

Owls To Invade Raider-Ville; Pels Await Millers

Techmen Gearing For SOC

The Oregon Tech Owls are giving their passing defensive structure no little attention as they prepare for their annual "big" game with the Southern Oregon College Red Raiders this weekend.

Saturday afternoon at 1:30 in Ashland, the Owls will tangle with SOC as the feature attraction of the Red Raider Homecoming festivities.

The Owls' chief aim is to spoil the day for the host club, whether it's polite or not.

The Tech eleven, fresh from a 25-13 win over Eastern Oregon here Saturday night, returned to practice Monday afternoon and devoted a good bit of the time to plans necessary to put the vaunted SOC Airarm out of commission.

Raider quarterback Doug Olson, a smooth-working sophomore, is currently leading the Oregon Collegiate Conference passers, and his favorite target, end Howard Hartman is number one in the receiving department. Both are expected to be in top shape for the Saturday afternoon battle.

Monday night at the Owl Homecoming in the Broiler, freshman fullback Harvey Graham, and frosh tackle Don Vidic were guests of honor at the outstanding players in the Owl win over SOC.

Each spoke briefly when introduced by coach Rex Hunsaker after short talks by aides George Miller and Jim Cordial. Cordial's report dealt with the Portland State-SOC game which he scouted in Portland last week.

Graham, a highway technology major from Grants Pass, commented, "We'll give SOC a good game," then corrected himself, "We'll beat 'em."

Vidic, a machine-shop student is a newcomer from Cheswick, Penn., who expects to continue his education at OTI with a course in tool and die making.

Both were praised by Hunsaker, not only for commendable efforts on the football field, but also for their application to the academic side of their education. He said, "Many people don't realize just what a football player has to go through. First, they must attend classes six hours a day, then they must spend two hours on their assigned jobs, then practice football two hard hours, and follow up with a strenuous session of homework and study in the evenings. Actually . . . this doesn't leave them much time for frivolities, or even sleep."

Without him Italy never would have beaten the United States. He won two crucial singles matches, defeating Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., and Jon Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif. He also was instrumental in giving Italy a third point, teaming with Orlando Sirota to beat the American doubles team of Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., and Reed.

Gardini won Italy's fourth point by beating Reed Monday in the final match after Pietrangeli had already sewed things up against Douglas. Douglas provided the lone American point, defeating Gardini in the first singles match last Friday.

Italians Prepping For Trip

ROME (AP)—Italy trained its sights on Australia and another crack at the Davis Cup today while the humiliated Italian States began the long wait until next year.

The Italians—after beating the Americans in the interzone final 4-1—promptly started preparations for the trip to Australia. There, in December, the Italians for the second straight year will meet Australia in the challenge round for the most coveted trophy in international tennis.

Italian tennis officials said they would probably use the same three men against Australia that beat the United States: Nicola Pietrangeli, Orlando Sirota, and Fausto Gardini.

Eugenio Migone, nonplaying captain of the Italian team, said: "We have every hope of winning. It will be close."

The Italians were determined to do better than last year, when they lost to the Australians, 4-1. David Freed, nonplaying captain of the U.S. team, agreed it would be close, too. He said the Italians could win if Sirota is in shape for doubles and Pietrangeli plays against the Australians as he played against the Americans.

Pietrangeli, 28, who has dominated European amateur tennis for the last few years, decided a year ago to join Jack Kramer's professional troupe. Then he changed his mind, saying he wanted to remain an amateur to help Italy win the Davis Cup.

Without him Italy never would have beaten the United States. He won two crucial singles matches, defeating Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., and Jon Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif. He also was instrumental in giving Italy a third point, teaming with Orlando Sirota to beat the American doubles team of Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., and Reed.

Gardini won Italy's fourth point by beating Reed Monday in the final match after Pietrangeli had already sewed things up against Douglas. Douglas provided the lone American point, defeating Gardini in the first singles match last Friday.

Touring Pros Open Tourney

COSTA MESA, Calif. (AP)—California's autumn golf trail swings to the Mesa Verde Country Club Wednesday with the touring professionals aiming at a $20,000 purse in the Orange County Open.

Scheduled to compete are two Ryder Cup players just back from Uncle Sam's victory in England, Capt. Jerry Barber and Billy Casper, Jr.

Also entered after undergoing treatment for a back ailment is young Doug Sanders.

Eric Monti, playoff winner of the Ontario Open Sunday, heads a Southern California contingent in the 72-hole event over the 6,700-yard course.

