

Filmom's Star Maker, J. Schenck Dies At 83

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Joseph M. Schenck, who made $4.50 a week as an immigrant boy in New York and a fortune as lord of a celluloid empire in Hollywood, is dead at 83.

Schenck helped develop such diverse talents as Fatty Arbuckle and Marilyn Monroe and had a hand in founding four major entertainment enterprises during his long career.

He was generally an off-stage figure, but scandal once brought him prominence—and a brief prison term.

He died in his sleep Sunday at his Beverly Hills home. He had been in failing health since he suffered a broken hip more than two years ago.

Buster Keaton, John Barrymore and Constance Talmadge were among those who achieved stardom under Schenck's guidance. He oversaw direction of films starring Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin and Rudolph Valentino.

He was one of the organizers of Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corp. and United Artists Theaters, Inc. He later formed Magna Corp. with the late Mike Todd and at the time of his death was head of Joseph M. Schenck Enterprises, a motion picture producing firm.

Schenck married actress Norma Talmadge, sister of Constance, in 1916. She divorced him in 1924 and he never remarried. He lived quietly and alone in later years.

Schenck made a star of Fatty Arbuckle and had a backlog of Arbuckle films ready for release when Arbuckle was accused of causing the death of a girl dancer at a wild party. He was never convicted but his films were practically worthless and Schenck lost millions.

He was convicted in 1941 of two counts of income tax evasion and sentenced to a three-year prison term. The sentence was suspended in 1942 after he served four months and five days at the Federal Correctional Institution in Danbury, Conn.

Kooky Wife Abets Daughter's Fantasy

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: My wife is a little kooky and I'm afraid she's making our 11-year-old daughter the same way.

Flora is a bright child but she's small for her age and rather babyish compared with some of her girl friends. Yesterday Flora showed up at the breakfast table fully dressed, except she had no blouse on—just a brassiere. This girl doesn't have any more use for a brassiere than I have. I said nothing but the minute I got to my office I phoned my wife and asked her why she allowed Flora to wear a brassiere.

She said the girl begged for one because some of her friends wear them and she saw no harm in saying yes.

I say this is nuts. Who is right? —MERE FATHER

Dear Mere: Some girls at 11 need a bra and they should wear one. But your youngster obviously needs one like South Dakota needs more grasshoppers.

Many of today's children can't wait to grow up and their foolish mothers are aiding and abetting them. And rushing the process inevitably breeds trouble.

Putting Flat Flora in a brassiere advances her fantasy. She is playing at being grown up and her mother is part of the game. What she will want to do next is anybody's guess.

heart and need someone to tell me if I am wrong so I can apologize.

My sister came to visit the family. She lives 2,000 miles away and none of us had seen her for six years. She stayed with a niece who has a lovely, large home.

Several parties were given in my sister's honor and I was not invited to a single one. She was here for 10 days and I did not get to see her. When I heard she was leaving on a certain train my husband and I went to the station to see her off. I told her I was sorry we didn't get together and she really exploded. She shouted, "You knew I was in town. Why didn't you invite me over?"

I didn't know you had to invite your own sister to your home. Am I wrong? Please tell me. I'm a nervous wreck over this.—S.L.M.

Dear S.L.M. According to the social rule books, the visitor is expected to call those he wishes to see when he arrives in town. But your family situation has a some fairly obvious missing links. Why were you excluded from the parties? It's difficult to provide a complete answer when I get only fragments of the story.

Dear Ann Landers: Frequently I visited in the home of a friend who has a large Persian cat. I don't happen to care for cats but whenever I go over there out of a roomful of people the cat picks me to sit on.

Last evening the cat became fascinated with my shoes. He began to take a few swipes at my shoelaces. I said "Scat," but the hostess ignored my signs of displeasure. So did the cat. When I glanced down I saw that both my stockings were in shreds. The only comment from the hostess was "I hope they weren't expensive."

Well, she should know you can't buy a pair of decent nylon stockings for less than $1.15. Do you think the hostess should have offered to replace my stockings?—FUMING

Dear Fuming: A good hostess pays for damage inflicted on guests by her minor children and pets.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Khrushchev Tries Gamble; Makes Big Berlin Gains

Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP)—Premier Khrushchev is doing pretty well for himself, probably better than he expected. It hasn't cost him much.

