegroom is employed by Weyerhaeuser Company.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Myrtle Foster, Ruth W. Jones, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Sol N. Ediger, Mrs. Ed Crawley, Darlene Crawley and Barbara Williams, Dallas; Mrs. Jim Massey, Sharon and Cindy Massey, Mrs. Norm Bradbury and Stephen, all of Tulalake; Mr. and Mrs. Carl LeFever, Tucson.

DAR View Pioneer Slides

"Pioneer Slides" was the title given to the showing of early Klamath Falls pictures at the Oct. 2 meeting of Eulalia Chapter, DAR, held at the home of Mrs. Julian M. Ager. Bert Thomas, local attorney, who also specializes in early Klamath country pictures and history, showed his slides of early days, following them with views of the same sites as they appear today. A lively question and answer period kept pace with program and members all agreed that one evening

ENGAGEMENT TOLD — Dr. and Mrs. J. Martin Adams announce the engagement of their daughter, Sandra M. Adams, to James O'Neil Hannon of Mountain View, Calif. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hannon of Sunnyvale. Their wedding will take place in December. The future bride is an X-ray technology student at San Mateo Clinic. Her fiancé is an electronic technician employed by Philco Corporation in Palo Alto.

VISIT IN CITY — Mrs. Ruby Lyle, left, and her daughter, Mrs. Howard (Alice) Davis, were recent visitors at the home of their niece and cousin, Mrs. Truman Runyan, 1845 Esplanade. Both visitors are former Klamath Falls residents. Mrs. Lyle was for many years superintendent of Hillside Hospital, and has resided in Portland since leaving here. She accompanied her daughter east to make her home in Concord, Mass., near where Mr. and Mrs. Davis and their two sons, Lyle and Jim, reside. —Photo by Kettler

Comedy Opens Film Series

The Film Classics Group of AAUW reminds ticket holders of the opening show of the season to be Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. at the Esquire Theater. Scheduled for that night is the British comedy, "League of Gentlemen," starring Jack Hawkins.

The committee urges all those who have not yet ordered season tickets to do so at this time. Checks for $6 per person are to be sent to Fred Ehlers, 1338 Pacific Terrace. For latecomers, a table will be set up in the Esquire Theater for purchase of tickets.

The British film will be followed by two other films at the Esquire, "Wild Strawberries" in November and "Ballad of a Soldier" in January. Season tickets will be honored at these in addition to the five 16 mm films to be presented at Roosevelt School starting in February.

It is hoped by the committee that this film program, highly successful in the past, will this year create an audience sufficient to insure not only the showing of 16 mm films, but excellent commercial foreign movies as well.

Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Murdo Morrison, TU 2-3960, or Mrs. Wyn Lawrence, TU 2-2471.

SPEAKER — Captain Jefferson E. Davis Jr., base chaplain at Kingsley Field, will address the Oct. 21 meeting of AAUW, 12:30 p.m. in the Modoc Room of the Winema Hotel. Captain Jefferson, whose tour of duty has included assignments in Massachusetts and Greenland, is a native of Little Rock, Ark. He and his family currently reside at Falcon Heights. Any AAUW member who has not been called for reservations may contact Mrs. Robert DeRosier, TU 4-8994. —Air Force Photo