NY Four Head AP All-Stars

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1961 Associated Press major league All-Star team listed outfielder Roger Maris of the New York Yankees and left-handed pitcher Warren Spahn as the lone repeaters from last season's squad.

The world champion Yankees landed four players on the team named today in the annual poll of members of the Baseball Writers Association. They were outfielder Mickey Mantle, catcher Elston Howard and shortstop Tony Kubek, besides Maris.

Others selected on the squad included first baseman Norm Cavon of the Tigers, second baseman Frank Bolling of the Braves, third baseman Ken Boyer of the Cards, outfielder Frank Robinson of the Reds and right-handed pitcher Joey Jay of the Reds.

Howard, a near unanimous choice for catcher, polled 156 of the 171 votes cast. Johnny Roseboro of the Dodgers was runner-up with 4. Mantle also was named on 156 ballots to share top vote-getting honors with Howard.

The keenest competition was the battle for shortstop between Kubek and Maury Wills of the Dodgers. Kubek won by 2 votes, 59 to 57. Spahn and Whitey Ford of the Yanks also waged a close race for the outstanding southpaw with Spahn a 20-game winner for the 12th time, prevailing 83 to 78.

Maris, the major league home run king with 61 and the American League leader in both runs and runs batted in, ranked behind teammates Howard and Mantle in the vote-getting. Maris was named on 136 ballots.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Rob in Roberts was asked how he felt toward the New York Yankees, the only team in major league baseball willing to take a chance the right-hander's great career isn't a thing of the past.

"I would like to think that they're a smart organization," said Roberts, 35, beaming from ear to ear at the thought of pitching for Roger Maris, Mickey Mantle & Co.

It was a typical Roberts' answer, showing the kind of pride and competitive spirit Gen. Mgr. Roy Hamey said had prompted the Yankees to buy the pitcher from the Philadelphia Phillies for a price believed to be slightly over the $20,000 waiver figure.

There was no doubt how Roberts felt about the deal. It was all he could do to keep from laughing at the thought of being a Yankee.

"Playing with the Yankees is the only place to be," said the winner of 234 games—he lost 199—in 14 years with the Phillies.

"Any body knows that in baseball the deal is to win or lose. I've watched the Yankees win and I want to be a part of it."

Roberts, who pitched only two complete games in 1961, while winning 1 and losing 10, insists the Yankees will never regret taking a chance on him.

"I've got three or four more good years yet," he asserted at a news conference at which owner Bob Carpenter of the Phillies announced the sale.

Hamey said in New York the Yankees felt they had everything to gain and nothing to lose in taking Roberts.

Noted College Quarterbacks Suffer Trials, Tribulations

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"Quarterbacks. Their Trials and Tribulations"

That could well be the subject for today when some of the nation's college football teams get down to hard work for this Saturday's games.

The subjects concerned are some of the more famous at their occupations this year.

Sonny Gibbs, the tree-like signal-caller of Texas Christian, broke three ribs in last Saturday's loss to Texas Tech and has been replaced by soph Gray Mills. Just before his team's loss to Arkansas the previous week, Gibbs injured himself when an airplane landing ramp collapsed as his team was getting ready to leave for Little Rock.

Notre Dame's No. 1 quarterback, Daryle Lamonica, who has led the Fighting Irish to a 3-0 season so far, has a badly bruised ankle but is expected to be ready for Saturday's crucial game against Michigan State. Lamonica was hurt in last Saturday's 30-0 victory over Southern California, after also getting hurt the previous week against Purdue.

Iowa's No. 1 quarterback, Wilburn Hollis, had the cast removed from his wrist, but coach Jerry Burns still doesn't expect him to get back into action until later this season. Hollis was hurt Oct. 7 against Southern California.

John Hadl, Kansas' Mr. Everything, is feeling fine, and it is a good thing. Coach Jack Mitchell said he will continue to use him at quarterback and left halfback on offense, and extensively on defense. Hadl handled all three roles in the Jayhawks first victory, 21-7 over Iowa State last week.

Dave Sarette may still be ready to guide Syracuse against Penn State in the East's big game this week. He has a shoulder bruise that caused him to return home with his arm in a sling. His substitution, Bob Lelli, also suffered a hand fracture in the same game.

Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes isn't sure who will do the quarterbacking for him this week against Northwestern. He indicated it will be either Bill Mrukowski, who has done most of the work so far, or junior John Murney, whom he indicated has drawn even with Mrukowski.

Ron Taylor, Missouri's quarterback, was listed as one of his team's dozen injured, and may not see action against Iowa State this week.