He resumed nuclear testing without getting any severe reaction from the neutrals.

He made an issue of West Berlin and seems to have the Allies floundering for a way to deal with him.

He showed the myth in Western talk of reunifying Germany by walling in East Berlin. He used the wall as a symbol of his possession.

In all this, with his trumpeting and threats, he has shown a more persistent leadership than anyone in the West.

He has done the pitching, the West the catching.

From the beginning there was a fear in the West that Khrushchev might push his luck too far and create a situation which left no out but war.

Still, he was so clever in his tactics of pressuring the West that he gave an appearance of steadiness.

For at least a decade it has been a Russian hope somehow to split the Western Allies whose solidarity was an absolute block to Soviet ambitions in Europe.

For Khrushchev, raising the Berlin issue—since the populations of the United States, France, Britain and West Germany have varying attitudes toward war over Berlin—was a good way to test Allied solidarity.

It has worked out nicely for him so far, with nothing for him to do but sit back and watch.

The United States and Britain want to move toward negotiations. Negotiations will mean some compromise. But France wants to compromise, thinks it's too soon for negotiations.

West Germany apparently is not yet sure how far it wants to go in meeting the Russian demands, or in wanting the United States to.

Khrushchev himself was probably surprised at how little bad reaction he got from the neutrals when he decided to resume his nuclear tests, even though he did it in a cunning way that throws doubt on any future agreements with him.

He and the United States had an agreement—perhaps an understanding is the better word—not to test. Then suddenly Russia tested. Because it has now had a whole series of tests one conclusion is obvious.

These tests needed plenty of preparations. So Khrushchev, while carefully planning them, gave no indication of it until he was ready to begin.

As for East Germany: The Western powers have collaborated with the West Germans in keeping alive the myth that East and West Germany could be reunified in the reasonable future.

But when Khrushchev said the West must now deal with the East Germans—and when he built the Berlin wall which the Allies did not dare attempt to pull down—the myth was exploded.

After all this time the Western Allies are still not agreed on how to deal with Khrushchev on this one.

For at least a decade it has been a Russian hope somehow to split the Western Allies whose solidarity was an absolute block to Soviet ambitions in Europe.

For Khrushchev, raising the Berlin issue—since the populations of the United States, France, Britain and West Germany have varying attitudes toward war over Berlin—was a good way to test Allied solidarity.

It has worked out nicely for him so far, with nothing for him to do but sit back and watch.

The United States and Britain want to move toward negotia-

Specialist Says Attacks Not Caused By Emotions

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The popular idea that emotional stress or unusual physical effort bring on many heart attacks is simply a myth, a heart specialist said Saturday.

Many judges, doctors and heart patients, possibly including former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, seem to think emotional stress does play a particular role, said Dr. Herman K. Hellerstein, Cleveland, Ohio.

Eisenhower in a recent television interview, said he thought that getting angry during a golf match had possibly had something to do with his subsequent heart attack.

Hellerstein declared, "It is highly unlikely that acute coronary thrombosis is associated with unusual physical or emotional efforts. It takes hours and days for a thrombus (blood clot) to develop enough" to block a heart artery.

Speaking to the American Heart Association, he said one common misconception was that emotional stress routinely brings a maximum reaction on the body and the heart.

"The death of John Hunter (a famous British physician) in the 1700s after an argument, or even more recently the narration over television by the former president of the United States that his heart attack occurred shortly after his ire was aroused by three annoying phone calls which interrupted a golf match, have served to fortify this concept."

Hellerstein described studies of physical and emotional stresses in many persons and cited works of other heart specialists, to support his views.

Individuals vary widely in their reactions to emotional stress, he said. Emotional reactions can increase blood pressure, pulse rate, alter the fat content of the blood and produce other effects.

At maximum output of physical work, the heart beat can reach 170-175 per minute, he said.

Emotional stress rarely produces such a peak beat, Hellerstein said, reporting on-the-job studies of factory and steel workers, TV personalities, surgeons, house officers and sky-jumpers.

Generally, he said, the effects of emotional stress on the circulation were "somewhat equal that of a brisk walk."

One statistical study, he added, found more people died of sudden heart attacks when asleep or resting than when exerting themselves.

Hoffa Files Slander Suit

DETROIT (AP)—James R. Hoffa and his Teamsters Union filed a million-dollar libel and slander suit today against AFL-CIO President George Meany and 24 other top AFL-CIO officers.

