Blue, White Chosen For Wedding Decor

White gladioli and blue stock were chosen by Helma Joyce Alcorn to carry out the color theme for her Aug. 26 marriage to Michael Blomquist of Roseburg. Blue and white pew bows and blue tapers in candleabra and in window recesses completed the pretty setting for the double ring nuptials in the First Baptist Church read by the Rev. Ferris D. Winn of Calvary Baptist Church.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest N. Alcorn, this city, was given in marriage by her father.

The bridal gown of Chantilly lace was floor length. Fitted bodice and long sleeves were accented with long sequins and scalloped Sabrina neckline. The very full skirt with sides and back fashioned of lace tiers extended into a chapel train. The fingertip illusion veil was held in place by a crown of sequins and pearls with teardrop at the center. The bride bouquet was a crescent of white stephanotis and white roses.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. Hattie Schoenthaler of this city. Dressed in a light blue chiffon frock, she carried a colonial bouquet of white pompons with ribbon streamers.

Dark blue chiffon dresses and blue and white colonial bouquets were the attire of the bridesmaids, Jean Sheppard and Sheryl Mang of Vale, niece of the bride. Candelights were the bride's nephew, Terry Alcorn, and Jerry Martisak.

Flowergirl Debra Rose wore a light blue chiffon dress and carried blue and white pompons. Jimmy Alcorn, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Marriage Is Announced

Mrs. Georgia James of this city announces the marriage of her daughter, Joanne, to Dwayne Hooker. The couple exchanged wedding vows Sunday, Oct. 8, in Boise. The newlyweds will make their home in Cober, Ore.

KNEE-DEEP IN RUGS

Scatter rugs are getting more plushy each year since the introduction of acrylic fibers. They are home washable, which makes them suitable for use in children's rooms, playrooms or the bath.

Couple Wed In Sacramento

WEED—Tall standards of pastel flowers graced the altar of the Bethany Presbyterian Church in Sacramento for the wedding of Ardit C. Stansbury of Sacramento and Stanley E. Ramsdell of Davis. The Rev. Elbert Johnston conducted the double ring ceremony at 2 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 9. Flowers like those at the altar were secured with white satin bows and marked the pews for the 200 guests attending.

"The Lord's Prayer" was sung during the ceremonies by Mrs. Barbara Orr, Sacramento, accompanied by Mrs. Gerry Betts, organist.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Muri Stansbury, former residents of Mount Shasta and well known in this area, was escorted down the white carpeted aisle by her father. Her wedding gown was of white peau d'oie accented with re-embroidered Alencon lace. The basque bodice buttoned down the back and appliqued lace trimmed the petal neckline and short sleeves. The skirt featured a scissor front and lace trimmed the chapel train. Her fingertip illusion veil, that had been worn by her matron of honor at her wedding, was secured by a petite heart-shaped half-hat of satin and Alencon lace. Double pink orchids, surrounded by pink roses, carnations and bouvardia atop a Bible that the bride's mother had carried at her wedding, formed the bridal bouquet. For jewelry, the bride wore a seed pearl necklace that the mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Fred Ramsdell, had used at her nuptials.

Mrs. Edward Evans was gown in a buttercup-yellow nylon organza over tulle gown, with scissor skirt. Her matching headpiece was of twin bows holding a short veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of mint green spider chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids wore identical dresses to the honor matron, with but in pepper headpieces and their bouquets were of orchid chrysanthemums.

Douglas Koenitzer of Davis served as best man. The guests were seated by Walter Brown, Davis, Kipard Mellor, Edward Simpson and George Stebbins, Sacramento, and Raymond Walker, Berkeley, a cousin of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Stansbury greeted her daughter's guests in a champagne beige sheer dress. She wore matching accessories and a butterfly orchid corsage.

Mrs. Ramsdell, mother of the bride, chose a violet-colored brocade jacket dress with matching accessories and a butterfly orchid corsage.

