Newlyweds To Live Here

Klamath Falls is to be the home of a young couple married Sept. 16 at Snohomish, Wash. The altar of Christ the King Lutheran Church of that city was decorated with white chrysanthemums, gladioli and stock for the 8 p.m. candlelight ceremony which united Carol Kay Trautman and Theodore Ivan Williams. Pastor Wesley D. Tollefson officiated.

The bride, niece of Mrs. James Miller of Snohomish, was given in marriage by Dwight E. Miller of Klamath Falls. Her gown was white tulle with long sleeves and applied roses on the bodice and full ballerina length skirt. A queen's crown of pearls held the shoulder length veil and she carried an all-white cascade of butterfly roses, pompons and gardenias with streamers of ivy. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls and matching earrings.

Mrs. Sharon Miller of Klamath Falls, matron of honor, wore a Kelly green sheath with tunic overskirt of tulle, matching veiled headband and brocade slippers. Her bouquet was of beige lily chrysanthemums and pompons.

The matron of honor's ensemble was duplicated in gold for the bridesmaids, Mrs. Claudia Carlson and Mrs. Kaye Carlson of Snohomish.

Candlelighters Mrs. Charlotte Posey and Mrs. Betty Zude of Snohomish wore gold frocks and wristlets of talisman roses and pompons.

Karen and Sharon Trautman of Everett were dressed in green for their roles of flower girls. Donald Inslund of Snohomish was the ring bearer.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted I. Williams of Klamath Falls. Mrs. Williams wore for the occasion a beige brocade sheath with jacket and black accessories and corsage of cymbidium orchid and rosebuds.

Best man was Bill Martin of Klamath Falls and ushers were Bud Inslund of Snohomish and Bill Woodcock of Klamath Falls. Soloist Mrs. Norman Helm was accompanied by the organist, Mrs. Elmer Heden.

For her niece's wedding, Mrs. Miller wore a green wool jersey dress with green hat and beige accessories. Cymbidium orchids and yellow rosebuds were her corsage.

Kelly green, gold and white colors were the theme for the following reception in the church parlors. The wedding cake, in the shape of a malted cross and topped with a bridal pair, was served by Mrs. Bessie Davis of Seattle. Pouring coffee were Mrs. Ralph Davis of Snohomish and Mrs. Elizabeth Trautman of Lem-

Mary Lou Kerr Weds Robin Fletcher, Ukiah

Mary Lou Kerr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kerr of Klamath Falls, exchanged marriage vows with Robin Fletcher Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Fletcher of Ukiah, Ore., at 7 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 13, in the First Methodist Church.

Before the double ring ceremony, David Lyman, the bride's cousin, and Bill Kerr, her brother, lighted candles in the tall candelabra set behind baskets of white gladioli and pink snapdragons.

Charles Kerr escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. She was attired in a princess style ballerina, length gown fashioned of all lace. The lace at the neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and hemline was finished in scallops. Her three tiered fingertip veil of silk organza fell from a small crown of white orange blossoms. She carried a cascade of gardenias and stephanotis. A single pearl on a gold chain was a gift of the bridegroom.

The bridesmaids were gowned in turquoise blue crepe georgette dresses with soft folds draped at the waist and necklines. White velvet headband bows, white gloves and white slippers completed their attire. Their bouquets were of pink carnations.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Amy Kerr. Carolyn Kerr, also a sister, was junior bridesmaid and Julie Wakefield was bridesmaid.

Bill Fletcher, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Guests were seated by Oregon State University friends of the bridegroom, Judd Hanna, Elina; Bob Lazinka, Ukiah, and Ben Colvin, Long Creek.

Traditional wedding marches were played at the organ by Cora Enman. Beth Robertson was soloist.

Mrs. Kerr chose a beige cotton and silk sheath with a corsage of miniature red roses. Mrs. Fletcher pinned a corsage of fashion roses at the shoulder of her blue dress.

The reception was held in the church parlors directly after the ceremony at which the Rev. Ralph Richardson officiated.

At the bride's table was the tiered cake, the base and tiers decorated with white bells and swans. It was traditionally cut by the bridegroom then served to guests by Mrs. Effie Vanderhoff.

Also discussed were plans for an evening social meeting. At the Oct. 3 meeting, Al Geiss of Ore Tech spoke to the group about school curriculum and the future building program. A question and answer period followed.

Clara Howard introduced her husband's mother, Mrs. D. R. Howard of North Bend, as her guest.

Party Honors, Bridal Pair

MALIN—On Saturday evening, Sept. 30, a group of friends were invited to the Malin Community Hall to honor Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Macken, recent newlyweds.

Hostesses were Mrs. Frank Taylor, Mrs. John Guthrie, Mrs. Jake Taylor and Mrs. Roger Seibert. Mrs. Teresa McComb, close family friend, introduced the young couple by reading a poem which she had composed.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Don Macken, presided at the coffee service at one end of the lace covered table, which also held a sheet cake iced in blue and white.

Mr. and Mrs. Macken were married Sept. 15 at the Malin Presbyterian Church. The bride is the former Mrs. Jean Suedmeyer of Los Gatos.