The suit, brought by Teamsters Union leader Hoffa in U.S. District Court, charged Meany with trying to "lie and steal away" members of the Teamsters Union.

Meany and the codefendants, the suit said, conspired to portray Hoffa as "perpetrator of a fraud upon the American labor movement."

This was done, the suit added, as a "smoke screen to conceal the true picture of the defendant, AFL-CIO, as a tottering house of labor which has all it can do to keep its own ranks from falling to pieces."

Dear Ann Landers: I'm sick at last evening the cat became fascinated with my shoes. He began to take a few swipes at my shoelaces. I said "Scat," but the hostess ignored my signs of displeasure. So did the cat. When I glanced down I saw that both my stockings were in shreds. The only comment from the hostess was "I hope they weren't expensive."

Well, she should know you can't buy a pair of decent nylon stockings for less than $1.15. Do you think the hostess should have offered to replace my stockings?—FUMING

Dear Fuming: A good hostess pays for damage inflicted on guests by her minor children and pets.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Solons Start Checking Exports To Red Nations

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate group takes a look today at the type of goods being exported to the Soviet Union and other Iron Curtain nations.

The Senate Internal Security subcommittee wants to find out if strategic materials that could increase the Soviet bloc's war-making potential are included—and, if so, why. Two days of public hearings have been scheduled.

In the House, a special committee headed by Rep. A. Paul Kitchen, D-N.C., has been appointed to conduct a similar inquiry. It will start Wednesday with closed-door hearings.

The Senate subcommittee originally scheduled a series of hearings in September, shortly before Congress adjourned, but they were called off. At that time Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, whose department handles the granting of export licenses, was scheduled to be a witness.

Earlier this year the Internal Security unit sharply criticized the Commerce Department's granting of a license for the export of 45 precision grinding machines to the Soviet Union.

The license first was granted during the Eisenhower administration and then renewed in February by Hodges—in both instances at the objections of the Defense Department.

However, Hodges announced in March that he had reconsidered and permanently canceled the export license that had been granted to the Bryant Co. of Springfield, Vt.

The subcommittee had called granting of the license a grave error. It said export of the machines would have enabled the Soviet Union to speed up by several years the production of better and smaller missile guidance systems.

Hodges had taken the position, as had his predecessor, Frederick H. Mueller, that the Soviet Union could buy the machines elsewhere and that an American firm might as well get the business.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., a subcommittee member, said at the time that the case pointed up the need for a thorough review of exports of strategic materials to the Soviet Union since World War II.

Profit-Split Agreement Facing New Vote Threat

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union was pushing for local-level contract settlements with Chrysler Corp. today under the cloud of a new threat to the union's profit-sharing agreement with American Motors Corp.

UAW negotiators represent 60,000 Chrysler workers.

In Milwaukee an official of the UAW's Local 75, which earlier approved the UAW-American Motors pact, said several hundred members now were demanding a second vote on the contract.

The 9,000-member local approved the contract Oct. 1. The request for a second vote came following a meeting Friday night. A spokesman for the local said a matter of principle, rather than opposition to items in the contract, brought the request.

The UAW already has ordered a second election for 12,000-member Local 72 at the Kenosha, Wis., AMC plant. Local 72 rejected the new contract by a narrow margin Oct. 8. The rejection by Local 72 was over working conditions, such as wash-up time, and not the profit-sharing phase of the contract.

UAW negotiators represent 60,000 Chrysler workers.

In Milwaukee an official of the UAW's Local 75, which earlier approved the UAW-American Motors pact, said several hundred members now were demanding a second vote on the contract.

The 9,000-member local approved the contract Oct. 1. The request for a second vote came following a meeting Friday night. A spokesman for the local said a matter of principle, rather than opposition to items in the contract, brought the request.

The UAW already has ordered a second election for 12,000-member Local 72 at the Kenosha, Wis., AMC plant. Local 72 rejected the new contract by a narrow margin Oct. 8. The rejection by Local 72 was over working conditions, such as wash-up time, and not the profit-sharing phase of the contract.

Minutemen Hold Drills; Some Guns Confiscated

COLLINSVILLE, Ill. (AP)—The "Minutemen" held what they called successful guerrilla field maneuvers Sunday despite the confiscation of part of their arsenal.