The wedding guests were greeted at a reception in the Camelia Room of the Tuesday Club, Sacramento. The four-tiered wedding cake, encircled with pastel flowers, was flanked by white candles. Elenor Stoltz, Sacramento, carried the guest book and Susan and Robin Gaubatz, Yreka, cousins of the bride, passed the rice bags.

Since returning from their honeymoon at Lake Tahoe, the bride couple has established a home in Woodland, where the bridegroom is employed with the Yolo County Loan Association.

The new bride was graduated from the Mount Shasta High School and Sacramento City College of Nursing. She has been a member of International Order of Job's Daughters, Mount Shasta Bethel 139 and Phi Theta Kappa, an honorary society. She is also a member of The Order of the Eastern Star.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ramsdell of Davis, graduate of the Davis High School and University of California at Davis with a B.S. degree in Animal Husbandry. After working two years with the animal husbandry department, he returned to the Davis campus receiving his BS in agricultural economics. He is a member of DeMolay.

Attending the wedding and dinner were the following relatives and friends: Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Haley of Redding, parents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Swartz of Ashland; Mrs. Anita Hoyer of Redding.

Mrs. Jessie Butters and Mrs. Albert Butters Jr., both of Dunsmuir; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Blunt, Richard Crawford; the Rev. and Mrs. Clyde Teale; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Crowe, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. "Jack" Nelson, Mrs. Tom Earnest and Mrs. George Petter, all of Yreka. Following the wedding dinner, the new Mr. and Mrs. Younggren left for a week's wedding trip and are residing now in their new home on Northridge Terrace, Yreka. He is an employee at Houston's Car and Home Supply of Yreka.

Chapel Rites Unite Couple

LAKEVIEW — Wedding vows were exchanged between Diana Lynn Banister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe L. Banister of Lakeview, and Lucian W. Nowlin Jr., recently at the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Sacramento.

He is the son of Mrs. Clyde W. McCulley of Eugene, and the late Lucian W. Nowlin.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length wedding gown of white satin and faced organza over tulle and silk tulle, featuring a portrait bracelet-length sleeves. The elbow length veil of silk illusion was held in place by a princess crown of Swiss embroidered flowers sprinkled with seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a small gold heart pendant, a gift from the bridegroom. Her bouquet of stephanotis was centered with a white orchid, carried on a Job's Daughters Bible.

The maid of honor was Phyllis Briggs of Shady Cove. Her frock was of mint green silk organza over tulle with a bell skirt, and the clip-on headpiece of nylon net was of matching shade. She carried an old-fashioned nosegay of pink carnations.

Henry Claussen of Eugene was best man, and Norman Banister of Paisley, uncle of the bride, was an usher.

The bride is a graduate of Lakeview High School and attended Southern Oregon College. The bridegroom, graduated from high school in Lincoln, Neb., and attended University of Oregon and Southern Oregon College. He is affiliated with Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

The reception was held at the Sacramento Inn after which the newlyweds left for a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe. They will be at home in San Angelo, Tex., where he is serving with the Air Force.

Fashion Flair

An overweight figure is the most expensive item to put into fashion. Fashion is designed mostly for a size 12... which is the dream of most women, and the way a designer looks to visualize clothes. But, if your figure has too much poundage, it is difficult to camouflage well. The box-like jacket seems to be slimming, for it masks the waist and gives the figure a column-like look. Try to push away from the table a little sooner, and exercise, some, so that you find more clothes that fit onto your figure and into your fashion picture.

Orions Club

Orions Club held its October meeting at the home of Leona York the evening of Oct. 3. Devotions were given by Mabel Wacker and roll call was answered by telling a short humorous story.

Peggy Van Pelt was unanimously elected secretary to fill out the term of Norma Weber, who moved to Eugene recently.

Games were played and prizes won by Joan Aschenbach and Christine Murray. Special prize of the evening was awarded to Mrs. Verna Mandella, a guest from Paso Robles.

Hostesses Leona York and Louise Blehess served refreshments from a table decorated in the Halloween theme.

The annual turkey dinner will be held at 6:30 p.m. on Nov. 7 at the Congregational Church.