Baylor's Bears, dumped from the unbeaten, also were worried that their two prize fons—Bull and Goodwin—might be absent when the team meets Texas Tech. Oklahoma State guard Mike Upton will be out indefinitely after fracturing an ankle while Nebraska halfback Willie Ross, its highest scorer, is hobbled with a hip injury.

Mississippi, Michigan State Head Pollsters' Top Ten Picks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Michigan State nudged Mississippi out as the No. 1 college football team in the country today in the weekly Associated Press poll.

The margin was by a slim two points. Of Miss. in fact, collected more first place votes than the Spartans. Mississippi had 21 first place votes to Michigan State's 16. Michigan State, which went to the top by virtue of its impressive 28-0 victory over Michigan last Saturday in the national television game of the week.

Michigan State finished with 431 points to 429 for Mississippi. The nationwide panel of 48 sports writers and sportscasters had Texas third, Iowa fourth, Alabama fifth, Notre Dame sixth, Ohio State seventh, Georgia Tech eighth, Colorado ninth and Arkansas and Louisiana State tied for tenth.

Mississippi shows a 4-0 record following its easy 47-7 triumph over Houston last week. Michigan State has won all three of its games.

Michigan, No. 6, Baylor, No. 9, and Maryland, No. 10 a week ago all tumbled out of the top 10, as a result of being beaten.

Georgia Tech, Colorado, Arkansas and Louisiana State all jumped into the select circle.

Only Ohio State held the same spot as a week ago.

10. Louisiana State (3-1) 38

Machen 3-1 Ring Choice

LONDON (AP)—American heavyweight Eddie Machen goes into a European ring for the second time tonight—hoping to do Britain's Brian London what Ingemar Johansson did to him three years ago.

In Goteborg, Sweden, in 1958, the boxer from Redding, Calif., got in the way of a vicious right from the big blond swede after 2 minutes, 16 seconds of the first round. It was the end of the fight.

That punch earned Johansson a title fight with world champion Floyd Patterson. It put off considerably Machen's chance of a crack at the world title.

Machen, still hoping for that fight title, could see his dreams crash around him if he loses tonight. But he is rated 3-1 favorite to beat London, former British champion who has not fought for more than a year.

Pelican Boosters Schedule Medford Film, Ladies' Nite

Although Klamath Basin football fans are still "replaying" the thrilling Klamath Union Pelican victory over the Medford Black Tornado last weekend, the Pels themselves have turned their attention to this Friday's assignment, the "dark horse" Springfield Millers.

Springfield, 4-2 for the season, has lost only to Roseburg, 7-6 and North Bend, and is a definite threat in its own league. The Miller-Pelican encounter which will get underway at 8 p.m. Friday on Modoc Field, is the final home appearance scheduled for the Pels.

Reserved seat tickets to the game are now available at the Klamath County Chamber of Commerce, according to Jim Johnson, KU athletic director. He noted that another near-capacity crowd is expected and that fans should get their tickets early.

The Pelican Boosters, the KU basketball association has planned a special "Ladies' Nite" meeting Wednesday at 6:00 p.m. in the new banquet room at the Winema Hotel. All area football fans and their wives are urged to attend.

Booster club president Dick Gallagher has also extended a special invitation to players' parents. While the coming Springfield game preparations are to be discussed by head coach Bob Williams and his staff, he will also present a commentary on the Medford-KU game films, a special feature included on the Wednesday night program.

Other special entertainment is also planned for the session, said Gallagher.

Monday afternoon, after viewing the film of their big win over the Tornado, the Pelican launched their preparations for the Miller invasion this weekend.

The first practice placed stress on game fundamentals, machine blocking and tackling drills and particular emphasis was placed on wind sprints, said Williams.

After checking the performance of his club as shown on film, Williams said, "We were especially impressed with the defensive work displayed by Ron Hitchcock and Roger Macy. Both were stand-outs—and their work is often overlooked during the progress of the game . . . but it shows up when one can see the films."

Williams also complimented senior kicking specialist John Ruger whose talented toe booted the all-important conversion point that won the game for KU. He said, "This boy is dedicated—he has worked and worked on kicking . . . and it is really paying off for him."

Hitchcock, it was discovered, had made the important shoe-string tackle previously credited to Kent Hunsaker. Hitchcock was the last man between Medford powerhouse George Clearwater and the Pelican goal line.

Boxing Twinbill Studied

NEW YORK (UPI)—Whether boxing shall have its first closed-circuit TV doubleheader on Dec. 4 will be settled this week at Philadelphia.