One of the group's leaders, Rich Lauchli, 35, a one-time paratroop sergeant from Collinsville, was arrested and some heavy weapons were seized Saturday.

Eleven persons, including Lauchli, a woman and a teenage boy slogged over cold, fog-shrouded wooded ground in a two-hour field exercise Sunday.

National leader Robert DePugh, 37, of Norborne, Mo., and Lauchli agreed the drill was successful.

Lauchli is charged with "willing and unlawful possession of illegal firearms." His arrest came upon the complaint of Philip Taylor, Shiloh, Ill., township supervisor, after the group set up a weapons display in Shiloh.

Lauchli, free on $1,000 bond, is to appear in magistrate's court Nov. 3.

Seized with Lauchli were two Browning automatic rifles, a Browning machinegun and an M4 automatic rifle. He brought a 60 mm mortar and a 57 mm anti-tank rifle for Sunday's demonstration.

The minutemen practiced an attack on an enemy outpost, movement behind a screen from smoke grenades and a skirmish line charge.

DePugh's wife, mother of five children, charged with the rest, lugging an automatic rifle.

DePugh said similar maneuvers have been held in San Antonio, Tex., Omaha, Neb., Philadelphia, Columbus, Ohio, Kansas City, Mo., and Newark, N.J.

Lauchli described his arrest as a "misunderstanding about the nature and purpose of our organization."

He said he had legally bought the weapons and they are "used solely for instruction. All are deactivated and none of our members have any ammunition for them."

DePugh said "we're just loyal American citizens who are tired of being pushed around by the Communists and who want to do something to stem the tide of their advance."

DePugh says he and nine other men founded the Minutemen in June 1960 and it has grown to a nation-wide membership of some 25,000.

Husbands Given Davies Estate

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—Actress Marion Davies has left most of her estimated $8 million estate to her husband and other relatives.

Superior Court Judge Orlando H. Rhodes Friday approved the actress' will when it was admitted for probate. The document was dated Dec. 3 1959.

Miss Davies died Sept. 22 at the age of 64. She left her estate to her sister Rose Douras Adalon, a nephew, Charles Lederer, a niece, Mrs. Patricia Van Clede Lake, wife of actor Arthur (Dagwood) Lake and her widower, Capt. Horace Brown Jr., among others.

freedom of speech."

DeLoach said there was a time when newspapers "kept a watchful eye on other newspapers and attacked their competition unmercifully when they were caught off-base." There still is an exchange of differences among newspapers, he said, "but seldom do we see one newspaper today exorcise another periodical which is not functioning in the best interests of the nation."

Kennedy Men To Visit Salem

SALEM (AP) — Two members of President John F. Kennedy's cabinet may visit Salem next month.

State Democratic Chairman E. D. Spencer said Friday efforts are being made to arrange a public meeting in Salem Nov. 21 when Interior Secretary Stewart Udall and Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman will be in Oregon.

The two are scheduled to attend a conference in Portland Nov. 21 and a reception there too.

Official Urges Editors To Become More Vigilant

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)—A high FBI official called on editorial writers Saturday night to "lift their green eye-shades" and become more vigilant against Communist infiltration of their profession.

Assistant FBI director Cartha D. DeLoach said honest newsmen and newswomen are up front in the nation's struggle against Communism.

But "a contrary record is still being written by a small segment of so-called journalistic enterprise," DeLoach said in a speech prepared for a banquet of the Virginia Association of Press Women.

"Some press representatives, supposedly giving the reading public unbiased news accounts, and infiltrators into legitimate newspapers are spewing forth a stream of vilification which has the effect of helping to weaken our foundations of security," he said.

When these persons hear a voice lifted against them, the FBI official said, "they cry of persecution and abridgment of

Escorts Open 6:45

LAST 3 DAYS

SUSAN HAYWARD DEAN MARTIN

Ad

WILFRID HYDE WHITE, RALPH MEEKER, MARTIN BALSAM

POWER Open 6:45

LAST 2 DAYS!

The laughs keep coming from that hilarious crew of "Carry On Nurse"

Carry On Nurse!

