

We The Women

• His Advice Isn't Likely To Please Homemakers

Ruth Miller
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

"Don't let your husband leave the house in a $150 suit, carrying a leaky bag of garbage," says yet another writer of yet another how-to book, this one with a section offering special advice to wives on how to pamper their husbands.

Many wives aren't going to like that bit of advice. What, they are going to wonder, are they supposed to do? Say, "Look, darling, don't touch that nasty old garbage wearing your nice, new, $150 suit. Let me carry it. After all, I'm just wearing the $3.98 housecoat I put on so that I could cook your breakfast."

Or is the wife supposed to say, "Honey, the last time you carried out the garbage in a paper sack the darn thing leaked all over one of your $150 suits and it'll be better to carry out the garbage in its own leakproof container?"

Or is the wife supposed to get up early on garbage collection day, wake her husband and say gaily, "Time to get up, dear, and put out the garbage before you don your $150 suit?"

Those are three possibilities that just might occur to the loving wife who is told she mustn't let her husband leave the house in a $150 suit, while carrying a leaky bag of garbage.

Another—but I don't think the author had this suggestion in mind at all—is for the wife to say: "How come you can wear $150 suits when we don't even have a garbage disposal in the kitchen?"

But I somehow have the feeling that the only solution the man who offered the bit of advice to wives would approve of is No. 1.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAYS

About 70 friends of Harry Wiard, right, offered him congratulations Sept. 10 at an open house in Wiard Park on the occasion of his 80th birthday. Shown with his grandfather and sharing the same birthday are Roger Wiard, who was 21 on Sept. 9. Hosts for the affair were the elder Wiards' children, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. (Irma) Clement of Macdoel, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wiard, Mr. and Mrs. Walter (Juanita) Lundsten and Mr. and Mrs. Homer (Vesta) Stiles, all of this city. Five of 14 grandchildren and six of the honored guest's great-grandchildren were also present.

BRIDAL PAIR

Mr. and Mrs. Starr Scholz were married recently in the Sunset Wedding Chapel in Reno. The bride is the former Carolyn Williams of Montague.

New Bride Is Honored

MONTAGUE — Recent bride, Mrs. Starr Scholz, nee Carolyn Williams, was the honored guest at a wedding shower given for her by members of the Montague Family Fellowship Church Pentecostal Holiness at the home of Mrs. Harvey Hurd.

The evening was spent visiting and playing games appropriate to the occasion. After the honoree opened her many gifts, refreshments were served.

Present, in addition to the honoree and Mrs. Hurd, were Mrs. Glen Williams, mother of the new bride; Mrs. Lillian Dutcher, Mrs. Annie Zornes, Mrs. Ree Bowman, Vera Hurl, Patti Wasson and Janice Truelove. Unable to be present but sending gifts were Mrs. Walter Dillard and daughter, Molly.

The new Mrs. Scholz, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Williams, Little Shasta, exchanged nuptial vows with Starr Scholz in August in the Sunset Wedding Chapel, Reno, with the Rev. W. Maynard officiating.

The couple was attended by Mrs. Sarah Hutchinson and Mrs. Johnnie R. Maynard. For her marriage the young bride chose a pink organza afternoon frock, featuring a full street-length skirt and short sleeves, complemented with black accessories.

The bride was graduated from Yreka High School in 1959. Her husband attended schools in Bridgewater, Mass., and attended the college in Marysville. He is employed by Al Welch in Yreka. The couple is now residing in Montague.

SET YOUR EYEBROWS

Here's a new way to train eyebrows to do your bidding. Just use hair lacquer, sprayed on your fingers and transferred to your eyebrows. Don't try to spray your brows directly. The spray is bound to get into your eyes.

MATCH 'EM

Wear a bra and slip to match each sleeveless dress in your wardrobe. Then any strap that peeps out at the shoulder will be practically invisible.

GARDEN WEDDING

In a pretty garden setting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Collis, Nancy Lee Mapes and James Sanford were united in marriage Aug. 25.

ALTURAS—A flower-banked improvised altar in the garden of the Randall Collis Ranch was the pretty setting Aug. 25 for the wedding of Nancy Lee Mapes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randall Collis, and James Sanford. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sanford of Alberta, Canada, who motored to Alturas for their son's wedding.

The Rev. C. Chism of the Baptist Church officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown with Chantilly lace bodice and three quarter length sleeves. A satin cummerbund encircled her waist above the full skirt, overlaid with chiffon. A small tiara held her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of rosebuds with sprays of stephanotis.

Glenda Drane, sister of the bridegroom, served as matron of honor and Diana and Mary Mapes, sisters of the bride, were her other attendants. The girls were dressed in ballerina length dresses of blue, orchid and pink.

Best man to the bridegroom was his brother-in-law, Dalan Drane, and his cousins, Kenneth and Donald Sanford, were ushers.

Mrs. Collis wore a sleeveless light yellow brocaded dress with a matching orchid corsage. Mrs. Sanford wore a blue taffeta with an overlay of lace and matching corsage.

Neva Mapes, the bride's aunt, played the music for the wedding.

The wedding cake was served after the ceremony by Mrs. Gerry Smith and Mrs. Guy Fender. At the punch bowl were Mrs. Robert Potchez and Mrs. Ernest Sanford Jr. Roberta Mattison, college roommate of the bride, attended the guest book.

The young couple met at Shasta Junior College where each attended for a year. The bride is a graduate of the Modoc High School and was active in the Rainbow Girls and 4-H work. She served as president of FHA also.

The bridegroom was graduated from Los Molinos High School and served four years in the Air Force before attending Shasta College. He is associated with his family raising bees.

The young couple toured to Nampa, Alberta, Canada, for a wedding trip and will reside there during the summer months. Their winters will be spent in Red Bluff.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Pipes, Mount Shasta; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Young and Gayle, Klamath Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sanford, Red Bluff; Mrs. G. W. Chapman, Paisley; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Westly, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Potchez, Medford; Mrs. Sybil Hicks and Mrs. Ruby Stout, Willows; Roberta Mattison, Ontario; Susan Drush, Los Angeles; Kathy Pallermo, Corning.