The three-man Pennsylvania Athletic Commission will decide some time this week whether a proposed Sonny Liston-Albert Westphal fight can be staged at Philadelphia on the same night as the Floyd Patterson-Tom McNeely heavyweight title bout, which was officially signed Monday for Toronto on Dec. 4.

While challenger McNeely of Arlington, Mass., was a luncheon guest in New York today, attorney Alfred Klein in Philadelphia, a member of the Pennsylvania commission was communicating with chairman Jim Crowley of Scranton and attorney Paul Sullivan of Pittsburgh as to which would be the best date for their Philadelphia meeting this week.

Study Liston's Suspension
Their meeting must decide:—Whether Liston of Philadelphia, who was top heavyweight contender before his indefinite suspension on July 15, shall be reinstated, and —Whether unranked Albert Westphal of Germany shall be approved as an opponent for Liston on Dec. 4, in case big Sonny is reinstated.

Liston was suspended by the Pennsylvania commission because of two brushes with the law in Philadelphia: an arrest for loitering and an arrest for turning off his automobile lights to avoid questioning in a park by the police upon complaint of a woman driver. He was acquitted of both charges.

The National Boxing Association, which concurred in the suspension, doubtlessly would reinstate Liston if the Pennsylvania commission did.

Sign Fight Pact
At Toronto Monday, champion Patterson and unbeaten McNeely signed contracts for their 15-round title fight in Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens, Dec. 4.

That fight will be promoted by Championship Sports, Inc., of New York and Frank Tunney of Toronto. It will be televised on closed circuit by Teleprompter Corp. in theaters and other locations in the United States and Canada.

GOOD FOOD IS MY LINE

Barbecue cook-outs are quite the rage these days, and it is my impression that folks think of the barbecue as a strictly modern American phenomenon. This is far from being the case, however. The word "barbecue" was originally "barbakut," a name used by the Indians of the West Indies and Northern South America to signify the wooden framework upon which they grilled meat and fish. The Spaniards took up the expression and passed it on to the English, who used it to designate an elevated platform either for sleeping or cooking. It later acquired the meaning of any large animal cooked over an open fire. Still later, the term came to its present meaning of an open-air, social affair involving outdoor cooking . . .

Mentors Hit Odds Publicity

NEW YORK (UPI)—The publishing of college football odds, both in newspapers and football cards, has been denounced as a demoralizing influence upon the "kids playing the game" by John Bateman, head coach at Rutgers University.

Tom Nugent, coach of Maryland, and Joe Foss, president of the American Football League, supported Bateman at Monday's football writers' meeting.

Nugent said the printing of odds had a "reverse psychological effect on my team" and Foss said that "any remedy, no matter how small, should be tried" to prevent a gambling scandal.

Bateman pointed out that he was not concerned with the big better, because they "always can find out the odds," but he was concerned about the smaller bet. He pointed out that "fraternity brothers bet $5 on them at the published odds and the players feel they're letting down their friends if they don't win by the point-spread."

"We've got to pressure down the gambling," Bateman said, "and if we reduce gambling by one-tenth of one per cent it's worth it."

Nugent, whose team lost to Maryland, 14-8, last Saturday, said, "This is no alibi, but the word got to the kids that the odds-makers didn't think we could pass in the rain."

"And it was a psychological disadvantage," he said, "we couldn't pass in the rain. I'm certain that being picked by two and three touchdowns had its effect on us."

Foss revealed the AFL was particularly alert and wary against a gambling scandal and said he had a lie detector which he would use without hesitation in any controversy which might hurt the league.

Mercy Bowl Draws Okay From NCAA

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Mercy Bowl Game in Los Angeles, a benefit for victims of the 1960 California Poly air disaster, was among 15 post-season football contests officially certified to day by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA).

The total of 15 games equals the highest since the immediate post-war period, the NCAA announced. It was not certain, however, that all certified games would be played. Of the 15 games certified in 1959, 12 were played, and of 12 approved last year, one was cancelled.

Bowl games approved for the first time in addition to the Mercy Bowl were the Aviation Bowl at Dayton, Ohio, and the National Trophy Bowl at Washington, D.C.

New York's Gotham Bowl, approved last year but never played, is again on the list.

The Mercy Bowl will be played for the benefit of the victims of the airplane crash at Toledo, Ohio, which took the lives of 16 members of the California Polytechnic Institute football team last Oct. 29 upon their return from a game against Bowling Green.