THE PEOPLE MISS

Herald and News

Klamath Falls, Oregon
Serving Southern Oregon and Northern California
Published daily except Sat. and Sunday
by Klamath Publishing Company
Main at Esplanade
Phone TUXEDO 4-8111

W. B. SWEETLAND, Publisher

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Klamath Falls, Oregon, on August 25, 1904, under act of Congress, March 3, 1879. Second-class postage paid at Klamath Falls, Oregon, and at additional mailing offices.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Carried	1 Month	$1.75
	3 Months	$5.00
	6 Months	$9.00
	1 Year	$15.00
Mail in Advance	1 Month	$1.75
	3 Months	$5.00
	6 Months	$9.00
	1 Year	$15.00

Carrier and Dealers: Wednesday & Sunday, CBY, THE UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATED PRESS

AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATION: Subscribers not receiving delivery of their Herald and News, please phone and inform Circulation Manager, TUXEDO 4-8111 before 7 P.M.

Powder Room Facial Tissue

400-Ct. Boxes

5 For $1

This special, and all other grocery specials from last week's ad good thru Wednesday.

Market Basket

9th and Pine
South 4th & Shasta Way

A New Color

Travelogue By Archibald Mills School Auditorium

Friday, Oct. 27th - 8:15 P.M.

Something different from the usual travelogue. How the common people live and work in everyday life, along with the colorful costumes and scenery these countries have to offer.

Beautiful and exciting scenes from

- India
- Pakistan
- Ceylon
- Turkey
- Switzerland
- Yugoslavia

Admission 1.00 Person

Professional DRY CLEANING

* Draperies! * Bedspreads! * Slip Covers!

STA-NU... famous treatment restores fabric, color and shape! Wrinkle and soil resistant, too! It's the same process leading manufacturers use for finishing.

No Extra Charge for 1 Hour Service!

CASCADE LAUNDRY AND DRY CLEANERS

NO EXTRA CHARGE FOR STA-NU PROCESS

Send Your Cleaning With Your Laundry — Just Phone 4-5111

OPPOSITE POST OFFICE — Park Free or Use Drive-In Window!

Professional DRY CLEANING

* Draperies! * Bedspreads! * Slip Covers!

STA-NU... famous treatment restores fabric, color and shape! Wrinkle and soil resistant, too! It's the same process leading manufacturers use for finishing.

No Extra Charge for 1 Hour Service!

CASCADE LAUNDRY AND DRY CLEANERS

NO EXTRA CHARGE FOR STA-NU PROCESS

Send Your Cleaning With Your Laundry — Just Phone 4-5111

OPPOSITE POST OFFICE — Park Free or Use Drive-In Window!

Beat the rush! Get your Mud and

SNOW TIRES

Now and be Safe!

RECAP

With Our WINTER TRENDS

- Abrasive (walnut shell) or with Oliver's Amazing New
- V.I.P. RUBBER Soft-Safe-Silent

Adds miles and miles of wear! Outwears NEW CHEAP TIRES—truck or passenger.

WALNUT SHELL RECAPS FOR COMPACTS NOW IN STOCK

Drive in and see for yourself or call 4-3121, Tire Department.

Balsiger Motor Co.

Your Ford Dealer

Main at Esplanade Ph. TU 4-3121

TAKE A NEW LOOK AT SUNNY BROOK...

YOU'LL LIKE EVERYTHING ABOUT IT! (1) Discover that this great old brand has the taste of today! (2) There are two kinds of Sunny Brook to completely suit modern drinking tastes...the smooth and mild Kentucky straight bourbon and...the smooth and extra mild blend. (3) Consider the sensible prices. (4) Tonight try Sunny Brook. You're sure to like it.

SUNNY BROOK

SUNNY BROOK

HOW DO YOU LIKE YOUR WHISKEY?

SMOOTH AND MILD? Buy the Straight

SMOOTH AND EXTRA MILD? Buy the Blend

Professional DRY CLEANING

* Draperies! * Bedspreads! * Slip Covers!

STA-NU... famous treatment restores fabric, color and shape! Wrinkle and soil resistant, too! It's the same process leading manufacturers use for finishing.

No Extra Charge for 1 Hour Service!

CASCADE LAUNDRY AND DRY CLEANERS

NO EXTRA CHARGE FOR STA-NU PROCESS

Send Your Cleaning With Your Laundry — Just Phone 4-5111

OPPOSITE POST OFFICE — Park Free or Use Drive-In Window!